No Change In Route Of Parade

Solemn Event, Not Show, Says Sills; Meeting Is Held

Memorial Day parade plans, as originally made are to remain for this year, it was decided at a meeting of the Kingston Veterans Association and a special Common Council committee Monday night, but the latter emphasized the need for timely discussion of plans by both groups in the future to avoid misunderstanding.

Aldermen, mainly those from downtown wards, have been critical of KVA plans which starts the parade at Academy Green and ends it at Broadway and Delaware Avenue.

Aldermen Want Say

This route, some aldermen have held, is not fair to downtown residents, but the KVA indicated important consideration must also be given those who participate in the parade, and to the purpose for which it is held.

Aldermen have felt that the Common Council is responsible in authorizing a city fund of $2,000 for the parade, and it should have something to do with arrangements. The KVA claimed misunderstanding on this point, and in a statement released through Joseph E. Sills, its publicity chairman, emphasized:

Solemn Event, Not Show

"This parade is a solemn event to the veterans for it is to honor those who gave their lives so that we may live in a free world. It is not meant to be a circus, a road show, or a gala event.

"Let us think of those who fought and died for us, and then think of what the Memorial Day Parade really stands for."

Alderman Donald M. Hastings (D) Third Ward, chairman of the Common Council committee, in another statement made after the meeting, which was held at the VFW building, Delaware Avenue, said it was not the purpose of the committee to dictate parade routes, but "rather to help plan these activities, and to place at the disposal of these veterans' groups any reasonable facilities, which are had by the City of Kingston, and which would help make these parades a success in the purpose for which they are intended."

Concerned About

However, he said, "since the city makes available through its yearly budget an allowance of some $2,000, we feel that while spending this money of the taxpayers . . . there is an obligation on our part to make sure that it is being spent according to the taxpayers' wishes, and their best interests."

In the past few years, Hastings said, the committee, which was named some time ago by Alderman-at-Large Harold L. Kaye, on recommendation of Mayor Edwin F. Radel, "has not been informed" of KVA plans "until they had been adopted by the council." The committee hoped, he said, that "steps will be taken in the future, to avoid this last-minute confusion by inviting the parade committee of the council to aid in formulation of this yearly parade."

If this is accomplished, the statement said, differences can be settled "long before the parade date, and will certainly alleviate the loss of tempers over a community project in which we propose to honor our deceased veterans."

No Prejudice

The KVA statement emphasized: "There must be one important point understood by all citizens of Kingston. The KVA is not prejudiced towards any one area of our city. Although there have been comments to that effect, they are entirely untrue." The KVA emphasized that since the Memorial Day plans are its responsibility, the parade route to be accepted, should be

Failures Will Mark Orbit Effort: Webb

WASHINGTON (AP) — The shouting is over and the nation's homage is his, but astronaut Alan B. Shepard Jr., isn't resting on his space laurels.

Shepard, America's first man in space, promised "we plan to press ahead with the best possible speed."

The next major mission is rocketing one of the seven astronauts into orbit around the earth.

Scheduled This Year

The orbit flight is scheduled for sometime this year. But space agency chief James E. Webb cautioned: "If we are to have our spectacular successes—with even larger and ever more complex rockets, the early test flights unmanned of course, will involve some spectacular failures."

But the applause and accolades Monday were for a "spectacular success"—Navy Cmdr. Shepard's 115-mile voyage into space.

It was a day of pride and sentiment, tribute and humor for the calm man who—as one of his superiors put it—"really broke the ice for all of us."

He was decorated by the President, lauded by Congress, cheered by thousands as he was driven through the capital and—probably as important as any of the honors to him—was kissed by his family.

Gives Capsule View of Ride

Also, in a nationally televised news conference, he gave a capsule view of his ride through space.

Last Friday morning, Shepard sat for more than four hours in the loneliness of his capsule before the rocket blasted off from Cape Canaveral for his 15-minute flight to glory.

Flanked on the news conference platform by his fellow astronauts and the leaders of the nation's space program, Shepard told his story with composure and wit.

As he unfolded the details of his flight in response to questions, Shepard repeatedly drew applause from newsmen—an unusual tribute.

The applause was not so much for the events of the flight, which he showed a tendency to underdramatize, for his forthright way of handling queries. When he was asked if after he was picked to make the first ride into space he wished he was "in something else other than Project Mercury," Shepard replied: "That is the easiest question I have heard today. No."

Newsmen warmed to his repeated references to what "we" had done—that is, his six fellow astronauts and the hundreds of scientists and other workers who contributed to the man-in-space program.

About the only thing he declined to comment on was whether he found "any discrepancies" in what the Soviet Union's space man Major Yuri Gagarin reported he saw in his orbit around the earth.

Shepard said the American as-

Hendrickson Gets Up to 5 Years For Back Burglary

Robert Hendrickson, 27, of 167 Flatbush Avenue, who was found guilty of entering the J. B. Back Company cigar factory on Wilbur Avenue last December 7, was sentenced to a 2½ to 5 year term in Clinton State Prison Monday afternoon by Acting County Judge Francis X. Tucker.

Hendrikson was picked up by Kingston police after fingerprints were detected on paper found at the factory and which experts testified compared with those of Hendrickson.

Fails to Open Safe

Police arrived at the factory during the time the burglary was being committed, found a door open and a bar and screwdriver in the office which had apparently been left by the burglar. An attempt to open the safe had failed when the burglar, or burglars apparently left in haste on arrival of the police patrol car.

In addition to the charge on which Hendrickson was sentenced Monday, third degree burglary and unlawful entry, there are two other indictments pending against him, one involves an alleged entrance to the William Schmarshal premises at Barclay Heights in which Bernard Ferraro is jointly indicted, and a burglary charge involving an alleged entrance to the New Paltz Grand Union market, in which Moses Harrel is also indicted.

Hendrickson was represented by Thomas Saccoman.

An indictment returned back in 1958 charging Joseph Kiernan with abandonment was dismissed on motion of Seymour Werbalowsky, attorney, and on consent of District Attorney David W. Corwin. District Attorney Corwin stated that support had been made and the ac-

Judge, His Firm Are Indicted for AEC Overcharge

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — The Westlake Manufacturing Corp., and the Madison County judge who owns it were under federal indictment today on charges of bilking the Atomic Energy Commission.

A federal grand jury indicted the firm and Judge Clarence E. Conley Monday on 64 counts of fraudulently listing the number of hours employes worked on the Knolls Atomic Power Laboratory near Schenectady.

Westlake of Canastota, was a sub-contractor to General Electric Co. from October 1951 to mid-1960.

The government contends the Westlake firm sought payment for 8,137 hours its employes did not work. Government officials would not give the amount of money involved.

Outlook Confused On Parley

Rebels Refuse To Deal With the ICC About Cease-Fire

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Rebel officials refused to deal with members of the International Control Commission for Laos at an initial meeting at Hin Heup today, a Laotian military authority said. This further confused the outlook for the 14-nation conference on Laos due to open in Geneva Friday.

"The other side (the rebels) said they could not recognize the ICC," said Lt. Col. Udon Sananikone, spokesman of the royal government's military delegation to the cease-fire talks. "They said they had no instructions."

Indian, Canadian and Polish military officers of the three-nation commission, which is seeking to certify the cease-fire proclaimed last Wednesday, declined comment on their return by helicopter from Hin Heup, the negotiating site 55 miles north of Vientiane. They said they would make their report to the commission's Indian chairman, Samar Sen.

The possibility that the Geneva conference might be postponed was raised by rebel objections to the arrival of the truce commission Monday. The United States, Britain and France have said they will not take part in the conference until the commission guarantees the armistice is in effect.

Sananikone said representatives of the Communist Pathet Lao and neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma even refused a letter from the ICC group in Vientiane to its ICC counterpart in rebel-held Xieng Khouang.

The colonel said the government requested another meeting for Wednesday and expected an answer later.

The initial refusal to Pathet Lao-neutralist group to deal with ICC was not seen as a crisis. But it did add further delay and confusion to the situation that continues to fluctuate under the touchy de facto cease-fire.

Although no major battles have been reported to indicate any all-out rebel offensive, there have been serious incidents.

Driver Licenses To Be Taped for Speedier Checks

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Driving records of New York State's 7.5 million licensed drivers will be stored on magnetic tape to permit faster checks, the state motor vehicle commissioner reported today.

Storm Deaths Total 33, Rain Belt Moving East

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Damaging thunderstorms which for four days have drenched broad areas of the mid-continent, causing widespread flooding, tapered off in most sections today.

As the wet belt moved eastward floods in the Missouri, Mississippi and Ohio River basins posed a major problem.

The overflows from rain-fed rivers and streams in at least eight states left hundreds homeless, spilled over scores of major highways and secondary roads and across thousands of acres of farm lands. Rainfall in some parts of the spring storm belt since last Friday was more than a foot.

The floods, which have caused at least nine deaths, menaced areas in Ohio, Kentucky, Illinois, Missouri, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Indiana and Kansas.

The storm-related deaths totaled 33. The weekend storms and floods have caused millions of dollars damage to property and crops.

Most severe weather Monday and during the night was in a belt from eastern Ohio to western Tennessee. A tornado that struck near Memphis injured five persons and demolished or damaged several homes. Two twisters in eastern Ohio caused heavy property damage, but no injuries were reported.

Workers piled sandbags on soft levees along the surging rivers and streams. Volunteers and National Guardsmen helped in the sandbagging operations in some of the flood-stricken sections in southern Illinois. The overflows were reported from East St. Louis on the Mississippi across Illinois to the Wabash River on the Indiana border.

Thunderstorms and showers were reported across the eastern third of the country. Heavy rainfall and damaging winds pounded some areas from the Great Lakes region southward to the Gulf and eastward into the Atlantic Coast states. Gusty winds and heavy rain hit Laurel, Miss.

The belt of thunderstorms and showers covered the southeast part of the middle Mississippi Valley, the Ohio Valley, parts of the Tennessee Valley, the central Gulf coast states and from Pennsylvania northward through New England.

Night Shopping Uptown Will Be Monday Subject

A special meeting of the Uptown Businessmens Association will be held next Monday, May 15th to discuss additional night store hours for the convenience of shoppers. It will be in the Stuyvesant-Kingston Hotel at 7:30 p. m.

This decision was made at the regular meeting last night. Richard W. Whittington, vice president, presided in the absence of President Clyde Wonderly Jr.

A large portion of the meeting was devoted to a discussion of parking problems. After conferring again with the special Parking Committee of the Common Council and Mayor Edwin F. Radel tonight, the Parking Committee of the Uptown business group will make a report on progress at the Monday meeting.

New Congo Is Feared In Angola

Unwise to Resist Africa's Wind of Change: Norway

OSLO, Norway (AP)—Some of Portugal's allies urged her today to revise her African colonial policy, one of the issues cracking unity of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

NATO ministers, meeting in closed session, revealed their concern at the bloodshed in Angola, a Portuguese territory that could become another Congo.

Advice Carefully Phrased

Portuguese Foreign Minister Franco Noguera was told that his country could not expect to have the other NATO powers blindly support Portuguese actions in Africa in the United Nations.

Portugal has been particularly bitter at the United States for supporting U.N. resolutions urging reforms in Portuguese policy in Angola.

The advice which Noguera received was carefully phrased.

This, however, was the underlying theme: Most of the members of the 15-nation alliance—including Britain and France—recognize that the old colonial days are gone. They believe the wise thing to do now is to come to terms with African nationalism so that emerging native peoples will stay with the Western world.

Norwegian Foreign Minister Halvard Lange advised the Portugese that it was unwise to resist what Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan has called "the wind of change sweeping over Africa."

Rusk Backs Philosophy

The underlying philosophy of Lange's statement was supported by U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Rusk said it was in NATO's best interest to keep seeking the friendship of Asian and African states.

A similar generalized approach was offered by France's Foreign Minister, Maurice Couve de Murville and Lord Home of Britain.

Rusk said the United States, Britain, France and West Germany will submit to the permanent NATO council their latest plans to meet any trouble in Berlin.

Such an approach is in line with the Kennedy administration's policy for the fullest possible consultation within NATO.

U.S. and British statesmen kept

Wharton Challenge: 'Show Me Industry'

Congressman J. Ernest Wharton (R), 29th Congressional District, who was among those who opposed the administration's Depressed Areas Bill, has replied to Democratic State Chairman Prendergast's criticism of those who opposed the legislation with a challenge to show where a single industry will be brought to the district under the legislation.

In a statement issued by Congressman Wharton following criticism of those who opposed the administration's "pork barrel" legislation, he challenges Prendergast "to show me a single industry or even one industrial job that will be brought to the 29th Congressional District under the Depressed Areas Bill."

"Representatives from no less than 193 other congressional districts, all with varying degrees of unemployment and representing all sections of the country apparently felt the same way in opposing this 'pork barrel' legislation" Congressman Wharton states.

Refers to Appointments

"Incidentally, I am sure the public would also be interested if he would include the number of political appointments that his administration carves out of the $394 Million authorized from the taxpayers of the country under this legislation. This means approximately $10 in additional taxes for each and every family in our district and they are entitled at least to know where their money goes."

"While shedding his partison crocodile tears Prendergast might as well give a little thought to the average taxpayer, who has more tax increases staring him in the face under the New Frontier Proposals." Congressman Wharton concluded.

Former President Eisenhower to Argue Public Questions, Keep Up Active Role

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower served notice today that as a private citizen he will "discuss and argue" public questions as long as he has the strength and opportunity.

He announced his intention in an article in the Saturday Evening Post—the first he has written since leaving the White House Jan. 20.

He also disclosed that he was not sure he would not have sought a third term—if the Constitution had permitted and if he could have foreseen the Republican defeat in the presidential election.

Eisenhower said his decision to continue to play an active role in public affairs was reached as he and his wife were driving from Washington to their Gettysburg, Pa., farm after President Kennedy's inauguration.

"Suddenly, it seemed to me, this new life of mine promised a new kind of personal adventure," he wrote.

He said he long had believed the long-term health and vigor of the nation's free government depended on the level of each citizen's interest in America's basic problems "and his readiness to discuss and argue with his fellows."

And, he continued "I then and there determined to be a participant in such discussions and arguments as long as I might retain the strength and find the opportunity to do so."

Telling of the sights as well as his thoughts on the countryside journey, he said his wife and he were given a heart-warming welcome by students and nuns of St Joseph College near Emmitsburg, Md.

"And so we approached the farm," he resumed. "But I was still thinking, what next? What, if anything, can I do to stir up the public interest in important public issues?

"Before we arrived at our front door I reached one simple conclusion:

"There is little reason for me or anyone else to think and talk of or to live in the past, smugly hugging to himself memories of successes or futilely bewailing setbacks.

"The task is to use the past and its experiences to help us peer more clearly into the future and to do our best to make it better.

Would Use Experience

"This, in my own way, I shall try to do . . . I think it will be fun; I hope it will be useful."

Eisenhower left no doubt he was upset at the defeat of Vice President Richard M Nixon for the presidency and that this conceivably could have changed his

More Hope Seen Today To End Costly Strike

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—An air of hope accompaned the resumption today of negotiations toward settlement of a week-old strike that has idled about 10,000 men and hobbled work on Upstate building projects costing an estimated $40 million.

Leaders of the striking engineers and management both expressed optimism last week after work had been halted on projects in Eastern New York counties extending from Greene and Columbia counties to the north country.

Local 106 of the International Union of Operating Engineers struck last Monday for a wage increase of 50 cents an hour and a reduction in the work week, a union spokesman said. Later, however, the union announced it had cut wage demand to 40 cents and dropped the demand for a reduction in the work week, which now is 40 hours.

The Eastern New York Construction Employers Association, representing management, said last week it had offered a pay boost of 15 cents an hour. A spokesman said the current scale was $3.24½ to $4.28½ an hour.

The union said 300-400 of its 2,000 members were striking. Other construction workers respected picket lines, and halted work on an estimated $30 million in projects. Last Wednesday, management shut down other projects costing about $10 million.

Three Deputies Are Attending Police Courses

Three members of Ulster County Sheriff Claude Bell's staff are attending the two week training course being held at Ramapo under sponsorship of the New York State Municipal Police Training Council. The school is being conducted from May 8 through May 19. Attending the school are Deputy Sheriffs John Daley, George Reitmeir and John Tuey.

Under recent legislation it become mandatory for new men before being appointed to positions in the sheriff's office to take the training course. All three men who are attending the present class have served under Sheriff Bell but have been assigned to the school to receive instruction in the latest techniques.

All Phases Covered

Included in the police training will be firearm instruction, lectures by chiefs of police, FBI agents, district attorneys, traffic experts, state police officials, and emergency aid experts designed to acquaint the officers in attendance with all areas of law enforcement.

Court proceedures, gathering of evidence, traffic regulations and general police work will be discussed in lectures by various officials, including FBI agents.

Instruction in firearms will be conducted at the rifle range at Camp Smith, Peekskill, under FBI supervision.

While the older members of Sheriff Bell's staff will not be required to attend the school of instruction, all new men appointed in the future will be required by the new law to take the course of instruction. Several of the present staff have attended and graduated from the police schools which have been held locally for some time.

Ulster Is Among Counties With Backlog in Court

Ulster County, with a backlog of 725 civil cases on the present Supreme Court calendar, is one of four area counties which have been cited in the statistical report of the Judicial Conference of the State of New York in its report covering a period from July 1, 1960 through March 1961, where delay is reported in hearing Supreme Court cases.

Up until the past January when two parts were held with Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth presiding for Part I and Justice Louis G. Bruhn presiding at Part II, only one justice had been assigned to Ulster County in an endeavor to reduce the growing calendar.

At the present term Justice Kenneth S. McAffer has been assigned to preside, although it is possible a second justice will later be assigned to assist at the May term.

The Judicial Conference of the State of New York noted in its report that there were "663 cases pending in Ulster County, an increase over last year of 150 cases." The number of cases since the report was made has increased to 725 for the present term.

Other counties mentioned in the report are Schenectady County with 820 cases pending at the end of the March term; Saratoga County with 467 and Fulton with 272 cases, up from a year ago.

Residents to File Petition on Loose Dogs at Whittier

Whittier housing development near Flatbush this week joined a number of other communities, including the City of Kingston, who reportedly have a problem with dogs running at large, and two small children have been bitten.

For the past few weeks a petition seeking the cooperation of Ulster Town Board to remedy the situation, has been circulating in the area and some 70 householders have signed, it was reported today.

The petition will be presented to the Town Board meeting at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday at Lake Katrine Grange Hall. A number of residents from the Whittier area are also expected to attend.

Monday, three-year-old Stanley Stehlik, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Stehlik was reportedly bitten in the arm by a dog in the Whittier development.

About a month ago, six-year-old Mark Lanier, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Lanier was reported bitten in the face.

Former Resident SaysRuggedCross Is Favorite Hymn

"The Old Rugged Cross" still is America's favorite hymn, Bill McVey, the Christian Herald Singer, and a former resident of Kingston, said today, citing reports of an independent research organization.

According to McVey, son of the Rev. William J. McVey, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, Kingston, and Mrs. McVey, the research organization has taken issue with a Nazarene statement that "How Great Thou Art" had become the leading religious song.

But McVey, who recently conducted a nationwide poll of more than 30,000 churchgoers, praised the Church of the Nazarene for surveying its members' preferences.

"The Church of the Nazarene, which has its largest membership in the Mid-West and South, has taken the lead among American denominations is asking its members which hymns and gospel songs they want to sing instead of arbitrarily selecting inspirational music," McVey said.

McVey quoted a study by Audience Analysts, Bala-Cynwyd, Pa., that said the largest performance poll to date of America's favorite hymns was Christian Hearld Magazine's coast to coast survey in which 13.5 per cent of more than 30,000 respondents named "The Old Rugged Cross" as the dearest and best.

The poll by the nation's largest interdenominational Protestant magazine showed a tally of only 8.1 per cent, fourth place, for "How Great Thou Art," Audience Analysts said.

"The Old Rugged Cross," a hymn that vividly describes why the cross has been the symbol of love and brotherhood for ages, was top favorite in seven of the nine geographical divisions of the country and second in the remaining two, Audience Analysts reported.

"How Great Thou Art," a gospel song illustrating God's power, placed fourth in three divisions, fifth in one and did not appear in the top five in the other five divisions.

McVey's Christian Herald survey showed "What A Friend We Have In Jesus" as the second best-loved hymn and "In the Garden" third. The fifth favorite hymn was "Sweet Hour of Prayer."

"How Great Thou Art" rapidly is moving up in popularity, McVey said, citing a 1953 Christian Herald poll in which the song did not rank among the top 10.

Nassau Executes 2 Americans for Captain's Murder

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP)—Two Americans died on the gallows of Nassau Prison today for the murder of a Florida charter boat captain. They were Alvin Table Jr., and Billy Wayne Sees and were the first Americans ever executed in the Bahamas.

Table, 25, mounted the scaffold at 7 a.m. and an hour later, his partner in crime, Sees, 23, was put to death.

Table and Sees were convicted of slaying Capt. Angus Boatwright, 55, of Islamorada, Fla., on April 24, 1960, at Elbow Key in the Bahamas.

Testimony at the trial showed that Table and Sees stole a 42-foot cabin cruiser in Key West and headed to sea with Table's bride of a month, Barbara, 18, of San Antonio, Tex.

They ran out of gas and the boat drifted onto rocks and broke up. The trio took refuge in an abandoned lighthouse where they remained three days.

Boatwright and his mate, Kent Hokanson, 20, also of Islamorada, happened along in their 38-foot charter boat, Muriel III, with four passengers aboard.

Sees signaled the boat then later swam out and boarded it. Testimony showed he pulled a revolver and ordered Boatwright and the others into the stern.

When Boatwright grabbed a rifle, Sees shot and fatally wounded him. Before he was shot, Boatwright had radioed the Coast Guard at Miami, Fla., that he had found two men and a girl on Elbow Key.

Table and Sees forced the mate and passengers ashore and sped away. Table's wife refused to go with them.

An hour later a Coast Guard amphibian plane picked up the abandoned party and a Cuban gunboat overhauled Table and Sees the following day when the Muriel III ran aground on an island in Cuban territorial waters.

After their conviction, Table, of Torrance, Calif., and Sees, of Etowah, Ark., appealed to the Privy Council in London but lost.

Tells How Nazis Degraded Young Before Killings

JERUSALEM (AP) — A French scientist who survived the Auschwitz death mill told the court trying Adolf Eichmann today how the Nazis degraded tiny Jewish children in France before shipping them to the gas chambers.

Prof. Georges Wellers, director of the French National Medical Research Laboratory and a professor at the Sorbonne, mesmerized the court and audience with his account.

Wellers did not mention Eichmann's name, but the Israeli prosecution preceded the testimony with documents showing Eichmann's Berlin office organized the French camps as part of "the final solution of the Jewish problem."

As a medical man, Wellers could move about the Drancy camp in France. He said he saw 4,000 children—many as young as 2, 3, and 4 years old and their parents already at Auschwitz—abused and then deported to join their families only in death.

Wellers himself was shipped to Auschwitz on June 30, 1944. Six months later he was evacuated to Buchenwald because of the advance of the Soviet armies, and American troops liberated him there.

The witness said none of the adults at that time knew exactly what was happening to those deported—to Auschwitz — but from the treatment of the children they all were certain the Jews of all ages were doomed.

Wellers said the deportations from France reached a peak in the summer of 1942, when the children were brought to Drancy and then shipped out. He added that altogether he saw between 40,000 and 50,000 Jews deported.

ing the Kingston Women's Bowling Association appeared at the meeting last night and outlined some plans for the big state tournament here early next year. Those present unanimously voted to loan clothes and accessories for a huge fashion show in September. The show will help raise funds to defray the expenses of entertaining the State Tournament.

There was also a discussion of some recent local sales promotions which appeared to be misleading and deceptive. In the future such ads will be turned over to the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce and forwarded to the State Attorney General for review. The Federal Trade Commission is also interested and has regulations making it possible to prosecute those who persist in using deceptive advertising.

Action was also taken to request the Mayor and Board of Public Works to fill the dangeroous holes in Converse Street, one of the approaches to the large parking lots below North Front Street.

Callers Should Note Error to Fire Dispatcher

Persons who telephone fire headquarters by mistake should make their error known to the dispatcher, Fire Chief James M. Brett advised today.

Calls received without a follow-through by the caller, he emphasized, leave the impression that the person calling to report a fire or similar emergency might have met with mishap while doing so, and the department has no way of immediately checking to determine if such trouble is involved.

A simple short statement of such mistakes, he said, is sufficient.

Two Kingston High School seniors were chosen to receive physical fitness awards at the recent West Point Physical Fitness Conference.

They are Sheila Plunket, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Plunket of 316 Washington Avenue, and John Hetsco, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hetsco of 19 Nicholas Street.

The selection made by the KHS physical education staff and medical department was on the basis of physical ability, school leadership and academic achievement. Miss Plunket is an active member of National and French Honor Societies, president of Prisma, a member of Leaders Club, Ski Club, Choir, Dame Rumor feature editor and Student Council. She plans to enter college in the fall.

Hetsco, an honor student, is captain of the football team, number one catcher on the varsity baseball team, president of the KHS Athletic Association and is active in many other student groups.

Lab Has Fire Due To Spark From Pump

A slight explosion attributed to sump pump trouble on the lower floor of the Kingston City Laboratory Monday afternoon resulted in slight damage.

A section of pipe covering and some paper towels caught fire, firemen said. It is believed that a spark resulting from activation of the pump set fire to some concentrated gas in the area. Wiring on a public address system was reported damaged. A unit from Central Station answered the call at 3:50 p. m.

A short circuit in an oil burner unit resulted in a call to the Howard Whitaker home, 147 Hasbrouck Avenue at 7:31 a. m. today. Units from Central Station and the Wicks, Cordts and Union companies responded.

May Put Off Rights Action for Curb on Senate Filibusters

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Kennedy administration appears ready to postpone action on major civil rights bills in exchange for a rules revision in this session making it easier to curbe Senate filibusters.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said today efforts to revise the rule requiring approval of two-thirds of those voting to limit Senate debate will precede action on an administration package of civil rights measures introduced Monday.

Mansfield made it clear that even before the rule change is brought up, he hopes to have most of President Kennedy's general legislative program out of the way.

"Otherwise," he said, "we might have a long, drawn-out struggle in the Senate that might endanger the unfinished aspects of the President's program."

Mansfield left little doubt that any real attempt to enact the six bills offered in the Senate and House by Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., and Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., will have to wait until 1962.

The Democratic leader said he had no advance knowledge that the bills were going to be introduced by Clark and Celler, designated by Kennedy last fall to draft civil rights proposals for the administration.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said in a separate interview he plans to join with Mansfield in offering a measure to permit 60 per cent of the Senators voting to curb debate.

To get this passed in the face of a likely Southern filibuster, the leaders probably will have to bring in a cloture (debate limiting) petition. To halt a filibuster they would have to get support from two-thirds of those voting—67 if all 100 senators are recorded.

Dirksen said that while some Republicans may push for enactment of civil rights legislation in this session, from a practical standpoint he doubts little will be done except to extend the life of the expiring Civil Rights Commission.

Clark said he will ask for Senate action on some of his bills. But he conceded he isn't very hopeful of getting it.

Defends Israel, Way in Capture Of Nazi Eichmann

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—Argentina's former ambassador to Israel today said Martin Bormann—Hitler's deputy whose fate has been a mystery since the war—was in Argentina when Adolf Eichmann was captured last year.

Dr. Gregorio Topolevsky, now retired from the Argentine foreign service, said in a Tel Aviv news conference that Bormann had been living under an alias and disappeared into Brazil when he heard of Eichmann's capture by Israeli agents in May 1960.

Topolevsky said that if Israel had requested Eichmann's extradition through official channels, he would have vanished "two hours later." Eichmann was spirited out of the country by Israeli agents.

The former ambassador said Dr. Joseph Mengele, Nazi physician at Auschwitz who selected vast numbers of victims for the gas chamber, was also known by Argentine security services to be in that country.

Mengele also disappeared, Topolevsky said, when he heard authorities were looking for him.

Topolevsky also claimed there were several Nazi cells in Argentina, mainly in the south, and that they had transferred huge sums of money and gold from Switzerland.

Former Rome Cable Corp. Founder Dies

ROME, N. Y. (AP)—Herbert T. Dyett, founder and former president and board chairman of Rome Cable Corp., died Monday at his home here. He was 86.

Prior to forming Rome Cable, Dyett founded the Rome Wire Co. in 1902. This later was combined with other firms in 1927 to form the General Cable Corp.

Dyett resigned as president of General Cable in 1933 and three years later headed the group that formed Rome Cable. The latter since has been merged with the Aluminum Co. of America.

Dyett, a native of Rome, was graduated from Cornell University in 1897 with an engineering degree.

Astronaut Going Home to Cottage With His Family

LANGLEY AIR FORCE BASE, Va. (AP)—America's first spaceman, astronaut Alan B. Shepard Jr., returns today with his family to the cottage at Virginia Beach where his wife awaited the outcome of his historic venture.

Perhaps trying to spare Shepard the commotion that has attended him since his brief journey into space last Friday, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) declined to say just when the astronaut and his family would leave here.

An Atlantic Ocean resort preparing for the summer tourist season, Virginia Beach is not the place a person normally goes to escape the limelight.

City officials, however, apparently were caught by surprise by the announcement Shepard was coming home.

That, plus the fact NASA would not say what time Shepard might arrive, ruled out the prospect of any planned celebration.

Shepard and his wife Louise spent Monday night at the visiting officer's quarters at Langley AFB, NASA headquarters.

Says Laxity Costs Insurance Millions

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — Supervisory laxity by the insurance departments of various states is costing the public millions of dollars, the head of a group of insurance companies charges.

John F. Barry of New York said that state insurance supervisors who permitted certain cutrate companies to effect "inadequate, illegal rates" forced companies operating at the standard rate into losses.

Barry said the firms forced into the red then write off their losses against their taxes and the public loses millions of dollars in state and federal taxes.

Barry spoke Monday night at the opening of the 79th annual convention of the New York State Association of Insurance Agents. Approximately 500 are attending the three-day meeting.

Truman 77 Monday, Feted at Luncheon

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman, still chipper on his 77th birthday Monday, received greetings from all over the country.

About 200 friends gave a luncheon party to express their esteem.

President Kennedy, in a telephone call from Washington, congratulated Truman and said: "I don't understand how you look so well after seven years here."

A Psychiatrist Speaks

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Dr. George E. Ruff, a psychiatrist at the University of Pennsylvania Hospital who examined Alan B. Shepard Jr. after his historic space flight says the astronaut exhibits an outstanding combination of intelligence and emotional stability.

Dr. Ruff told interviewers Monday that Shepard exhibits an outstanding desire to get a job done.

Aiming at 3,400 Miles

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—Research pilot Joe Walker plans to fly the X15 rocket plane with throttle wide open in the next few days in an attempt to reach 3,400 miles an hour—almost a mile a second.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said Monday the purpose of the flight will be to obtain data on aerodynamic stability and control and heating.

"LOSING HAIR?"

Mr. Newhouse, (left), gave about 20 mintues of his time for the Harlow free hair and scalp consultation and re-grew his hair.

Mrs. Haller, (right), shows her results by Harlow treatments.

Wednesday, May 10 only, at the Governor Clinton Hotel, in Kingston, New York, Staff Director J. J. Stalter will give free hair and scalp consultation between 1:00 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. to hair worried men and women.

Harlow Hair & Scalp Consultants, the oldest and largest organization of its kind, makes regular visits to Kingston, New York throughout the year to assure you of success in a minimum period of time. Harlow is now in its seventh year. Last year alone, over one-quarter million Harlow home-scalp treatments were used.

Surveys among men and women in all walks of life show that the worst enemies of your hair are (1) doubt and (2) delay. Many balding people who are doing nothing to help themselves are justifying their condition with thinking like this: "I don't think anybody can stop hair loss"—or "I'm going to see an expert when I get around to it." That doesn't solve your problem. You are going to keep right on losing your hair until you are bald . . . unless you get your scalp in a healthy, hair-growing condition again.

HOPELESS CASES REFUSED

If you are totally bald, there is nothing Harlow can do for you. Harlow or no other treatment known is of benefit to excessive hair loss due to male pattern baldness. Neither of the persons shown above suffered from male pattern baldness. Therefore, Harlow continues its policy of refusing all hopeless cases. Baldness is slow and gradual, even in the most common forms. The two most common causes are neglect and mistreatment, but the two worst enemies are skepticism and procrastination.

BEWARE THESE SYMPTOMS

Once you notice symptoms of excessive dryness or oilines, itchy scalp, excessive hair in the combings, tender areas, come in for an examination before follicle shrinkage ruins all hopes for a healthy head of hair.

RESULTS ARE SO AMAZING THAT

We constantly receive letters of praise and gratitude from our clients who say "I know my hair is thicker . . . HIGH PRESSURE PEDDLER

Attorney General Lefkowitz again warns the suburban homeowner about the high pressure peddler of worthless wares. Records of the Bureau of Consumer Frauds and Protection show that these itinerant pitchmen, who are not to be confused with representatives of reputable sales companies, invade suburbia each spring equipped with every gimmick and dodge in the book.

The Attorney General points out that this year the unscrupulous door-to-door salesmen have a greater advantage than ever before. Homeowners, whose driveways, chimneys and other property have been damaged by the heavy snow and severe cold of the past winter, can be an easy mark for the home improvement gyp artist.

The Freeman along with the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce from time to time have warned local residents about the transient merchant. These people are here today and away tomorrow. Your local merchant or contractor is in back of everything he sells or builds.

Local residents have the right to look to public officials for protection against deceptive sales practices. The local business man who carries on with integrity and a regard for his customers also has a right to look to public officials for protection against the unscrupulous segment whose lack of ethics and sharp practices destroy public confidence in the entire trade.

Complaints filed with the Bureau show clearly that spring is the season of flourishing activity for these salesmen who gain entrance to the home under various guises. The Attorney General offers the following guide which may be used to avoid being victimized:

Ask to see the credentials of any sales representative who calls at your door.

Check the sales price of services or merchandise with your local merchant.

Never sign a contract with blank spaces or which you don't understand, regardless of what the salesman may tell you.

Where you do not understand the terms of a sales contract, consult someone who does, a lawyer if necessary.

Ask if the sales price includes installation and delivery. If you want these services included, tell the salesman to write a statement to that effect in the contract, specifying in detail the type of service and the period during which it will be performed.

In the case of home improvements, never sign a statement that the work is complete until it acutally is. If you sign such a statement before the work is finished, as a general rule you will have to make full payment whether or not the contractor fulfills his agreement.

Check the reputation of the salesman and his company with your local chamber of commerce or Better Business Bureau.

If you feel you have been victimized by any unfair or fraudulent sales practices, report the fact to the Bureau of Consumer Frauds and Protection of the Attorney General's office, 80 Centre Street, New York 13, N. Y., Telephone COrtlandt 7-9800.

Never permit merchandise to be left with you on an "on approval" certificate. The salesman may not return and you will find yourself receiving a bill for an article which you do not want.

Remember that the legitimate salesman, who represents the vast majority of door-to-door sales representatives, invites your investigation.

It may be impossible to tell what people have on their minds—but you can guess "nothing" and have a 50-50 chance of being correct.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

IT IS DIFFICULT TO KNOW

Recently General David Sarnoff discussed the problem of communicating scientific knowledge. Some comments were made on this subject in these writings and have received an interesting comment from a young scientist, part of which I give you:

". . . I was very interested in your article on Dave Sarnoff's suggestion for an idea clearing house; I thought of this idea several years ago but dismissed it as being too expensive. Nevertheless, the entire scientific community needs such a system imperatively. If competent, highly trained brainpower is the nation's most valuable, and rarest, resource, it is surely a waste to have it spend its time thumbing through indexes in libraries. With the ever increasing flood of literature, a scientist can spend more time doing paper research than the lab research he's paid for. If, while looking through his microscope, he sees a green spot in a cell, he ought to be able to dial 'green spot' into a computer and be supplied within a minute with a bibliography covering everything that has ever been written on the subject of green spots. Then he will have time to do his work.

"The problem, however, doesn't end here. At the present, the only way a new fact or theory can be given circulation is through the professional journals. At one time when little work was being done in the sciences, the journals were adequate for the task. Today, however, with tens of thousands of laboratories cranking out endless rivers of data, the trade papers can't possibly do their job. Some of the better ones are publishing material submitted as far back as three years with the backlog growing each month. Even more appalling, important contributions are being published in little known periodicals which no one reads simply because the line is too long at the bigger journals. These important works often pass completely without notice only to be rediscovered much later by duplicated effort which could have been avoided by such an institution as Sarnoff's clearing house.

"The worst problem, though, is the politics of getting published. Many scientists rush into print to have their university positions. Others wear publications like a general wears his ribbons, and crowd the journals at the expense of better work by newcomers. On the other hand, many young men will fight to get published just to get a better initial job, even if their theses aren't of sufficient scope to interest an entire profession. These and other abuses pervert many periodicals from their proper purposes thus making them even less efficient means of transmitting scientific advancements . . ."

Young men come straight to the point because they have nothing to lose but their youth. Excellent thinking is done by young scholars, even in the social sciences. This material is likely to be in the scholarly journals which have very small circulations and are often passed over unnoticed for years, until some popularizer brings them to the fore in a newspaper or magazine article.

One of the misfortunes of the professional writer is that he is often too verbose to be interesting, too bogged down in the jargon of his discipline, as he calls his profession, to be readable. He writes for a handful of colleagues who will praise him and for a faculty which will vote him a full professorship. But his impact upon his community and his time is nil.

I do not read many scientific journals because some of those subjects are closed to me, but I do read many learned journals in fields with which I am familiar and take ideas from them and often quote from them, but I must admit that much of it is hard to pin down. The academician is fearful lest he be suspected of being a layman; therefore he writes in a style which will make him sound like a translation from the German. That was not true of an earlier generation of learned men, such as Charles A. Beard, James Harvey Robinson, John R. Commons, or even Woodrow Wilson who, having something to say, said it.

And they used fewer footnotes to sustain them. So often an article in a learned journal is encumbered with footnotes to prove that the writer really has no original ideas — that everything was taken from someone else. This is not done to establish modesty; it is rather a crutch to sustain the thinker and to prove that someone else once thought the same way, proving ipso facto that great minds travel on the same road.

Osteoarthrosis Is Merely Sign That You're Aging

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A number of senior citizens have inquired about osteoarthritis with particular reference to its relationship to rheumatoid arthritis.

The two diseases are entirely different. Rheumatoid arthritis, for example, begins at a very early age, is probably of allergic origin, is often accompanied by fever and considerable weight loss, and produces crippling deformities of the joints, including those of the spine.

By contrast, most of us do not regard osteoarthritis as a disease. In point of fact, I refer to it as osteaarthrosis since the "-itis" ending means the disease is a type of inflammation.

Osteoarthrosis is often referred to as "the grey hair" in joints. In other words, it's a manifestation of aging rather than disease.

It rarely begins before the middle years. When it occurs at the time of the "change," it sometimes is called menopausal arthritis, although most of us are convinced that neither condition has anything to do with the other.

Osteoarthrosis usually affects persons who are overweight. There seems to be a hereditary factor especially with hand involvements. The nubbins that appear on the finger (Heberden's nodes) are often a family trade mark.

There's not a thing to do, and nothing that need be done, in the case of an osteoarthrosis. Weight reduction takes a lot of the strain off the involved joints. Proper postural exercises, shoeing and corseting add to comfort. Doses of aspirin relieve pain.

The application of heat may be very helpful.

But there's little, if anything, to be gained by faddist diets, vitamin supplements, gland treatments, vaccine injections, prescriptions for cortico-steroids and other expensive drugs, exposure to voilet or X-rays, visitis to spas, baths in mud or "radio-active" waters, diathermy or applications of elctrical current.

I trust no one will interpret what I have written as an indication that I think osteoarthrosis is "hopeless." Quite the contrary.

Not being a disease, it will not shorten life by so much as an hour. Not being "curable," it must be endured. Not being remediable, there's no sense spending a lot of money "chasing a cure."

Indeed, if you'll take example from the apple tree, you'll realize that you can get delicious fruit from many a gnarled branch.

BIPARTISANSHIP

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON

Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Another letter urging between the lines that even Republicans should give $100 to the Democratic party and get a free ticket to the big birthday party honoring President Kennedy on May 27 has just come to light.

The opening sentence of the invitation reads:

"We hope you will join with Democrats, their friends and loyal supporters throughout the nation in saying to President Kennedy on the occasion of his 44th birthday that the Democratic Party is once again solvent."

THE COPY OF THE LETTER made available to this reporter come from a Republican government employe holdover in one of the big Washington agencies. He was pretty sore about it. The inference was that if he didn't contribute, it might mean the loss of his job.

There are no reliable estimates of how many of these Eisenhower administration appointees are still on the job in Washington. Many resigned. The others are being replaced rapidly, but a number have been kept on because of technical competence.

If this number is as high as a thousand and if all of them contributed to the Democratic cause to hold their jobs, the Democratic indebtedness would be reduced by $100,000.

THE LETTER WASN'T INTENDED for Republicans alone, of course. It was printed to look something like a formal announcement. It was sent out over the signature of Ralph W. Gardner, chairman of the dinner.

Gardner is a Washington lawyer, the son of the late former governor of North Carolina, O. Max Gardner. He has long been prominent in Democratic politics, but never an officeholder.

The Gardner letter's statement that ". . . in saying to President Kennedy on the occasion of his 44th birthday that the Democratic Party is once again solvent," is much more optimistic than even its finance committee chairman, Matthew H. McCloskey, has been.

Admitting that the Democrats have $2.5 million debt as a result of the 1960 campaign, McCloskey has been hopeful that the debt might be reduced by $1 million.

BUT THE GARDNER LETTER OFFERS every convenience for anyone wanting to contribute 100 bucks or more to the cause. It encloses a card which any recipient may fill out and send in with a check, using the attached addressed, but not stamped, envelope. The letter itself asks for no money directly.

TO GET AROUND THE LEGAL RESTRICTION that tickets for a political gathering can't be sold, the card says:

"Please reserve for me . . . . seats. I enclose check payable to the Democratic National Committee." At the bottom it says, "One dinner ticket issued for each $100 contribution."

On the back of the card there are 10 blank lines where you can list the names of the 10 guests you would like to invite if you want to reserve a whole table and make a contribution of $1,000. But mind you, you're not buying tickets.

IF PUBLICITY WILL MAKE any event a success, this dinner should be a wow. The letter to the oilmen, Interior Secretary Udall's denial that he had anything to do with it, McCloskey's even blander denial that tickets were being sold, have put the affair on the front pages all across the nation.

The only trouble is, it may be the wrong kind of publicity. Newsmen will be scanning the seating lists of guests to see who contributed and who took full tables. If any business lobbyists are present, this is sure to be pointed out.

AS A RESULT, they might stay away in droves and send their secretaries or assistants for the free feed.

A True 'First' for America, With No Hardship on People

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, May 8—For the first time in the history of the world a man has gone up into outer space who was watched by millions of people both before he ascended and when he came down to earth.

This is, however, only one of a series of "firsts."

For the first time, a man in capsule was able to control and guide his flight while in the air. The Soviet astonaut who orbited the earth was just an inanimate passenger.

For the first time, a man who flew into space was photographed as he entered the capsule before he ascended and immediately after he came down. The Soviet astronaut, on the other hand, was not photographed by any one except government representatives. No free press was present afterward to make its own record or freely to interrogate the astronaut.

For the first time, a nation sent a man into outer space and paid for the project out of a small fraction of its tax receipts. No class of human society was deprived of anything by reason of that expense—and no hardship was imposed upon the people. The enormous sums spent to send Soviet satellites aloft have been taken from a people deprived of the necessities of life. All this was ordered merely to advance the propaganda of totalitarian rulers.

Out in the Open

America is rightfully emphasizing to the world that its achievement was in the open where nothing was hidden. To this day the true facts about the flight of Maj. Gagarin of Russia are still unavailable either to the press or to the international scientific organization which must eventually pass judgment on the validity of the claims.

Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard Jr., who made the great flight for the United States, captivated Washington. He is a credit to his country in general and to the United States Navy in particular. He handled himself with modesty, tact and skill not only in his public appearances at the the White House and at the Capitol but in the press conference that was televised to the nation.

Here was an example of a naval officer trained, of course, for the physical hardships he might have to endure. But where did the training come from that enabled him to take in his stride the adulation and applause that were showered upon him? American manhood —the product of a free environment and the heritage of sturdy American parents—can be given the real credit. For the risks were great and a steady-nerved young man took them bravely for the cause of science and the advancement of man's knowledge.

Undoubtedly there has been a spirit of competition aroused ever since the Russian Sputnik circled the earth. The Soviet press and radio played up the Gagarin flight, and there was a big celebration in Moscow, too, as Premier Khrushchev made speeches and bestowed the accolade on the Russian astronaut.

Doubts Persist

While doubts still persist as to what Gagarin really did—perhaps he also only went up and down at a given place in the air—the disposition of officialdom here is to credit him with his claim. But at the same time there is a natural pride here that America did everything in the open and made all facts available immediately to the public. Meanwhile, the Soviet people have been given skimpy accounts of Shepard's feat, which is being deliberately played down inside the Soviet Union by orders of the Moscow government.

Why should the Kremlin be afraid to concede the significance of Shepard's flight? Because is is important to the Communists to make the Soviet people feel that their sacrifices must be continued and their hardships borne in the interest of a patriotic spirit. The rulers of Russia rely heavily on patriotism to help them to excuse their failure to provide food and decent living quarters for the millions who are enslaved.

It hos been of incalculable value to the prestige of American democracy in the free world to demonstrate the virtues of freedom to the smaller nations just emerging from bondage. For years to come the exploit of Alan Shepard will be remembered not only because of the bravery of a man who ventured into the vast unknown of outer space but for his dedications to the cause of science for which he was ready to risk his life.

Credit to Scientists

Cmdr. Shepard will remain a national hero because of what he has accomplished, but everlasting credit will also go to the scientists, engineers and devoted leaders in our government who, with cautious and faithful adherence to scientific research, refused to be stampeded prematurely into a manned flight and ordered it only after many experiments, including failures, had shown them it could be done with a reasonable chance of success. How many lives the Russians lost in their experiments may never be known.

As for a manned flight in orbit around the earth by the United States, this will come in due time. Already this country has twenty-one satellites circling the globe, while the Soviets have only one. A trip 115 miles up and then 302 miles across the ocean through space is an indication that at the proper time the United States will make the flight around the earth with an astronaut who will keep the world informed with his own voice, as did Cmdr. Shepard—the first of all firsts. He talked and sent messages from the realm of outer space, and all the world knew it simultaneously—a truly great "first."

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

In recent years, whenever Kingston City plans for a parade, the folks from Rondout seem to have to fight for it to come downtown. Today most of the parades are motorized, so I do hope that at least the part on wheels will be able to find its way to Rondout to disband on the Strand and Ferry Street as it did years ago, when marchers were on foot. Joseph Tomaseski, the Sixth Ward Alderman told me, he is leaving no stone unturned to see that the coming Memorial Day parade comes downtown. I do hope he is successful.

Captain Andrew Hickey, historian and author of the book, "City of Kingston" and member of the Senate House Museum is now working on the Civil War display to be held there beginning July 1. He is especially anxious to have papers, items, pictures, or anything pertaining to the Civil War, especially local items, to be loaned to the Museum for the month of July, 1961. Arrangements and further information may be had from Mrs. Terwilliger, custodian at the museum.

From time to time I am asked about the moving of the General Sharpe residence which made room for the Governor Clinton Hotel. The Freeman of Friday, Nov. 21, 1924 had an item about it. It seems from that Wednesday to Friday, the building was moved some two feet. It was said, the audience was large watching it, and many gave advice. There are various stories now told about how the Sharpe's residence moved, and no doubt in years to come, the stories will even improve with age, I feel newspapers of that date are the most reliable source.

The 1924 Freeman covers it thus, by the reporter on the scene. "The actual pulling is done by two horses and two mules who turn two large winches. About 500 feet of cable is used. It is necessary to use two sets of pulley and the winches to overcome the resistence of the house whose weight is estimated at 400 tons . . . In spite of many unexpected difficulties the Clynes Co. has moved the old house more than 12 feet."

Perhaps some folks took photographs of that construction. It would be interesting to see pictures of it now. I remember my father taking me up there, because he was always interested in that sort of engineering feat. Although I personally watched some of it, I was young, and only interested in it, as a very pretty house. It is said, Sharpe's residence was built in 1828.

There is much talk about the post office nowadays. I just opened the Kingston Directory of 1899 and see that George M. Brink was postmaster; E. E. Oughletree was deputy postmaster, George A. Plant, was superintendent of the Rondout Station. George D. Boughton was in charge of the sub-station No. 1. Letter carriers for Kingston in 1899 were:

Otis C. Burr, Frederick Carpenter, John T. Cusack, Charles F. Leibert, John P. Clark. For the Rondout Station, there was W. C. Straley, Robert S. McCormick, Francis R. Wood, Leonard W. Kirchner, Charles D. Romeyn and Harry T. Wheeler. At the time, Augustus Raschke, Clifford Wheeler, and George Louis Leibert were substitute carriers. John B. and William Newkirk and Robert E. Carpenter were clerks in the Kingston Post Office. William Maynard, William F. Gronemeyer and John Tonskey were clerks at the Rondout station.

So They Say..

If I thought the people of America believe that I had done anything but oppose communism . . . fought it bitterly . . . then I'd be disappointed . . . The American people are going to fight Communists by positive means . . . not by making false accusations against anyone.
—Dwight D. Eisenhower.

ALICE E. BROWN, shown above, is the sixth grade winner who will represent the Tillson School at the New Paltz Fair Saturday.

Tillson School Science Fair Winners Announced

Today's article in the current series on the Science Fair winners in the Kingston (Consolidated) District will review the winners at the Tillson School. The Tillson School will be represented at the New Paltz Fair Friday of this week by Alice E. Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Brown; Craig Sampson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sampson; and Gale Grafe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Grafe.

Alice Brown was awarded the first prize blue ribbon in the sixth grade at the Tillson School for her display on Changes in the Earth's Surface. The prize winning exhibit was fostered when Alice found several fossils at a local construction site. The fossils and some study brought about by their discovery led to the idea for a display about the changes in the surface of the earth. Alice reported she used wood, plaster of paris, asbestos and some paint she had on hand in constructing her successful project.

A display showing the principles of electricity was judged best in the fifth grade. Craig Sampson won a blue ribbon for a project started when he read an issue of Boy's Life magazine. Craig reported his materials were easily obtained at local stores.

Nine-year-old Gail Grafe was given the fourth grade top honor for her project on how we breathe. Her project came from her natural curiosity about breathing and her materials came from odds and ends around her house.

These three students will journey to New Paltz this Friday for Mid-Hudson competition. Chambers students will be reviewed in the next article.

Kingston YMCA Day Camp Is Holding 'Name Contest'

The Kingston YMCA Day Camp together with "Y" Membership Committee are conducting a "Name Contest" for the camp, it was announced today by Louis H. Schafer, general secretary.

The "Name Contest" application blanks will appear in The Freeman on Tuesday and Thursday, May 16 and 18. The contest will close June 1.

A prize of two free weeks at the camp is being offered by the sponsors.

In order to give contestants a better idea for conceiving a name that will be appropriate, the following description of the camp is given. Should special information be desired, you can 'phone the YMCA and ask for Lou Schafer. However, anyone at the "Y" will be pleased to talk to you about the camp and the "Name Contest."

The YMCA Day Camp is located in Shokan and this will be the third season of operation. It is now known as the YMCA Day Camp and is situated two miles from Route 28 on Bostock Mountain Road, leading North to Peck Road. It covers 35 acres in a beautiful mountain setting. When entering the camp property in the main driveway, you are confronted with a wide open parking space which is boardered by a large lake covering two acres. In all there are four bodies of water, two of which are used for swimming and boating. All four ponds are divided by a dam. The top of each dam has foot paths that lead to a center point where is located a large stone house, 30 feet by 15 feet and houses a large fire place. This building is known as Camp Headquarters. The water in the two main lakes is crystal clear, as it is mountain and spring water that is constantly running and overflowing the dam.

Bathing Beach

The bathing beach is covered with sand many shade trees. On the top hill of the beach is a picnic grove with open fire places. About 150 feet back of the picnic area is a large shelter used for rainy day activities as well as regular program. This building, which is 80 feet long and 24 feet wide, is fully equipped with electricty. One end of this structure is fully enclosed to house the camp store, craft materials and camp maintenance equipment. All sides have canvas drop curtains to keep out the rain and wind. Movies are shown and dramatics promoted. This open space also has shuffleboard games outlined on the cement floor. Craft tables and ping pong table occupy one end of the shelter. The senior camp open space for recreation and competitive games is situated in the rear of the shelter and covers about three acres.

Junior Camp Area

The Junior Camp area is in the rear of the headquarters building and also has a large baseball field and open area for various recreation and competitive games. The younger boys' and girls' camp has many play facilities as well as a giant sand box fully equipped. Both camps have plenty of playground equipment to keep campers out of mischief.

Camp is composed of a director and camp advisor, along with two adult assistant directors. There are 10 senior counsellors and five junior counsellors. All directors and counsellors have passed and are qualified in the National YMCA Aquatic Life Saving Service and the American Red Cross Life Saving Service. A specialty at the YMCA Day Camp is the teaching of swimming, especially to beginners. After learning the art of swimming, all campers are privileged to learn the various strokes. This is accomplished by four special tests, each containing 10 different skills. These skills which take two or three summers to learn, depending on the age of the boy or girl, all lead to the life saving work that swimmers can try for when they reach their 12th birthday. Louis H. Schafer, mostly known to boys and girls in this area, as "LOU" is an expert in the art of teaching swimming, he having taught well over 2,000 boys and girls during his Kingston YMCA tenure of 18 years.

Program at camp changes according to weather conditions. A daily schedule is set, but activities are elective. Hikes are taken and this affords the campers an opportunity for nature study. All boys and girls at camp are supervised in every phase of the camp program. No boy or girl acts on his own unless it is by their leader's consent.

Aid From on High

BELLEFONTAINE, Ohio (AP) —A passing pilot saved G. William Voss' goose hatchery from serious fire damage. Marion Tanger, flying to Bellefontaine, spotted a burning building on the Voss place near DeGraff. He radioed to DeGraff and had the local fire department notified, then circled the burning structure. Voss heard the plane, went outside and discovered the fire. He had it nearly under control when DeGraff firemen arrived.

CAUTION ROUGH ROAD

Don't get rattled. Get a Dodge. Rugged. Welded rather than bolted together to ignore rough roads and toughest service.

NEXT REST AREA FOOD – FUEL 77 MILES

It's farther between gas stops on today's superhighways. It's farther in a Dodge, too. Reason? Economical Dodge engines. Two Sixes for Lancer. A Six and five V8s for Dart.

WINDING ROAD

That's what Torsion-Aire was made for. It takes a firm stand against roll, sway, squat. The ride is something you should try.

PASS WITH CARE

Why does Dodge offer a three-speed automatic for both cars? To give that added punch for passing right when you need it.

STOP

Don't run down your battery every time your engine idles. Get a Dodge. You'll get an alternator instead of a generator. And an alternator charges your battery even at idle.

Foster Mom to Hundreds

Tennessean U.S. Mother of Year

NEW YORK (AP)—A Tennessee mother of six, who helped to abolish the whipping post in Georgia and has been foster mother to hundreds of dependent or delinquent children, was named American Mother of 1961 today.

Winner of the annual selection from state mothers across the nation is Louise Sevier Giddings Currey, 58, of Lookout Mountain, Tenn.

She was cited for rearing her own children—including home tutoring for many years of four who were unable to go to school because of ill health—and for her efforts in improving the housing and treatment of juvenile delinquents, neglected and dependent children, and mentally or emotionally disturbed children, regardless of race or creed.

Her role in the abolition of the whipping post in Georgia grew out of a trip she made to that state on behalf of one of her delinquent young charges.

Her current projects are a residential treatment center for disturbed children, and a home for juveniles returning from vocational training schools.

Cardiac Surgery Discussed Here

Miss Joan Vanek, head nurse of cardiac research at Nassau Hospital, Surgical Research, Mineola, Long Island, and a graduate of the Benedictine School of Nursing, reviewed the various types of cardiac surgery and the use of hypothermia at a recent meeting held in the auditorium of the Benedictine School of Nursing.

In conducting the faculty of the school of nursing, staff nursing and student education program regarding the most recent progress in cardiac surgery, Miss Vanek arranged her discussions for the various levels in nursing.

The research program under the direction of Dr. Aiken of Nassau Hospital continues their studies of hypthermia and its uses in their experimental laboratory. They have been very successful in maintaining the life of dogs after extreme exposure to low temperatures hoping that eventually it will be applicable to humans. It was reported very interesting to hear in detail the complete preparation, surgical procedure and after care of the patient.

Most important, it was said, was the fact of life being prolonged and the patient being made a useful member of his family and community as a result of the recent advances in cardiac surgery.

Former President

thinking about the hypothetical possibility of a third term.

He indicated that one of the questions most frequently asked of him is: "Had there been no 22nd Amendment (restricting a president to two terms), would you have been, again, a candidate for the presidency?"

Election Upset Calculations

Eisenhower noted that he had said publicly prior to the election that he thought more than two terms were neither wise nor desirable—even if there were no such amendment.

"But the election upset my calculations, reversed my expectations and exploded my plans and, if I could have foreseen this development, what would I have then said? I think I know—but how can I be absolutely sure? I do not see what more one can say than que sera, sera (what will be, will be.)"

Ortlieb Taking Course

Patrolman Edward Ortlieb, recently released from military service and returned to duty on the local police force, is attending a refresher training course at Ramapo, Police Chief Robert F. Murphy announced today. Such courses are a department regulation for new members of the force, and for those who return after an absence of some duration, the chief noted.

No Change . . .

"that which the association feels is the most likeable for those participating in the parade."

In view of a report by Alderman Hastings, the statement said, there apparently had been misunderstandings during the past few years. It noted that since there had been no word from the councilmen as to requirements, the KVA had not considered annual contact with the council committee as one of its requirements.

"It is very unfortunate," said the KVA statement, "that there are some who feel that the various veterans organizations of the KVA are prejudiced against the downtown area, as well as those who feel that the parade should be brought to the people." The statement added that the KVA hopes "that everyone will attend the parade, and honor, with those who march, those who gave their all."

Veterans Represented

The association discussed "unfavorable publicity" which followed a previous meeting, and which, it said, had been unauthorized.

The meeting was conducted by Sidney Lane, KVA, committee chairman. It was called on the request of Hastings. Represented were: American Legion, VFW, Company M, Marine Corps League, Catholic War Veterans, Ulster Barracks, Veterans of World War I.

The other members of the Common Council committee are Clark W. Myers (R) Second Ward, and William G. Davis (D-L) 12th Ward. Also present were aldermen Lawrence E. Woerner (D) Fourth Ward, and Joseph Tomaszewski (D) Sxith Ward.

Driver Licenses

in a speech prepared for delivery at the 79th annual convention of the New York State Association of Insurance Agents.

In Albany, an aide in the Motor Vehicles Department said the tape system would enable clerks to produce a full record of an individual driver almost immediately.

Under the present system, he said, the data must be copied from department records and, because of a backlog of work, it takes up to four weeks to comply with requests of law-enforcement officials and others for a complete copy of a driver's record.

The department can supply some data to police immediately, however, the aide said. Police frequently request information on persons stopped on the highway, or otherwise apprehended, if licenses of registrations produced by those individuals are suspect.

Hults described the procedure for storing records on tape as part of an overall description of plans of his department for mechanization.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—Some electronic, missile and rocket stocks advanced in a mixed stock market early this afternoon. Trading was heavy.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined .30 to 246.50 with industrials off .60, and both rails and utilities unchanged.

Most key stocks showed minor gains or losses and many were unchanged. Trading interest focused on some but by no means all of the "science" stocks related to the space age. Some of these produced gains of around 2 points.

A notable casualty was Avnet Electronics, which sank 6¾ points then recouped about 2 points of the loss.

Ling-Temco and Lear continued to meet brisk demand, both rising about 2 points. Thiokol, the rocket engine stock, picked up around 3. Republic Aviation jumped about 2.

Martin Co. was down about a point. Boeing and United Aircraft rose fractionally.

Drugs and airlines produced a string of fractional gains. Chemicals were mostly lower, DuPont dropping a point and Union Carbide a fraction.

United Pharmacy to Observe Grand Opening May 11 to 13

The United Cut Rate Pharmacy, an ultra modern, self-service drug store at 329 Wall Street, which is scientifically lighted and completely departmentalized, will have a gala grand opening Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 11, 12 and 13.

The United Pharmacy's new location is directly across the street from the store occupied by the drug store the last 13 years. The store will introduce to area residents many brand names, that up until now, have been lacking in this area.

The public is invited to inspect the drug store which is new in every respect. Merchandise is displayed so that it will be easily seen.

The 3,500 square feet of floor space affords each department sufficient area to attractively display merchandise. The prescription department in the rear is arranged with a bin-type operation so that merchandise can easily be obtained for quick service.

The building at 329 Wall Street, formerly the Kresge store, was purchased by the proprietors of the pharmacy, George and Julius Svirsky in January.

The prescription department is spacious and arranged to assure quick and accurate compounding of prescriptions for any number of customers.

The enlarged cosmetic department will feature, in addition to the United Pharmacy's famous cosmetic lines, a completely new sub-department that will feature the very latest, finest and most popular costume jewelry available.

United Pharmacy has the exclusive retail franchise for Barton's Candy.

The record department, the tobacco and gift departments have been enlarged and feature brand names that haven't been available here.

The new United Pharmacy started business on Monday. During the grand opening observance Thursday, Friday and Saturday each visitor will receive a free package of candy and 30 free Triple S Blue Stamps.

The Svirsky family has lived in this area since 1920. George, after graduating from the Albany College of Pharmacy, enlisted in the U. S. Navy in 1942 and received his discharge in 1945. During this period he served in both the European and Pacific theaters of operations. He worked for a pharmaceutical manufacturing concern from 1945 until 1948 when he and his brothers, Julius and the late Herman Svirsky, purchased the present United Cut Rate Pharmacy.

Dutchess Sheriff Promotes Four, One to Detective

Dutchess County Sheriff Lawrence Quinlan has announced the promotion of four deputies to the rank of sergeant and another to the rating of detective, as part of a reorganization of his department.

It was said that the designation of deputies as sergeants and a detective is the first such move in counties of the state. The sergeants will be attired in new uniforms, and the detective will be the only office employe to work in plainclothes.

Promoted to sergeants were Deputies Hugh Brennan, Bernard Ruchin, John Dakin and George Rymph.

Deputy Charles Borchers was promoted to detective.

Failures Will . . .

tronauts were so involved in their own flight plans that they didn't have time to study data on Gagarin's flight.

Calm Description

He described calmly—as if it were just another airplane flight, his space ride that entailed:

Blasting off atop a rocket that generated a thundering 78,000-pound thrust, soaring up 115 miles in space at speeds of about 5,000 miles an hour, going through five minutes of weightlessness, followed by a seconds-long period when his body weighed about 1,760 pounds, re-entering the earth's atmosphere at a velocity high enough to cause the paint on the capsule to char and landing at sea at a point more than 300 miles from takeoff.

Some Apprehension

Sure, he said, he had "some apprehension" before and during the flight. He knew there was always the possibility of failure in the launch, or a mishap at the end of flight.

But, while he sat for four hours in the capsule before liftoff, he had too many things to do to dwell on it.

The astronaut reported he found the two most critical phases of the flight — blastoff and reentry — smoother than he had anticipated.

He said the five-minute period of weightlessness was "quite a pleasant sensation," and during the time he had no difficulty in maneuvering the capsule and doing various other jobs.

He granted, though, that he did not experience "exhiliration" until the flight was over — and U.S. Marine helicopters were on the spot ready to pick him up.

Shepard flew back to Langley Field late Monday. He was to relax today at his Virginia Beach, Va. home.

Predicts Subway Fare Will Rise

NEW YORK (AP) — John A. Moreland, president of Fifth Avenue Coach Lines Inc., predicts the subway fare will soon be raised from 15 to 20 cents.

He says City Hall officials are "tired" of subsidizing the subways with tax money that could be used to build schools and hospitals.

Moreland made the prediction Monday at a meeting of stockholders of his company.

Fifth Avenue Coach Lines, which operates buses on a number of routes in the city, is seeking city approval of an increase in its fare from 15 to 20 cents. It also seeks to charge 5 instead of 3 cents for a transfer.

Moreland said adoption of a 20-cent fare by the Transit Authority, which operates publicly owned subways and bus lines, would pave the way for a similar increase on Fifth Avenue Coach Lines.

Allies Call . . .

trying to give the organization a new sense of self-confidence.

Rusk and Home assured their colleagues at the NATO ministerial conference here that although the Soviet Union is strong, the West is stronger and much of the rest of the world is well aware of it.

Must Play Cards Right

Lord Home emphasized the West holds a lot of good diplomatic cards and it is up to NATO to see that they are played right.

Rusk sought to convince the other 14 NATO nations of the need for prompter, more complete political consultation on problems that could develop into crises affecting all the alliance members.

At the opening conference session Monday, Rusk spoke candidly about America's triumphs and problems, without seeking to magnify the former or gloss over the latter, conference sources said.

The four big NATO powers were reported convinced that Soviet Premier Khrushchev intends to sign a separate peace treaty with Communist East Germany soon, raising the threat of an East German attempt to interfere with allied supply traffic to West Berlin.

This prospect was discussed over the dinner table Monday night by Rusk, Lord Home, French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville and West Germany's Heinrich von Brentano.

No Dispair Aroused

Informants said the prospect of such a Soviet action did not arouse despair in the Western Big Four and that the Americans, British and French are determined to maintain their occupation rights in isolated West Berlin regardless of what Khrushchev does.

The reaffirmation of this stand heartened the West Germans, who are planning to reject a recent Soviet proposal for bilateral Soviet-West German talks on a peace treaty and German unification.

The North Atlantic ministers in their first round gave the impression of being firmly united on major European problems.

The United States, Britain and France, however, still have not reached an agreed final decision on the type of settlement they will seek for Laos at the Geneva conference scheduled to open Friday.

Belgium and Portugal complained that they had not received enough support from their NATO allies on the Congo and Angola issues.

Questions View on Cuba

Canadian Foreign Minister Howard Green questioned the American view that Fidel Castro has set up a sort of Soviet satellite in Cuba. Green said Castro's regime could not be defined in simple Communist terms since it seemed to have support from some nationalist elements in the island.

Needy Greece and Turkey meanwhile appealed for an urgent, massive program of aid from their Atlantic allies to stave off the collapse of their wobbly economies.

The United States has poured more than one billion dollars worth of military and economic aid into Greece and Turkey. But the two countries still are stalked by poverty and have invoked an article of the Atlantic pact binding the partners to help each other achieve common living standards.

Cheap Insurance Shares Require Careful Scrutiny

Q) "For the past 22 years I have been in the insurance business and have seen wonderful profits made by those who invested in the stocks of successful life insurance companies. However, the high market prices of many of these stocks have put them out of reach for small investors like myself. Should we instead buy shares in the newly organized life insurance companies whose shares sell for $3.00 to $6.00 a share " R. T.

A) Only if you know exactly what you are getting into.

In recent years there have been some life insurance companies formed by promoters who perhaps were more interested in their own well-being than in the success of their creation. This is not to say that all life insurance stocks selling at a low dollar price are run for ulterior reasons—far from it. All new companies — in insurance and anything else — have to start somewhere, and those that survive will most likely repay their original stockholders handsomely for their capital ventured.

Nevertheless, you should be extremely careful when placing your money in any new business. I'd be especially dubious if a high pressure salesman calls and tries to convince you of the fantastic profits guaranteed if you "get in on the ground floor" of his company.

If you do want to invest in a lower priced insurance stock, I suggest that you consider American Heritage Life (OTC), an established, nationally known insurance company, whose shares sell for about 11 dollars.

Q) "I bought Suburban Gas in 1950 at 3¾ a share. It is now 37, and I have a profit of $21,000. Should I hold or sell?" M. W.

A) I have liked Suburban Gas for a long time and still do. This distributor of liquified petroleum gas has had a fine record of earnings growth. Demand for its product should continue to increase, and future acquisitions are likely. If possible, I would maintain my holdings in this stock.

Ellenville Case Adjourned

An adjournment was take in the Robert Jay McCandless and John Ellsworth McCandless cases. They were indicted for robbery, assault and grand larceny arising out of an affair at the home of Mrs. Sarah Cooper, 62-year-old Ellenville boarding house keeper last January 21. The two men were apprehended as a result of alert police work on the part of Ellenville Chief of Police Abe Rand and state police who apprehended the men near Hurley as they were fleeing by cab. Pleas of guilty to assault have been entered. Robert, 39, of Johnstown, Pa., and his brother, John, 32, a member of the U. S. Marine Corps stationed in San Diego, Calif., stand charged with tying Mrs. Cooper to a chair in her home, taking about $100 and threatening her with bodily harm and after ripping out the telephone securing a cab and leaving Ellenville.

Robert McCandless had been working at hotels in the Ellenville area and he and his brother had been rooming at the Cooper place. A passerby heard Mrs. Coper's calls for help, went next door to the Medical Center and called police. Chief Rand summoned state police and the men were apprehended near Hurley shortly after by troopers. Richard W. Griggs appeared for the McCandless brothers.

Also adjourned to May 10 at 11 a. m. before County Judge Raymond Mino were the five cases involving men accused of entering the Edson Drug store in Wallkill last March 8.

Richard D. Brown, Robert W. Dane, Kenneth W. Allen, Joseph W. McKeon and Anthony L. S. DeSoltis were arrested at gunpoint when their presence in the store was observed by a neighbor.

Court recessed until Wednesday at 11 a. m.

Judge, His Firm

treasurer, were named on 25 counts of the two indictments.

These cover the years from 1956 to 1958 when, the government contends, the Westlake firm listed 10,932 hours worked while the total was 6,370.

The second indictment lists 39 counts covering from May 1958 to March 1960. It named Westlake, Conley, and his son C. Darrell Conley. The father has been president of the firm since 1958 and the son vice president. The government says Westlake sought payment for 12,142 hours when employes worked 8,568.

The elder Conley, a Republican, also is the county surrogate and the judge of Children's Court. He is a past state president of the Children's Court Judges Association.

Westlake manufactures tools, dies, and machine parts as a subcontractor. It employs between 35 and 40 persons.

In another case, Pettenelli Used Auto Parts Inc. of Rome and its president, James Gattari, were fined a total of $500 on charges of non-payment of overtime to employes and failure to keep records.

Gattari was placed on six months probation and ordered to pay the employes $1,200. Judge Stephen W. Brennan imposed the sentence.

Motor vehicle fatalities in the first half of 1960 resulted in 23,000 life insurance death claims for a total of 62 million dollars, according to the Institute of Life Insurance.

Guide on Doctor Fees Mailed Out By Medical Assn.

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — A new and controversial American Medical Association plan to guide doctors in setting their fees is being mailed to doctors now, a spokesman for the AMA says.

The plan, which is still subject to change, does not set fees but suggests a relative value for each service.

For example, says Dr. Waring Willis of the AMA's Economics Committee, each service is given a certain number of units. A house call might be worth one unit and a minor operation 10 units.

So if a physician charges $5 for a house call, he would charge $50 for a minor operation, Dr. Willis said.

The plan was announced Monday at opening sessions of the Medical Society of New York State's five-day convention here.

At an earlier session, the state society approved a resolution requiring its members to join the American Medical Association. The action will give the state eight more delegates in the AMA and make it the largest delegation in the association.

About 8,000 physicians in the 26,000-member state society do not belong to the AMA. It is believed that membership will be required by 1963.

Dr. Willis said the AMA's fee recommendations take into account the frequency of the treatment given, the amount of training needed, and the time it takes.

Dr. Herbert Berger of Staten Island, an internist, said he opposes the schedule because it does not allow for the specialist, whose extra training is worth more to the patient. Dr. Willis said that unless the doctor's specialty is actually being used, the patient should not pay more.

Little League In Grave Crisis In Woodstock

As a matter of policy this column does not editorialize or normally handle sports items.

But the plight of the Little League in Woodstock is so acute we feel compelled to disregard these policies. There are very few people in the township who realize how perilously close to extinction the Little League is.

There are brave and civic-minded men like Augustine Baptiste, Jack Littel, Lloyd Gibson and Vincent Quinn, who are willing to devote their time and energy and some of their own money to keep the Little League baseball alive in our town. But they can't do it alone.

It seems incredible that of the potential total of 60 fathers of Little League players in Woodstock, there are not a dozen who will assume the supervisory responsibilities needed to operate the league.

The Little League needs money badly, but there is a more desperate need for adult supervision, officers, coaches, managers and umpires. There is little doubt that enough money can be raised to finance the 1961 season. At the moment there is grave doubt that Woodstock, a town which prides itself in accomplishment, beauty and culture, can produce the needed twelve or more men.

The moment of decision is Thursday, May 11, at 8 p. m. in the town fire hall. The future of Little League baseball in Woodstock rests squarely with the decisions that are reached Thursday night. All persons who are willing to volunteer services for LL are invited to attend this meeting. Failure of the Little League to re-organize would be a shameful indictment of our town.

On Summer Staff At Union College

George Odell of Hurley, a member of the faculty at Onteora Central School, has been notified of his appointment to the summer teaching staff at Union College, Schenectady.

Odell will assist in teaching a special advanced Placement Chemistry program for high school students. The course will grant six academic credits. League to Send Three Delegates To State Parley

The Woodstock League of Women Voters will send three delegates to the League's state convention, May 16-17, at Niagara Falls, Mrs. Betty Schwarz, president, has announced.

The delegates are Miss Florence Hubbard, Mrs. Walter Balk and Mrs. Michael Earnest. They will be joining delegates from all over the state in electing new officers and board members at a state level and in choosing the studies which New York State League will make during the next two years.

Among past studies by Leagues in this state has been an extensive one on statewide Permanent Personal Registration. On May 11, Mrs. Hans Cohn and several other members of the Woodstock League will join with members of the Kingston and New Paltz leagues in attending the meeting of the Ulster County Board of Supervisors. At this time they will urge the Board of Supervisors to support legislation to institute P.P.R. in all New York State counties.

Forum Opener Is Big Success

Twenty-four men and women enjoyed a very stimulating lecture on the subject of "International Relations" by the Rev. Rodger Brown at the Woodstock school auditorium. This was the first of a series of talks on this subject to be given by the Rev. Brown. Other sessions will be held on May 15 and May 22.

The course is being sponsored by the Woodstock League of Women Voters.

In his first talk, Rev. Brown dealt with the many considerations which go into the forming of a country's foreign policy. Questions and comments were welcomed all through the lecture and a lively discussion period followed.

Other sessions will deal with the effect of propaganda, the structure and background of the United Nations and future problems our country will have to face. The public is invited to attend these lectures at no charge.

Three Senior CE Officers Attend New York Parley

The Woodstock delegation included Dottie Haeussler, president; Sheron Graver, vice president; Mary Elizabeth Elwyn, secretary; Douglas Cammann and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Haeussler, advisors.

More than 100 youth attended the conference which was directed by James R. Westerhoff of Hawthorne, N. J. regional vice president of the International Society. The program included inspirational messages, study conferences, union reports, and fellowship, under the theme, "Forward—For Christ and the Church." Plans were made for participation in the 46th International Christian Endeavor convention to be held July 5-8 in Chicago. The 1962 regional conference is set for April 27-29 in Atlantic City.

The opening message was given by Dr. Clyde W. Meadows of Chambersburg, Pa., president of the International Society. Dr. Daniel A. Poling, president of the World's Christian Endeavor Union and editor of Christian Herald magazine, was a speaker.

Vincent Carey Named In Science School

Vincent Carey of West Shokan, a teacher at Onteora Central School, has been selected to participate in a special Summer Science Institute, which is to be held at Thiels College from July 2 to August 12, 1961.

The institute, sponsored by the National Science Foundation, is under the direction of Dr. Bela G. Kolossvary, professor of physics at Thiel, and is to include selected courses in the fields of physics, mathematics, chemistry and biology.

Carey wos one of some 50 persons from a field of 439 applicants to be selected for the special summer chorus.

Under the special program, participants will receive a stipend of not more than $75 per week plus an additional allowance for dependents (up to four). No tuition or fees will be charged for the six-week course. Teachers participating in the program and their families will be housed in Livingston Hall on the College campus.

In considering applications of teachers for the special grant, the background training of the individual was taken into consideration. Through a grant of $51,000 received from the National Science Foundation in support of the program, Thiel is in a position to accommodate some 50 teachers.

In addition to the regular teaching staff of the science department of Thiel College, distinguished visiting lecturers have been invited to participate in each of the four courses offered.

Surplus Dairy Products May Be Billion Pounds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Uncle Sam may donate upwards of a billion pounds of surplus dairy products to the needy at home and abroad this dairy marketing year.

This was reported by the Agriculture Department in a report today which said government buying of butter, cheese and non-fat dry milk this year is expected to exceed that of the past year when donations totaled 965 million pounds, mostly dry milk and butter.

The department's forecast was based on a further uptrend in milk production this year—an increase not fully absorbed by an increase in consumption.

How would you play today's hand at seven hearts after West opens the five of hearts and East's seven forces your nine.

There are several ways to make the contract and many more ways to go down. Here is the elegant way Dick Frey, author of "How to Win at Contract Bridge in Ten Easy Lessons" handled the problem.

He led a heart to dummy's ace; cashed two clubs; ruffed a club with dummy's jack of trumps; returned to his hand with the ace of spades and ran off all his trumps.

East had to make four discards on the trumps. The first three were easy. He let his last two spades and one remainving small club go. The fourth was impossible. He had to hang on to his queen of clubs and, therefore, was forced to unguard his ten of diamonds, whereupon, dummy took the last four tricks with the ace, king, queen and a small diamond.

Note that if West had started with the four diamonds he would have been squeezed out of his diamond stopper by the necessity of hanging on to the king of spades.

Council Declares Bingo Law Faulty, Asks for Repeal

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — The state's bingo law "is as full of holes as a Swiss cheese," and should be repealed immediately, the State Council of Churches says.

The council, which represents Protestant denominations, was a bitter foe of a 1957 constitutional amendment that legalized bingo games sponsored by charitable and fraternal organizations.

The council issued its statement Monday night in the wake of disclosures by the State Investigation Commission that racketeers had infiltrated the game and were pocketing large profits.

Gov. Rockefeller has said he would appoint a special commission to investigate the game and recommend changes in the law.

Rev. Theodore L. Conklin, assistant general secretary of the council, said in the statement "experience has shown that petty gambling such as bingo is no exception to the rule that all gambling leads to corruption."

Javits Pushes U.S. Indian Day For Second Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—With the support of more than 2,000 school children in 22 states, Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., proposed again today creation of "American Indian Day" on the fourth Friday of each September.

A similar resolution introduced by Javits last year at the suggestion of a 7-year-old Queens, N. Y., school girl failed to win Senate approval.

Plentiful, Report On Domestic Food

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government report said today domestic supplies of food are expected to be about as plentiful this spring and early summer as a year ago.

The Agriculture Department report on the national food situation predicted that civilian demand will likely continue at a high level.

Some increase is likely in per capita consumption of chicken and turkey.

Little change from a year ago was indicated for eggs.

Compared with spring and early summer of 1960, more milk and dairy products probably will be available this season.

Less fresh fruits than a year earlier will be available until supplies from the 1961 harvests start moving to market around midyear.

NEHO

The close bond between the Prudential Insurance Company and a vigorous, historic section of America is symbolically — as well as in fact — reflected by NEHO. When it established a NORTHEASTERN HOME OFFICE in Boston, an essential link in a seven-area decentralization plan, Prudential underscored its desire to serve millions of policyholders in New England and upper New York state with even greater efficiency and understanding.

Prudential agents of NEHO know many young family men ... men just getting started on the ladder ... whose incomes haven't yet caught up with their ability. To them they can offer a modern new modified 5-10 plan, which scales the premiums to match the family's economic progress. Although the payments for the first five years are only about half of the ultimate premium, the family is protected by the full amount of insurance ... and the modified 5-10 plan is building cash values that can later provide a monthly retirement income.

To these policyholders, and to the millions more in this Northeastern region, NEHO reflects security in a very personal way. They're the first to tell you that a Prudential agent is a mighty good neighbor to welcome when he calls.

Rural Mail Box Program Slated For Next Week

The annual rural mail box improvement program—to assist the Postal Service in providing more efficient deliveries and to stimulate efforts to improve the appearance of the countryside—will be held May 15 to 20, the Post Office Department announced today.

The program is to encourage patrons to provide and maintain suitable mail receptacles for easy and safe accessibility, presenting a neat appearance, and affording protection to the mail.

The Post Office Department listed these suggestions for rural mail box improvement:

Boxes which are no longer serviceable should be replaced; Name of box owner should be inscribed on the side of the box visible to the carrier as he approaches, or on the door if boxes are grouped; Boxes and supports should be kept painted, preferably white, but other colors may be used; Boxes that are not properly placed, or not maintained in good serviceable condition retard the delivery of mail and expose it to the weather.

Mail boxes on rural and star routes must be located on the right side of the road in the direction of travel of the carriers in all cases where traffic conditions are such that it would be dangerous for the carriers to drive to the left in order to serve the boxes, or where their doing so would constitute a violation of state or local traffic laws and regulations. The approaches to boxes should be filled and properly graded and unobstructed at all times.

Local Editor Goes to Paper In Greene County

Arthur J. DeCelle III, who has been managing editor of the Saugerties Post for the past year, resigned that position last week to accept the position of court house reporter for the Catskill Daily Mail, as of Monday, May 8.

He was elevated to editor when the paper was sold by Orin Lehman to Howard Silberstein, who also owns and operates the Catskill Daily Mail and other Greene County papers. Subsequently the Post was sold to the Landers enterprises, and became a weekly paper, and DeCelle assumed the position he held until his resignation.

DeCelle formerly was with the New York World Telegram and Sun in the advertising production department. He is a graduate of St. John's University, Hillcrest, Jamaica, L. I., class of 1957. He is married and the father of three children, Arthur IV, Charles and Isabel. They reside at 132 Market Street, Saugerties.

Four employes at the IBM plant on South Road, Poughkeepsie, suffered burns of varying degree at 3:30 p. m. Monday, when fire caused by ignition of a chemical solvent occurred in the transistor manufacturing department.

Others burned were identified as, Lee Fish, of 187 Bower Road, Poughkeepsie, first degree and second degree burns; Miss Dora L. Fish was admitted to Vassar Hospital. Miss Letterio and Bardin were taken home in care of physicians.

The four employes were given immediate first aid at the plant.

The IBM Fire Company responded to a call.

Sprinkler systems functioned immediately and extinguished the fire, which caused minor damage to the department.

Work resumed at the regular starting time today.

Woman Will See Kin First Time In Eleven Years

ATLANTA (AP)—This is probably the most exciting day in the life of a woman who has spent 51 of her 67 years as a patient in an Atlanta nursing home.

Miss Gertrude Cox plans to fly to Buffalo, N. Y., today to see her mother and sister for the first time in many years.

"I'm really looking forward to the visit," she said Monday night at the A. G. Rhodes Home, where she has been a patient all her adult life.

"I haven't seen my mother in 11 years and I may not have another chance," she said.

Her mother, Mrs. Alice B. Cox, of Buffalo, is 85 and underwent a serious operation last year.

Miss Cox also will visit her sister for the first time in 49 years. The sister, Mrs. Amy Russell, lives at Snyder, near Buffalo.

Miss Cox was 16 and had epilepsy when her mother placed her in the home. "My father died many years ago and my mother was a nurse and had nobody to take care of me," she explained.

2 Women Hurt In Albany Are Still Critical

Two county women injured Saturday night when struck by a car as they were crossing Madison Avenue, Albany, today remained in critical condition at Albany Medical Center, according to a report to The Freeman shortly before noon.

They are:

Mrs. Edna Brink, 44, of RD 5, Saugerties, (Mt. Marion) who suffered leg injuries and possible internal injuries and Mrs. Alma R. Simpkins, 67, of 137 Pinker Street, Woodstock, who received leg injuries, seven fractures, an injured hip and undetermined internal injuries.

Mrs. Brink is the wife of George Brink, Saugerties, and Mrs. Simpkins is the wife of Lamonte V. Simpkins, a Woodstock insurance man.

The two women had attended a meeting of the Daughters of the Nile, the woman's unit of the Shrine Club. They were with Mrs. Edna Morgan of 16 Cummings Avenue, this city, and other women.

Mrs. Morgan went to get her parked car in a nearby lot, and Mrs. Brink and Mrs. Simpkins were crossing the avenue when they were hit by a car operated by Theodore F. Johannssen, 20, of Salt Point Turnpike, Pleasant Valley.

Johannssen told police the women stepped in the path of his car. He applied the brakes and the vehicle skidded on wet pavement and hit the pedestrians, who were rushed to the hospital.

Mrs. Morgan, who had crossed the avenue ahead of Mrs. Simpkins and Mrs. Brink was going to drive the group to the Shrine Club where some of their husbands were attending a meeting.

Irish Bricks as Gifts

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP) — Ireland sent bricks here when it learned the Irish drama, "Playboy of the Western World," was to be produced in Binghamton.

No criticism was intended. The bricks are from Dublin's historic Abbey Theater and are gifts to the city and Harpur College's drama department.

Hollywood News, Views

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—If all goes well, Cleopatra's barge will again be floating down the Nile late this year.

This would be about 2,000 years after it sailed with the original crew and exactly one year after it was supposed to bear the latter-day Cleopatra, Elizabeth Taylor.

They're again preparing the delayed launching out at 20th Century-Fox, where no one seems daunted by the film's mishaps so far—the replacement of a director, the junking of the script, canceling of shooting after bad weather in England, Liz Taylor's near-fatal illness.

Least daunted is producer Walter Wanger, despite the loss of $5 million before the movie has been started.

"With the worldwide publicity for 'Cleopatra' and with the brilliant new conception of the story by Joe Mankiewicz, I am positive that we will have one of the great screen attractions of all times," Wanger said.

"No star has ever had the attention of the world that Liz Taylor has. I made a picture with Greta Garbo, another with Ingrid Bergman at her height. Neither of them matched the clamor that now exists for Liz."

Wanger said the shooting will resume in late August and Liz is anxious to begin. "But it can't be before that because she must have plastic surgery to cover her neck scar, and her leg is not recovered yet," he said.

Exteriors will be shot in Rome and Egypt, where the barge is under construction. The interiors will probably be filmed here, though that has not been decided yet.

His Bail for the Birds

LONDON (AP) — A judge accepted six parakeets as bail for Michael Hyland, 37, a factory foreman charged with intending to break into a store.

The judge suggested cash bail of $28 but Hyland said he didn't have the money and offered the birds instead.

Japs to Discuss Payment

TOKYO (AP)—Foreign Minister Zentaro Kosaka said today he expects to begin talks soon with U.S. Ambassador Edwin O. Reischauer on repayment of close to $2 billion of American aid Japan received in the immediate postwar years.

HomeBrewers Are Target of Soviet

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union is cracking down on home brewers.

Stiff penalties have been ordered in the Russian Federation—the largest of the Soviet republics—for anyone caught brewing alcoholic drinks at home or selling it.

Watervliet Has $Million Blaze

WATERVLIET, N. Y. (AP)—A million-dollar fire early today destroyed a truck terminal, a dozen truck-tractors and five trailers loaded with merchandise.

Firemen from Watervliet and Troy, across the Hudson River, and other communities battled the fire in the three-story brick and stone building for more than four hours.

No one was reported injured.

While firemen were fighting the fire at the Monarch Motor Freight Co. terminal, at Seventh Street and Broadway, others were sent to put out a short-lived fire at a venetian blind shop in the area.

The terminal fire downed power lines and caused a blackout in the area.

Several explosions occurred during the terminal fire, apparently from gasoline in the trucks and paint stored in the building.

The causes of the fires were not determined.

The damage estimate for the terminal was made by William Hayes, office manager.

Red Radio Hits Yuri's Skeptics

LONDON (AP) — Moscow radio said today that Soviet scientists, before Yuri A. Gagarin's space flight, had "made it quite clear that the Soviet Union was on the threshold of sending a manned space ship on its maiden voyage."

"The actual flight, too, was announced to the world long before its successful completion was absolutely certain," said the broadcast, which termed U.S.-British criticism of the secrecy surrounding the Soviet space program "childish talk indeed."

DeGaulle Ready For Rebel Talks

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle says he is ready to discuss the future of Algeria with the rebel nationalist leaders, but he is determined to carry out his policy of Algerian self-government with or without their assent.

The president vowed in a nationwide radio-TV broadcast Monday night that the abortive army mutiny last month "will not retard the forward progress of France" and promised that leaders of the insurrection would be punished.

3 Plead Innocent To Po'keepsie Assault Charges

A 31-year-old Milton man and two Poughkeepsie men pleaded innocent before City Judge Charles O'Donnell Monday to assault charges and received adjournment until 9 a. m. Wednesday.

Samuel C. Spell, of Maloney Road, Milton, a helper, faced a charge of assault, second degree. He is accused of knifing Lorenzo Butler, 43, of 150 South Water Street, Poughkeepsie, Saturday.

Butler is charged with third degree assault, accused of hitting Clarence Stevens, 35, of 117 Main Street, Poughkeepsie. Stevens was booked on a third degree assault charge, accused of hitting Butler during an incident in downtown Poughkeepsie.

Butler suffered lacerations of the back, requiring 25 sutures at Vassar Hospital. Three sutures also were required to close a laceration under his left eye.

How to Use U. S. Power Is Major JFK Dilemma

Ideas Better Than Tanks for Laos, But Not So in Defense of W. Berlin

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the major dilemmas of the Kennedy administration is not lack of military power, which it has to enormous degree, but how to use what it has to stiff-arm the advance of communism.

It can't in any situation use that power without risking war. In some places it doesn't want to take the risk—as in Laos; in others it appears willing to—as in West Berlin.

Where it is unwilling to take the risk it needs programs to win the allegiance of people who will otherwise buy communism if it seems to fit their needs.

Just because Americans despise communism, it doesn't follow that backward peoples also despise it if it offers more than they have now or can look forward to. In short, in some places ideas are better than tanks.

The administration says it is determined to defend West Berlin if the Russians try to shut it off. But it has to. The city is both the gateway to Western Europe and a symbol of Western unity.

Thus Secretary of State Dean Rusk at Oslo Monday was able to join with other foreign ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in a firm resolve to stand up for Berlin against expected Russian pressure.

This could mean war. But unless Berlin is defended, the Western alliance probably will fall apart. If so, the individual European nations will have to make their separate peace with Russia and this country will be left alone and isolated.

But the Kennedy administration has shown none of this determination in moving into Laos against the Red-led Pathet Lao guerrillas who have taken over two-thirds of the country while the United States gnawed its nails and waited for a cease-fire.

The eventual loss of all Laos to communism seems inevitable. But Laos, in an inside pocket of Asia, is a bad place for the United States to get involved militarily. There was no support for such a move in this country.

But the next, and much more important effort of communism, is in South Viet Nam. Again the United States may face the choice of intervening or seeing all Viet Nam go down the Communist drain. If it does, all Southeast Asia is open to Red pressure.

Promises May Win Out

The administration talks of training guerrilla fighters and sending them into backward countries to train natives in that kind of warfare against potential Red guerrillas.

But the basic question remains: Are the backward people anywhere going to show any interest in fighting Communists if they offer promises and programs which seem better and more immediate than anything the local government backed by this country proposes?

Last Sunday in the Washington Post reporter Warren Unna, after a trip to Southeast Asia, wrote of the war in Laos where this country backs a right-wing government and Russia backs the Pathet Lao guerrillas.

"By general acknowledgment of both American and British officials on the spot, the Pathet Lao is capable of winning any nationwide election hands down," Unna wrote.

Unna didn't say why the Laotians prefer the Pathet Lao to the American-backed right-wing government. But a guess can be made: the Pathet Lao has a program that makes more sense to the Laotians.

The story of Laos is likely to be repeated again and again in Southeast Asia and elsewhere unless this country can push the government it backs into doing more for the people than the Communists promise.

PATRICK J. COLBERT

Two area servicemen in the U. S. Army are undergoing eight weeks basic training at Fort Dix, N. J.

Peter J. Leonardo, 17, son of Peter Leonardo, 28 Chapel Street, Kingston, attended Kingston High School prior to entering the service. He was assigned to Company M of the 4th Training regiment at Fort Dix.

John W. Marsh, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Marsh Jr., of Catskill, graduated from Catskill High School and attended U. S. Merchant Marine Academy. Under the RFA program he will serve on active duty for six months and then be transferred to hometown duty with an Army Reserve or National Guard unit.

With Sixth Fleet

Marine Cpl. Joseph M. Rohan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. Joseph P. Rohan of 783 Broadway, Kingston, is serving with the Third Battalion, Sixth Marine Regiment, a unit of the Second Marine Division which departed Camp Lejeune, N. LEAVES FOR DRILL—Marine Pfc. Patrick J. Colbert, son of Mrs. Ruth A. Colbert of 118 Second Avenue, Kingston, embarked with the Second Battalion, Sixth Marines, April 19, for more than a month of training exercises on the island of Vieques, Puerto Rico. The marines also will have an opportunity to tour the island and visit the historic city of Isabella Segunda.

Second Holdup Is Made by Woman, Calm and Polite

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP) —A soft-spoken lady bandit has struck again.

Monday night she took $60 off Paul Gibson, who was watching television with his wife.

Sunday night she took $65 from William Fraim, visitation minister of the First Baptist Church. It represented the evening's collection.

Gibson told police the woman, about 25, came to a side door of his house.

"She said she was out of gas," Gibson said. "Then she calmly said, 'Pardon me sir, this is a holdup.'"

Gibson said he handed over his wallet.

Sunday night 100 persons were attending a reception in the basement when the woman came into the church office and took the money bag containing the $65.

In both cases she was described as calm and polite but displaying a pistol to enforce her demands.

The first oil well was drilled in 1859.

REPUDIATING HER FATHER'S MEMORY

Q: My own father is not living and I'd like my mother and stepfather to send my wedding invitations worded "their daughter." My stepfather has always been exceptionally good to me and I am very fond of him and I think having the invitations worded in this way would please him no end. Will you please tell me if this will be proper?

A: Nothing could be more cruel to your father's family than to have the invitations read "their daughter." You are not your stepfather's daughter no matter how much you love him. The invitations are sent out by your mother and stepfather together but worded "her daughter." Your stepfather can of course give you away.

Sending Money Instead of Flowers

Q: One of the girls in my office just lost her mother and we took up a collection to send flowers. One of the contributors, who is especially friendly with this girl, said that she and her sister (the only two left in the family) could use the money to help pay some of the funeral expenses, much more than flowers and suggested that we send a check. Will you please tell me if it would be proper to send a check instead of flowers?

A: Many people would be offended by receiving money instead of flowers, and it would be wise to have the one who is especially friendly with the bereaved girl, ask her which she would prefer.

Paying a Girl's Bus Fare

Q: When waiting on a street corner for a bus and a girl I know comes along and stands and waits for the same bus, should I pay her fare when we get on the bus, or would it seem cheap and ill-mannered on my part to let her pay her own?

A: As she is not your guest, it is not at all necessary for you to pay her fare and if she has a token or the correct change in her hand you let her pay her own. On the other hand, if she is fumbling through her purse looking for change, it would be kind of you to pay the fare for her.

How To Use Water To

END YOUR CONSTIPATION WORRIES

Here's how to get to the basic root of your constipation problem. Bring enough moisture to your lower colon every day. As soon as food wastes are normally moistened, they will "move" as they should and you will enjoy daily elimination.

So do this to end your constipation worries. Take SERUTAN every day with plenty of water. SERUTAN is a pure vegetable gel which carries twenty times its weight in water to your lower digestive tract where it is needed to promote more normal regularity.

SERUTAN provides the proper moisture, bulk and peristaltic action to help keep you regular. This is utterly different from chemical laxatives which cause diarrhea and may dry you out.

Get SERUTAN today. Use it faithfully as directed for at least one week. You must enjoy daily regularity or your money back from the maker.

Republican Women Hear Guest Speaker On United Nations

Women are encouraged to participate in programs to promote international understanding, according to Mrs. Eleanor Schnurr, guest speaker at the luncheon Saturday of the Ulster County Women's Republican Club. Addressing an audience of more than 150 women at Skytop Restaurant, Mrs. Schnurr stressed the importance of the woman's role in the United Nations organizations, as well as on the local levels.

As representative of the National Federation of Women's Republican Clubs, Mrs. Schnurr was present for two very topical events—the now-famous "shoe-shaking" by Khrushchev and the riot during the address by Ambassador Stevenson. The guest speaker outlined many functions and services of United Nations organizations to her listeners, and explained many publications. Mrs. Schnurr advocated learning languages as an aid in understanding other peoples, as well as studying about the nations themselves.

Accompanying Mrs. Schnurr was her husband, A. Harry Schnurr, purchasing director, Walker Laboratory, Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center, Rye, N. Y.

Following opening remarks by Miss Alice M. Scardefield, luncheon chairman, the guest speaker was introduced by Mrs. Raymond LeFever, president, Ulster County's Women's Republican Club. The salute to the flag was led by Mrs. Arthur Hazenbush, and the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner" was led by the Bell-Ringers.

Members of the "Bell Ringers" received honorary membership cards in the organization, presented by Mrs. LeFever. Those accepting the cards were: The Misses Pamela Schomer, Patricia Dunham, Melinda Dunham, Mary Jane LeFever, Ellen St. John, Mimi Stang, and Gloria Fabiano. Miss Cordelia Feltman accepted hers and and the Bell Ringers chairman, Miss Madge Peters, who was unable to attend the luncheon.

At the head table were club officers and guests: Mrs. Raymond LeFever, president; Mrs. Eleanor Schnurr, guest speaker, and her husband, A. Harry Schnurr; Mrs. Walter Caunitz, Miss Alice M. Scardefield, Mrs. William Krum, Mrs. John Schomer, Mrs. Frank Campochiaro, and Miss Marianne Davis. Prominent guests included: Mrs. Kenneth Wilson, Mrs. Raymond Mino, Mrs. Edward Snyder. Ticket chairman for the luncheon was Mrs. John Salapatis.

Five members of the Ulster County Women's Republican Club also attended the dinner Friday, May 5, at the Nelson House in Poughkeepsie, sponsored by the Women's Republican Club of Dutchess County. The featured speaker of the evening was Congressman John V. Lindsay of New York City.

The members attending were: Mmes. Raymond Le Fever, president; Joseph Knubben, William Krum, and Miss Cordelia Feltman and Miss Marianne Davis.

Breakfast Speaker For Presentation Women's Club Here

REV. CHARLES BRINKMANN

A Redemptorist Missionary priest has been named guest speaker for the annual communion breakfast planned by members of the Presentation Women's Club. He is the Rev. Charles Brinkmann.

Scheduled for Sunday, May 21, members of the club will first attend the 8 a. m. Mass at Presentation Church in Port Ewen. Breakfast will be served at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

For the past three years, Father Brinkmann has been assigned to the town of Pedro Juan Cabellero in Paraguay. Part of the town lies in Paraguay and part in Brazil. Father Brinkmann, in order to carry on his missionary work, has learned to speak Spanish, Portuguese and Guarani, the native Indian language.

Father Brinkmann is known as Padre Carlito to his parishioners in Pedro Juan Cabellero. He acquired widespread fame in the country when during the recent uprising in Paraguay he remained alone and unarmed to face the invading rebels. Because of his heroism the rebels spared the town and property of thousands of evacuated families.

Father Brinkmann amazes the natives with his abilities as a catechist, linguist, preacher, mechanic, musician, electrician, photographer and marksman. He proved his marksmanship when he shot down a tiger that had been praying on cattle.

The missionary received his education at St. Boniface Parochial School in Philadelphia, St. Mary's College, North East, Pa., St. Mary's College Novitiate, Ilchester, Md., and Mt. St. Alphonsus, the Redemptorist seminary in Esopus.

June 12 Hearing Set for Dutchess Judge Salary Hike

A resolution was received Monday by the Dutchess County Board of Supervisors from a Judiciary committee which would increase the salary of County Judge John R. Schwartz from $17,000 to $20,000 a year if he loses the $3,000 he now receives for duties in Children's Court.

Another resolution which would, if approved in June, establish a separate Children's Court judgeship in Dutchess County, also was introduced. The new judge would be elected at the November election.

Both resolutions were referred to the Board's Judiciary committee and Budget and Finance committee, for study and recommendations.

A public hearing was scheduled for the Board's next meeting on June 12 to discuss the proposed salary increase for the county judge.

Judge Schwartz now receives a salary of $17,000 as County Judge and an additional $3,000 for duties in Children's Court. The new judge of Children's Court would be paid an annual salary of $7,500.

Your Vacation Often Tips Off Who Is Boss

RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Who's boss in your family? who picks the vacation spots? That's often what decides.

If you spend your whole vacation visiting your relatives—it's a cinch you dreamed up the trip and pushed it through.

If you decide to rough it, which means going off to the wilds where your husband can fish and hunt and you can fish and hunt—and also cook meals, wash dishes and fight mosquitoes —it's a pretty safe guess it was his idea.

If you go to a fashionable resort (that necessitates your buying a complete new wardrobe) and come back with stories of the important people you met, you can be quite sure the woman in your family made the decision.

And, of course, if he spends his two weeks vacation on a hunting trip with his pals, magnanimously letting you take the kids to your mother's for a visit while he is away, he's really running things!

But if you come back talking about old school friends of yours you looked up, the amusing tearooms you ate in, the shopping you did, then you bossed the trip.

So maybe we shouldn't do so much talking about our vacations, after all. Not unless we want our friends to know who's boss in the family.

$25,000 Award Is Made to Woman For Car Injuries

Mrs. Frederick J. Yesse of Port Ewen was awarded $25,000 in Supreme Court Monday for injuries which she sustained in July 1959 when the car of her husband and that of Henry Smith of New Jersey were in collision near Mirror Lake Lodge Ulster Park.

A "no cause" verdict was returned in the action of Mr. Yesse who sought to recover for injuries, damage to his car and for medical bills and loss of services.

Mr. and Mrs. Yesse were en route to their home in Port Ewen, traveling north on Route 9W when near a motel at Ulster Park they alleged the Smith car traveling south crossed the highway to enter the motel. Mrs. Yesse was very severely injured about the face, the car was wrecked and Mr. Yesse was also injured, it was disclosed.

Michael Nardone appeared for plaintiffs and Francis X. Tucker of Cook and Cook appeared for defendant. The action was tried before Supreme Court Justice Kenneth S. MacAffer and a jury.

Underground Car Project Collapses

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) —A huge underground auto parking area project collapsed with a roar Monday night, creating a vast chasm filled with twisted scaffolding on fashionable Wilshire Boulevard.

No injuries were reported at the site of the four-floor excavation, scheduled to be completed next year.

Police said the cave-in apparently was caused by a ruptured water main beneath the half-block long site.

The parking area was being built beneath the multimillion-dollar California Bank building, now under construction.

Water from a broken main was gushing into a hole nearly 90 feet deep, filled with scaffolding, broken concrete and timbers.

Police closed all but two lanes of Wilshire Boulevard after the street sank about 1½ feet, near the pit.

Area Engineers To Hear Talk on Flight Safety

Members of the Mid-Hudson Section of The American Society of Mechanical Engineers will meet Wednesday, May 17 at 8 p. m. at the IBM research auditorium, Boardman Road, Poughkeepsie, to hear Carl F. Schmidt, engineering director of Flight Safety Foundation, Inc., New York City.

His topic will be The Engineer's Responsibility for Air Safety. A sound film with slides will illustrate the talk. A special effort is being made to invite the men and women of the community to attend, due to the general interest of the topic to be discussed.

The speaker will discuss the objectives of the Flight Safety Foundation which is to assist engineers in the air transportation business in achieving the highest possible degree of safety for the flying public.

Methods of operation the Foundation include exchange of incident information, educational programs with pilots and engineers, cooperative programs with other organizations, and crash injury research.

As engineering director, Schmidt is responsible for the direction of engineering studies and preparation of safety information for operators, manufacturers and general aviation, planning of and technical advice on experimental projects in crash injury research and the supervising of activities of the Foundation.

Schmidt received his B. S. from the University of Illinois and M. Aero, Eng., from New York University. He has been associated with Lockheed Aircraft Corp. in operations engineering, flight test engineering and service engineering and market research. He also has been associated with Trans World Airlines and American Export Airlines in various engineering capacities.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Astronaut Alan B. Shepard Jr., has emerged as the first big new TV star of the year. At a 60-minute news conference Monday carried by the three major networks, the hero of America's first manned space flight proved attractive, modest, quick-witted and flashed a delightful sense of humor.

The boyish-looking pilot fielded questions from a large gathering of reporters in Washington with a poised and easy air. He consistently used the word "we" in discussing the flight, explaining that "I am acutely aware of the hundreds who made this flight possible."

Before taking the questions, Shepard—with a grin—introduced his wife, his parents, his sister and his in-laws. At intervals he referred questions to officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and to fellow astronaut Gus Grissom. He made frequent reference to his six colleagues who shared the stage with him.

The televised news conference was preceded by two formal speeches by NASA officials which could have been dispensed with. Those in charge also permitted the session to continue too long—to a point where the questions were slow in coming.

NBC's interest in Cmdr. Shepard's progress was so great that the network postponed for a week the premiere of a new Western, "Whispering Smith." Instead, there was a 30-minute taped report of highlights of the astronaut's big day for the few who missed the live coverage and the regular evening TV news shows.

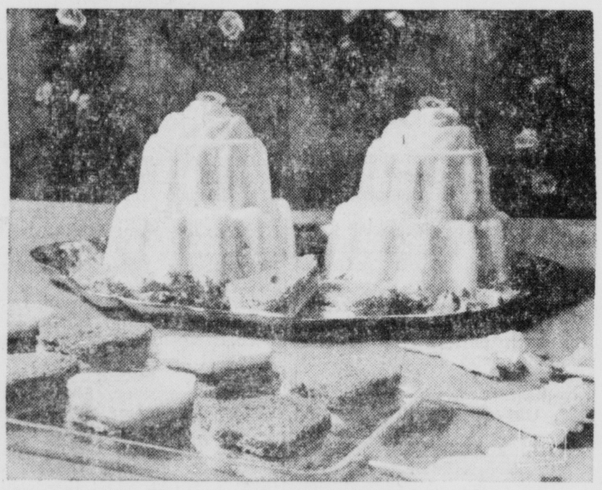
But that wasn't quite as free-handed a gesture as it seemed. The network has a sponsor ready and willing to pick up the bill for spur-of-the-moment news programs.

Recommended tonight: "The Renegade," NBC, 10-11 (EDT)—adventure during the first Battle of Bull Run, with Steve Cochran and Richard Ney.

NEW SUNDAY SCHOOL OFFICERS—Sunday school officials of Tillson Reformed Church were named at a recent meeting in the church. They are (l-r) Margaret Sutherland, superintendent; Carol Rowe, assistant superintendent, reappointed, and Patricia Markle, newly appointed trustee. (Freeman photo)).

FOOD FOR AMERICANS

Pineapple Molds to Grace Showers



HANDSOME pineapple bell molds are the center of attraction (next to the bride-to-be) at a spring bridal shower.

GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

May brings a flurry of showers for the bride-to-be, generally either a luncheon or high tea. A background garland of sweetheart roses in ferns adds a note of romance to the table; tiny paper parasols provide appropriate favors, and beribboned gifts are piled around the table for the bride-to-be.

Pineapple wedding bell molds might decorate the center of the table. Wedding bell and heart-shape tea sandwiches and a miniature bride's cake should be part of the menu. Plan the menu carefully so there will be a minimum of last-minute work. Incidentally, the miniature bride's cake should have a tiny wedding ring, wrapped in wax paper, baked in it. The girl who finds it will be the next to be married—or at least that's the way the story goes.

Pineapple Bell Molds
(Yield: 6 servings)

2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
2 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon salt
1½ cups water, divided
1 8-ounce package cream cheese
4 tablespoons lemon juice
2 cans (9 ounces each) crushed pineapple
1 cup heavy cream, whipped

Mix together gelti,suag dnrn aa

Mix together gelatin, sugar and salt in a saucepan. Stir in 1 cup of the water. Place over low heat, stirring constantly until gelatin and sugar are dissolved. Remove from heat; stir in remaining ½ cut water. Mash cream cheese; gradually blend in gelatin mixture. Stir in lemon juice and pineapple.

Chill until mixture is cooled and mounds slightly when dropped from a spoon. Fold in heavy cream. Turn into a 6-cup mold; chill until firm. Unmold on salad greens.

Note: If desired, recipe may be doubled and turned into two 6-cup molds.

Kingston Rotary Will Dedicate Meditation Room

The Kingston Rotary Club is preparing to conduct dedication ceremonies Wednesday, May 24, for the new Meditation Room at the Kingston Hospital. These ceremonies, which will be held during the regular Rotary meeting at the Governor Clinton Hotel, mark the completion of a three year program to provide this facility for hospital patients and their friends.

The need for such a room, for personal meditation and consultation with members of the clergy, was suggested to the Rotary Club in 1958 by one of its members, the Rev. J. Dean Dykstra. The project was started under his chairmanship and has proceeded through three administrations until its completion at the present time.

The Kingston Ministerial Association was prompt to agree with the value of this Meditation Room, and has contributed $1000 toward the total cost of $4,000 for the installation. Valuable cooperation was also offered by the directors and administrator of the hospital, who allocated the necessary space for the Meditation Room.

After the dedication on May 24, the hospital administration will assume responsibility for maintenance of this new room.

Dr. Milton M. Grover, president-elect of Rotary, has been instrumental during the entire three year period in carrying out this project. Other Rotarians who have participated are: John Barton, Donald Cooper, Clarence Dickert, August Foerschler, Adrian Kaplan, Joseph O'Connor, William O'Reilly, Arthur Patterson, Sam Pepper, Dr. Herbert Schwartz, and Theodore Young.

Penthouse for Birds

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—There's a pigeon penthouse atop the modern Boston Store in downtown Springfield. Louis B. Margolis, executive manager of the store, says he understands the birdhouse was specified in the sales agreement between the store and Second Presbyterian Church when the church sold the lot 40 years ago. But Henry P. Quentin, assistant manager in 1921, says it was a matter of sympathy; the pigeons lived in the church belfry. However, while the birdhouse remains, it has been vacant for many years. Apparently the elevator in a shaft just below it makes too much noise.

Home for Aged Introduces New Nonresidence Plan

It's no secret that the longer older people can stay in their own homes, the happier they are likely to be.

About 20 older women in a big city are enjoying this independent kind of living, thanks to a new project of a progressive-minded home for older people.

This is a "nonresidence" plan which offers such special services as nursing care in the person's own residence and a chance to have meals at the home for older people.

Or maybe, as in the case of Mrs. C, the nonresident will spend several weeks at home, convalescing after surgery.

Mrs. C. also has taken advantage of consultations on daily living problems with the home's social worker and on her personal financial affairs with the home's treasurer.

She is a special guest of the home on such occasions as her birthday and holidays. She is a regular member of a weekly study group of home residents.

What does membership in the nonresident plan cost Mrs. C and the other participants, women whose ages range from 63 to 85?

They pay $2,500, which is half the entrance fee to the home. If they want to eat meals at the home, they pay 50 cents for lunch, $1 for dinner.

When they apply for nonresident membership, they must agree that when they are admitted as a permanent resident they will pay the rest of the fee and also meet the other requirements for admission.

If, while they are nonresidents, they decide they don't want to live permanently in the home, they can get back their $2,500, less what the home has spent on them. If they should die while they are nonresidents, their estates will get the same refund.

The home's director said the plan has a wonderful psychological effect on its participants.

"They feel independent and yet protected," she says. "They know they will be taken care of if they become ill.

"They know that when they do make up their minds to become permanent residents of our home they have priority on accommodations.

"Many of our nonresidents still have jobs. They drive cars. They feel they aren't ready for life in a home for the aged.

"Yet, the nonresidence plan is giving them a chance to get acquainted with living in such a home. It isn't easy to adjust to such things as sharing laundry and bath facilities.

"But for these women the adjustment is likely to be fairly simple. They already will have had a taste of group living."

Q—I am a 43-year-old housewife. My husband is 53. I'm not very well and can't do much outside work. If I should become widowed, must I wait until I am 62 before I can collect social security benefits based on my husband's earnings? —Mrs. L. E. R.

A—Yes, unless you have in your care a child under 18 or an older disabled child who suffered the disability before he reached 18.

Q—I am a man of 60. How many quarters will I need to be eligible for social security benefits when I am 65?—F. K.

A—Twenty quarters or five years work.

Not big and bitey. But smooth. Civilized. And above all, subtle. Only tea leaves, choice, rich tea leaves, can give you such great tea taste. Tea dust can't come close.

Saugerties Dinner to Honor Prominent Citizen on May 18

A prominent citizen of Saugerties, John C. Sauer, known for his many contributions to the civic and cultural life of his community, will be honored with a testimonial dinner given by Saugertes Area Chamber of Commerce Thursday, May 18 at the Flamingo Restaurant.

The occasion will serve as the annual dinner of the Chamber, and tickets are available to the public, Peter Murphy, chairman of the social committee announced this week.

Honored by Chamber

Sauer, a widely-known real estate and insurance agent was recently named an outstanding member of the Chamber.

His long career in village politics and service to the community includes 12 years as Chamber vice president and eight successive years as president. These are described by many as the most productive years of the Town and Village of Saugerties until the recent expansion of the area.

The first taste of success in politics was in the fall of 1919 when Sauer was elected town tax collector. In the ensuing years he was elected several times as town tax assessor.

He served four two-year terms on the Village Board but failed to attain the local mayoralty post when he was defeated in the spring of 1933. That same fall Sauer was reelected as town tax assessor by a very large majority.

Headed Scout Drive

Sauer's community service includes over a decade as Town of Saugerties Boy Scout finance chairman during which time his campaigns exceeded all quotas.

For many years he assisted in the financial drives of the Cancer Fund, Red Cross, and many others, usually as special gifts committee chairman; campaigns for the Chamber of Commerce, Fourth of July Celebration and Christmas Tree Lighting fund drives on which he served as chairman.

He served as Chamber vice president for some 12 years under the late W. Hoyt Overbagh, as president. Overbagh was also a dedicated public spirited citizen.

During his eight years as Chamber president Sauer was a member of the Village Board and successfully spearheaded the drive for the construction of the municipal building which was approved by public referendum. The building was 60 per cent financed by federal funds. Sauer also assisted in securing sufficient land to erect the building. He was also responsible for selecting the site and negotiating the sale of the land to the federal government for the present post office building.

Spearheaded Projects

As a member of the Chamber and the Village Board he successfully brought about the widening of Partition Street in the business area.

For some 20 years the Chamber had on its agenda as a "must" project, plans for a community bathing beach. The late Mr. Overbagh, along with Sauer, originally sponsored this project. Unfortunately, Overbagh did not live to see the project accomplished.

The opportunity presented itself in 1947 but no funds were available to secure the site of the present beach. In order to acquire the property, Sauer personally purchased, improved the grounds, built bathhouses and other facilities, and offered it to the village at a figure below the cost and improvements, $8,500. The next step was Village Board approval.

The first election in 1948 ended in a tie vote and it therefore became necessary for Sauer to retain and maintain the beach until another election in 1949. At that time the project was approved. However due to the scarcity of waterfront property in the area, the owner's appraised value was set at $12,000.

Village Now Owns Beach

Because of the board's action at that time, Saugerties has its own municipal bathing beach which is partially supported by state aid for recreation allottments.

Prominent in many youth activities, Sauer served as first president of Saugerties Lions Club Little League and was re-elected seven years to that post.

In other activities, he is a past president and charter member of Saugerties Lions Club; vice president of Saugerties Savings and Loan Association, he has been a director of the bank and board member since 1933; a member for 38 years of Kingston Lodge 550, BPO of Elks; Lamouree Hackett Post 72, American Legion; 78th Division, Veterans Association; 40 & 8 Grande Voiture 381; an exempt member of the former Mulford Engine (volunteer firemen's) Company, Glasco; Saugerties Exempt Firemen's Association; Saugerties Fish and Game Club; Ulster County, New York State and National Real Estate Boards Inc., and New York State and National Association of Insurance Agents, Inc.

Starts Own Business

He embarked in the real estate business in Saugerties in 1922, added insurance lines in 1929. His first office consisted of desk space in a small office then jointly occupied by John A. Snyder Insurance Agency and Saugerties Savings and Loan Association. Sauer has assisted in the development and was sole selling agent for the following Saugerties residential areas: Notch View Park, West Saugerties; Blue Mountain Heights; Oakledge Park, Treis Terrace and Knaust Development, all in the village.

A native Saugertiesian, he was born August 1, 1893 at the former Pleasant Valley Inn (PVI) at Sauer's Bridge, Route 9W, Glenerie and assisted in operating the hotel with his parents until early in 1918. He entered military service during World War I and served overseas with Machine Gun Company, 311th Infantry, 78th Division, known as the Lightning Division.

His education, described by himself as limited, consisted of Glasco Public School and Spencer's Business College where he graduated as an accountant.

He was married to the former Rose A. Treis, who died in September 1959. The Sauers had two daughters and a son, all married, and each union was blessed with one grandchild.

Son Joins Firm

His son, John F. Sauer, is now associated with him in the Sauer Agency on Main Street, opposite the post office.

Reservations for the testimonial may be made at the Chamber office in the Amrod Building, Partition Street, or by contacting Chairman Murphy.

High School Baseball Team Decisions Port Jervis, 5-2

WAS 1ST LO(E)S?—Billy Loes, a problem child since he first came around with the Brooklyn Dodgers 11 years ago, has suddenly become a star starting pitcher for the San Francisco Giants. He already has won as many games as he did with the same club throughout all last season.

Three 6th Frame RunsEarnMaroon 1st DUSO Victory

By ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

Combining a brilliant defense with the three hit pitching of Bob Dunn, Kingston High School pushed over three runs in the sixth inning to defeat Port Jervis, 5-2, in a rain threatened DUSO League game yesterday at Dietz Stadium.

In another loop test at Poughkeepsie, sophomore Billy Gray hurled the Middies to a 2-1 victory over Sam J. Kalloch's hard hitting team.

The standings now read like this:

Team	Won	Lost
Newburgh	4	0
Kingston	1	1
Poughkeepsie	1	2
Middletown	1	2
Port Jervis	1	3

Thursday's schedule:
Newburgh at Poughkeepsie
Middletown at Kingston

Except for the fourth inning, Dunn was a complete pitcher. His mates staked him to a two run lead in the second frame but the Porters rallied to knot the count in the fourth.

The Winning Rally

Then in the sixth, Ron Secreto walked to start the rally. A sacrifice by Eric Broberg sent Secreto to second and a double by Mike Ferraro scored the third sacker. Paul Natale also followed with a double and Ferraro touched home plate. Walks to Frank Allen and Vince Smedes loaded the bases and another run scored on an infield out.

Coach Al Gruner's club had tallied two runs in the second inning off Bruce Hinkley of the Porters when Natale walked, Celuch reached base on an error, the catcher threw into right field on an attempted pickoff play and then Smedes delivered a single to right.

Dunn breezed along until the fourth when Don Backus singled. With one out Tommy Coleman also rapped a safety. An infield out and a passed ball brought home the two runs.

The game was played in a drizzle from the second inning on but the defensive play on both sides was outstanding. Of course, the boys are used to playing in the rain by this time. There are sprinkles outside almost every day.

Dunn exhibited flawless control and he struck out seven. Hinkley walked and fanned a pair and was touched for six hits, two of them by Ferraro.

The box score:

Port Jervis (2)

Share 6 Points As Costello Is Blanked by Foe

With Buzzy Costello suffering a rare shutout defeat, Kingston High's varsity golf squad went to its second line strength Monday to edge a strong Port Jervis High team, 6½ to 5½, in a DUSO League match on the par-73 Port Jervis Country Club links.

Lauren Beaver and Robert Bechtold, the No. 3 and No. 4 players, respectively, in the Kingston lineup scored 3-0 shutouts to salvage the crucial victory.

Port Jervis hosts Newburgh Academy today and figures to beat the Goldbacks, who are at Twalfskill next Monday for a showdown with Kingston.

The team came within one stroke of carding four 78's, as Costello posted low gross, 40-37-77, four over par. Fred Woerner, the No. 1 Red and Black player, matched the card with 37-36-73 to blank Costello.

Two Cards of 78

In the No. 2 match, Richie Barthel of Kingston and Richi Lefferts of Port Jervis had identical cards of 42-36, but Lefferts came off a 2½ to ½ winner.

Beaver and Bechtold posted the same cards, 38-40-78, for their 3-0 victories.

Speedway Drivers Scan Forecast

INDIANAPOLI S(AP) — Drivers and car owners, only four days away from the start of qualifications for the 500-mile race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, pinned their hopes on a forecast of clearing weather today.

Practice time has been curtailed sharply because of frequent and heavy rain. It fell much of the time Monday, and water stood at the inner edges of the track.

The fastest qualifier Saturday will start the race May 30 in the pole position—the inside place in the front row. Qualifications are scheduled also for Sunday, May 20 and May 21.

Golembiewski Is Eliminated In the Masters

DETROIT (AP)—The American Bowling Congress Masters tournament set about the process of determining a new champion today with the 1960 defending titlist out of the running.

Defending champion Bill Golembiewski got his walking papers Monday night after losing two matches—one to his best friend and one to an unheralded stranger.

The spindly Detroit star was dumped in the first round by his teammate and buddy, Joe Joseph. Joseph cut loose with a 950 series, the second best-four-game set in the tournament, against Golembiewski's 800.

Roommates for several years, Joseph and Golembiewski have a pact whereby they split all tournament and television earnings.

Bill Gaume, a longshot from Canton, Ohio, was Golembiewski's final undoing. Gaume shot only 772 but Golembiewski got only 738.

Chief threats in the undefeated ranks, now down to eight include Don Carter, Ray Bluth, Bill Welu and Dick Hoover, all of St. Louis. Joseph and Joe Kristof of Chicago, Nick Longarzo of Lodi, N.J., and Stan Gifford of Abilene, Tex., are also untarnished.

The Masters ends Wednesday night.

Tryouts Set in Woodstock For New Area Ball Club

Area baseball players have been invited to a tryout for a Woodstock entry in the Catskill Mountain baseball league this summer.

The tryout will be held under the direction of Edward S. Witko Thursday at 6:30 p. m. at Andy Lee Memorial Field in Woodstock, where the home games will be played.

Witko said he felt there were enough players available to assemble a team of Catskill Mountain League calibre in the Woodstock-Onteora district area.

Toronto Leafs In Dismal Start

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Toronto's Maple Leafs could wind up the No. 1 disappointment in the International League this season if they continue their present baseball ways.

Exhibiting anything but the kind of ball that won them the championship in 1960, the Maple Leafs now have lost eight of their last nine games. They suffered their fifth straight licking last night being bombed 8-1 by San Juan's Marlins.

The loss left the Leafs staggering in seventh place. Richmond's Virginians, meanwhile, inched nearer the league-leading Columbus Jets by edging Syracuse 1-0 on Bill Bethel's three-hitter.

Jersey City's tilt at Columbus was rained out. Rochester and Buffalo were not scheduled.

Despite Bethel's fine performance, Richmond needed an unearned run to best the Chiefs. Bethel faced only 16 batters until Willie Miranda got the first hit off the Virginian right-hander with one out in the sixth. He walked three and struck out five.

Richmond, now trailing Columbus by only half a game, scored the game's only tally in the second. Don Lock reached base on an error and scored after singles by George Risley and Ritchie Windle.

EasternLoopRace 2-Team Affair

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Eastern League race right now appears to be shaping up into a two-way battle between Springfield and Binghamton.

Binghamton moved to within half game of first-place Springfield Monday night by defeating Williamsport, 10-7 behind an 11-hit attack in the rain-curtailed contest. The Giants, meanwhile, were rained out at Reading.

In the only other activity, Lancaster snapped its three - game losing streak with a 5-4 victory over Johnstown in the opener of a double - header. But Johnstown bounced back to take the nightcap 7-5.

Binghamton, sparked by Horace Clarke, Rich Barry and Charley Keller, scored 10 runs in the first four innings, then hung on for the victory. Clarke collected four hit including a triple. Barry homered and Keller belted a triple and a single. Williamsport had score two runs in the top of the ninth and had two men on with none out when rain ended the game.

Surprise

CUYAHOGA FALLS, Ohio — (NEA)—A workout scheduled for Unmarked, a three-year-old filly, at Ascot Park had to be postponed. Jim Thornburg, the filly's owner, arrived at the track early and looked in on Unmarked. He saw an object on the straw beside her. It turned out to be a colt foal. "I bought Unmarked last July and ran her several times at Sunshine Park," said Thornburg, who had no idea the filly was in foal. Thornburg is trying to trace the breeding of the foal, possibly pasture-bred.

Jaycee Eagles Top Crows, 5-3

A two inning barrage by the Eagles proved enough to defeat the Crows, 5-3, on a rain soaked Jaycee Little League field last night.

The Eagles held a 2-0 margin until the bottom of the third when the Crows bounced back with three markers, sparked by Dave Stewart's second hit of the game.

Not to be outdone, the Eagles exploded with three of their own in the fourth with a John Denter double being the big blow. When the Eagles came to bat in the fifth inning, they scored four runs but then the tilt was halted because of darkness.

Steve Guzewich went the distance for the winners, fanning seven and issuing three passes. Mike Hawkins had two singles for the Eagles.

Tonight's tilt lists the Owls (0-1) against the Wrens (0-1).

The line score:

Crows	0 0 3 0 —3 4

Auburn, Erie Get NYP Victories

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three-run homers in the eighth inning can pull a game out of the fire quickly, but they didn't do the job for Jamestown and Elmira Monday night.

Jamestown's Jim Rooker sent one over the wall with two men aboard at Auburn last night, but that was all the Tigers got out of their eighth inning as the Yanks hung on for a 10-9 victory.

The victory sent Auburn into third place and dropped Jamestown to fourth.

Bill Tomaselli's three-run job pulled Elmira to a 4-4 tie with Erie but the Sailors scored the clincher in the ninth on Sonny Pittaro's double and Len Vento's single for a 5-4 triumph.

At Wellsville, the Braves got a two-run double from pitcher Haze McIntyre in a 4-3 conquest of Batavia in a rain-shortened game. The victory was McIntyre's first of the year.

Geneva at Olean was rained out.

Sophomore Star Joins Stith In Sick Bed

OLEAN, N.Y. (AP)—Sophomore basketball star Freddie Crawford, 20, who was counted on to fill All-America Tom Stith's shoes at St. Bonaventure next season, will join Stith instead in a tuberculosis sanatorium.

Crawford's physician said Monday night the high-scoring forward has the disease in both lungs.

Word of Crawford's illness came a week after it was discovered that Stitch, the nation's third-ranked collegiate scorer last season, had tuberculosis in one lung. The two roomed together at St. Bonaventure.

The news was a double blow to the little school's chances of regaining its third spot in the national rankings next season. St. Bonaventure Coach Eddie Donovan left to coach the New York Knickerbockers of the National Basketball Association Monday.

Crawford, one of the top sophomores in the nation last season, scored 614 points and pulled down 281 rebounds. He averaged almost 22 points a game, second only on the squad to Stith, who averaged more than 29.

Crawford's physician said he would be transferred to Mt. Morris Sanatorium near Rochester late this week from St. Francis Hospital. Stith has been in the sanatorium since Friday.

"We have strong hopes that Freddie will be able to return to school in September but basketball is out for this coming season," the doctor said. "I think he has a good chance a year from now."

The doctor said Crawford probably would be hospitalized about three or four months.

Stith's physicians say the earliest he could return to the game would be a year from this fall.

Jensen Returns With HR, Single But Bosox Bow

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Jackie Jensen has been retired twice now, and at least three Los Angeles pitchers would like to know how he did it.

They couldn't even retire him once Monday night, when the 34-year-old outfielder rejoined the Boston Red Sox and gave a dramatic demonstration of why they missed him.

The Angels beat the Red Sox 6-5, but it wasn't Jensen's fault. He walked his first two times up —scoring a run the second time —and hit his first homer of the season when he came up again in the seventh. He got a single in the next inning. Jensen also made a spectacular play on defense, sprinting to the right-field fence in the fifth to grab a line drive by Albie Pearson.

"Too bad the club couldn't win," Jackie said, "but it felt good just to be back in there playing again."

Asked about his fine catch, Jensen said: "Oh, I make 'em all look like that—hard."

Jensen, who walked out on the Red Sox last week without telling anyone, wouldn't discuss his decision to return. Instead, he had a mimeographed statement distributed to reporters.

"I made a very hasty decision last week when I left the club in Cleveland," the statement said, "and, as Ive already told (manager) Mike Higgins. . . ., I regret not only that decision but also the manner in which I left the team."

Donovan New Knick Mentor

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Eddie Donovan, a highly successful college coach at St. Bonaventure, will try to make the big jump into professional basketball next season with the New York Knickerbockers.

Coaching the Knicks has become a thankless job in recent years as the teams fortunes drooped. The last victim to get the axe was Carl Braun, former star player, who was given his release Monday to make way for Donovan.

"I am tickled to death to have him (Donovan)," said Ned Irish, president of Madison Square Garden which operates the Knicks in the National Basketball Association. "I don't think I could be happier with any other coach. I never thought we could get him away from his paradise in Olean (the upstate New York city where St. Bonaventure is located.)

"We had to make a change. We couldn't start next year with a 21-58 record. I don't think there is a better coach in the United States than Eddie. We made a mistake to stick with our old team too long. Now we are paying for it."

Donovan said his contract at St. Bonaventure runs out this year. He led the Bonnies to the No. 3 position in college basketball this year with a 24-4 record.

No Savvy

COLUMBUS, Ohio (NEA) — Woody Hayes, Ohio State football coach, talking with Danny Murtaugh at John Galbreath's party on Darby Dan Farm, asked, "How to you fight complacency?"

"If I knew what complacency meant," replied the smiling Irish manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, "maybe I'd know how to fight it."

Rinaldi Is 12-5 Underdog in Bout With Moore

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Italy's Giulio Rinaldi is confident he will beat Archie Moore again but the betting today is 12-5 in favor of the aging light heavyweight champion.

There's still a month and a day before the two clash at Madison Square Garden June 10 and the odds can switch considerably before then. It will depend on how the swarthy, thick-necked Italian champion looks in his workouts and how old Archie fares in his perennial battle with the scales.

Archie hasn't been forced to make the 175 pound limit since Aug. 12, 1959, when he flattened Yvon Durelle in the third round of their second title fight. The ancient gladiator scaled 201 in Manila last March 25 when he outpointed Buddy Turman.

Moore weighed 190¼ to Rinaldi's 181¼ in Rome last Oct. 29 when the Italian upset Archie in a non-title 10-rounder that earned him the title shot.

That loss—Moore's first to a light heavyweight in 9½ years—is one of the reasons for handsome Giulio's confidence in the return. Another is age—26 to 44.

Talking to newsmen after his arrival from Italy Monday, he explained that he didn't do well against Archie in the early rounds "because I had so much respect for him and I was too timid."

"But I went after him good in the eighth, ninth and tenth rounds," he said in Italian as an interpreter translated.

Moore is recognized as world champion in New York, Massachusetts and Europe. Harold Johnson of Philadelphia is hailed as champion by the NBA.

Gary Player Adds $600 to His Total

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP) — Gary Player, the Master's champion from South Africa, added $600 to his lead this week in the race for golf's leading money winning honors of 1961.

The 26-year-old Player, winner of three of the 16 tournaments in which he has competed, has won $47,796 this year, according to figures released from PGA headquarters. That puts him $9,411 ahead of the runnerup, Arnold Palmer of Ligonier, Pa., the top money winner in 1960.

Palmer has four victories in 14 tournaments. Both he and Player have finished among the top five entries in eight events.

New Blood and Kaline Make Once Tame Tigers Ferocious

BY HARRY GRAYSON
Newspaper Enterprise
Sports Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA) — At Lakeland in mid-March, Robert Boden Scheffing remarked that the only thing extraordinary about the Detroit camp to date was the Florida weather.

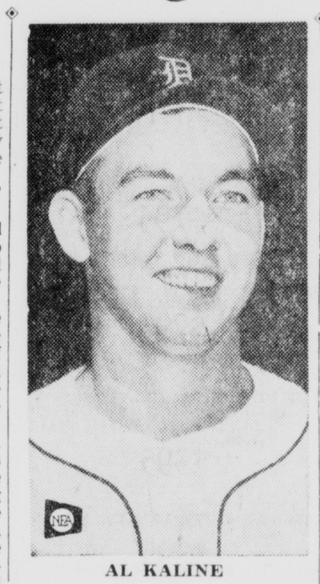
Bob Scheffing is the Tigers' eighth manager in nine years.

"A dozen jobs are open," said the old minor league catcher who managed the Cubs. "Like all managers, All I need is some good ballplayers."

Scheffing found them to make Tiger Stadium the home of the winningest major league club of the spring. New blood and Al Kaline's bat put teeth in the Tigers and sent them on the prowl early.

"Norm Cash has surprised a lot of people, but not me," says the personable Scheffing. "The more I saw of Cash this spring the better I liked him. When the newsreel people came along, they took shots of all the name players—Kaline, Bruton, Colavito, Maxwell, Lary, Bunning and Mossi.

"They paid not the slightest attention to Cash until I warned them that he might wind up as the American League batting champion. I wasn't fooling them and I'm not kidding now that Cash is batting .342 and fighting for the lead in runs-batted-in. Left-handed all the way, he is an excellent first baseman with a batting stroke that could take him all the way."



AL KALINE

Billy Bruton came from Milwaukee to stabilize the Detroit outfield. This switched Kaline from center field to right, where he prefers to play. Kaline is the type of hitter who could carry a well-balanced club. A notorious late starter, the Baltimore bonus baby obtained a running start at the plate which is perhaps the brightest note in the Detroit jukebox.

With Bruton in the swap for Frank Bolling came Dick Brown, Terry Fox and Chuck Cottier.

Scheffing and Phil Cavarretta, brought on from Buffalo as a coach, did a reclamation job on Brown, noted as a skillful receiver since his schoolboy days with Herb Score in Lake Worth. Scheffing and Cavarretta got Brown, a confirmed right-hand pull hitter, to wait and hit the ball to center and right field as well.

In the end, however, it was the new guys who gave the Tigers the poise which threatens to make them contenders all the way along the route. Two infield spots had to be filled. The pennant-winning Denver subsidiary filled both orders. Jake Wood, an Ernie Banks type, beat out Cottier at second base, and Steve Boros, the American Association's most valuable player, took over at third.

Fox augmented a bull pen that has been outstanding, the other members being Hank Aguirre, Phil Regan, Jim Donahue and Joe Grzenda.

There may have been lame-armed and lame-backed pitchers and question marks behind Frank Lary and Jim Bunning at the outset, but no longer. Don Mossi and Paul Foytack bounced back like election repeaters. Despite some arm difficulty, Bob Bruce is giving Foytack a scrap for the fourth pitching turn.

If Jake Wood and Steve Boros stand up, the Tigers could be team eaters until fall.

Farrell Gets Win For LA Club

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Right-hander Dick Farrell, paying a quick return for Los Angeles after last week's trade with Philadelphia, beat his old mates with four innings of four-hit, shutout relief Monday night as the Dodgers beat the Phils 4-3 in 10 innings. The only other National League game scheduled, San Francisco-Pittsburgh, was rained out.

The Dodgers were shut out on four hits by Dallas Green for six innings, then tied it 3-all with two out in the seventh on a scoring single by Maury Wills and a two-run homer by Willie Davis. They finally put it away when losing reliever Chris Short (0-1) walked Wally Moon with two out in the 10th and Gil Hodges rapped a pinch double.

Farrell took over after starter Stan Williams was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the seventh. He walked two, struck out four and nailed the victory by throwing out Tony Taylor with two men on base in the 10th after two-out singles by pinch-hitters Clay Dalrymple and Tony Curry.

The Angels, after trading top bullpen man Tex Clevenger to the New York Yankees in a six-player swap, barely saved their victory over the Red Sox with a two-man relief job by Ted Bowsfield and Tom Morgan. Bowsfield followed starter Ken McBride, who was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the fifth inning, and was tagged for Jensen's first home run by pinch-hitter Carroll Hardy for the final run, but then retired seven of the last eight men he faced.

McBride (2-2) was the winner, giving up three runs in the fifth—one unearned on center fielder Albie Pearson's second error of the frame—after the Angels had built a 5-0 lead against loser Gene Conley.

Jensen who jumped the Red Sox a week ago, walked twice and singled in addition to his home run. He is now 8-for-48, for a .167 average, and has driven in two runs.

The Angels' trade with New York sent Bob Cerv, a $75,000 pick from the player pool in the AL's expansion move, back to the Yankees along with Clevenger for reliever Ryne Duren, right-hander Johnny James, rookie outfielder Leroy Thomas and a minor league outfielder to be named.

Name New Club New York Mets

NEW YORK (AP) — The new National League team that will play in New York in 1962 still hasn't got a ball player but it finally has a name—the Mets.

Mrs. Charles Shipman Payson, principal stockholder in the club, christened the new team Monday after sifting through 644 names and 9,613 suggestions.

One fellow suggested "Apple Throwers," and another the "Buffalo Chasers." There were "Astronauts," "Hatchetmen," "Spacemen", "Skyscrapers", "Continentals" and everything from "Able" to "Zorro."

As the newspapers had been calling the team the Mets for many weeks, the official christening actually merely followed the trend.

The club announced a contest with a $1,000 prize for the best team emblem.

Clevenger Was the Pitcher Yankees Wanted, Says Houk

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The New York Yankees, who open a two-game series here tonight, have been bolstered in two departments by a trade with the Los Angeles Angels. It was a deal in which the Angels gambled on Ryne Duren and "youth."

The Bronx bombers, hard up for late-inning relief pitching and right-handed pinch hitting, got Truman Clevenger and slugger Bob Cerv. In return they gave the Angels Duren, a hard-throwing but often erratic relief pitcher; pitcher Johnny James; outfielder Leroy Thomas; and an unnamed outfielder.

"We wanted Clevenger," said Yankee Manager Ralph Houk, "to be a finisher on our relief staff. (Luis) Arroyo has been doing all of the late-inning work and we needed someone to help him."

Clevenger, a 28-year-old right-hander, has pitched superbly in relief for the Angels, appearing in 12 games and permitting an average of less than two earned runs. He has a 2-1 record.

Duren, 31, one of the hardest throwing pitchers in the majors, was the Yankees' ace reliever in 1958 and 1959, when he posted ERA's of 2.01 and 1.87. He's been ineffective this year, but, said Angels Gen. Mgr. Fred Haney in Los Angeles:

See Duren Helping

"I think Duren will be a better pitcher for us over the long haul than Clevenger. I didn't want to peddle Clevenger and tried two or three other guys in there, but I couldn't make a deal that way. I'll be panned on this deal, but I don't give a damn who wins the pennant this year if we can't."

The youngsters in the deal are Thomas, 25, James, 28, and maybe the unnamed outfielder.

Thomas, who bats left handed and throws right, hit .246 for Richmond of the International League last season. In two times at bat for the Yankees this season he had one hit.

James, a right-hander, posted a 4.40 ERA with New York last year, winning five games and losing one. He also won three and lost two for Richmond.

This will be the veteran Cerv's third stretch with the Yankees, interspersed by tours with Kansas City and the Angels. He had his best season in 1958, when he hit .305 for Kansas City. He appeared in 18 games for Los Angeles, but was hitting only about .200.

Bloomington Vols Report Apparatus Fund Over $1,200

The fire apparatus fund established by Bloomington Fire Company in a long-range program to raise $6,500 for a down payment to purchase a new pumper truck is now over $1,200, according to Chief Oscar Hahn.

The Bloomington volunteers initiated a campaign this month to raise the down payment for the new pumper which will replace a 27-year-old pumper now in service.

The fund has accumulated from the proceeds of special projects such as car washes, dinners and other activities. The fire company is planning many summer activities to increase the fund, Chief Hahn said.

A new pumper truck is expected to cost in excess of $20,000. Chief Hahn said, "We do not expect to raise this kind of money over night, but with the support of the public and the cooperation of the fire company members, we expect to reach the goal in the near future."

Kennedy Ready to Act On Missile Slowdowns

MURRAY WEISS

Speaker at the Anna Devine School in Rifton on May 10 at 8 p. m. will be Murray Weiss, of 47 Browning Terrace, school psychologist in the Kingston City Schools (Consolidated.) His topic will be The Functions of Psychological Services in the Kingston Schools. A question and answer period will follow.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy was reported today planning to deal soon with labor troubles that allegedly have thrown space flight and missile programs six months behind schedule.

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Investigations subcommittee, told reporters he understands the administration is giving immediate consideration to issuing an executive order dealing with strikes, slowdowns and work stoppages at space flight, missile and rocket bases.

"I can't say what the order will contain," McClellan told newsmen after discussing it with Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg.

He indicated the order might set up a new board armed with mediation and other powers to try to eliminate slowdowns and stoppages at bases. He said such a board could go into action long before Congress could enact new laws to deal with the situation.

Other sources said the administration definitely has decided to take action which would involve seeking a no-strike pledge from unions at missile bases and establishment of some sort of machinery to resolve any disputes that might arise.

The building trades unions adopted a modified no-strike policy last February. This involved a ban on strikes by union locals until they had resolved all settlement possibilities and obtained strike sanction from their national union headquarters.

McClellan's committee has received testimony, however, about missile installation strikes in the Denver area since adoption of the no-strike pledge.

Jackie Draws Crowds

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—President Kennedy's wife visited Wilmington Monday and a crowd of about 200—mostly women and children—were on hand at the airport to greet her.

When the Kennedy plane touched down at New Castle, many persons in the crowd shouted, "Jackie!" She responded with smiles and waves of the hand.

Mrs. Kennedy spent the afternoon sightseeing at the famed Winterthour Museum. She and her party had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Francis du Pont. Du Pont is the founder of the museum which features fine furnishings of the 16th, 17th, 18th, and early 19th centuries.

Monkeys Pine for Human Face

Bronx Zoo Is Sad, Lonely Place as Strike Continues

NEW YORK (AP) — The monkeys are morose. There's nobody to make faces at.

The elephants trumpet loudly for peanuts. But no one hears.

The Bronx Zoo is a sad and lonely place.

And the critters can't understand why they haven't had any visitors in more than a month and why the chow is so monotonous.

There's plenty of good, plain food served by a skeleton staff of keepers that a union left on duty when a strike closed the zoo and the aquarium at Coney Island.

But it's nothing like the peanuts, popcorn and other choice tidbits that children of all ages used to toss to the chimps, elephants, hippopotamuses, Ostriches, squirrels and their cage mates.

Their chattering, bellowing and squawking for attention these unhappy spring days is all in minor key.

One keeper took his charges' plight so much to heart that he asked the curators and their aides to "please walk through the monkey house on your way to lunch." He said the monkeys were pining to "see a human face."

The squirrels—usually surfeited with peanuts from visitors—have taken to panhandling. Zoo controller Herbert Schiemann said one of them ran up his arm outside the cafeteria and stole a biscuit out of his fingers.

Two wild Australian dogs have been released from the Kangaroo house and allowed to run after the keepers. The giant tortoises are free to lumber around in the reptile house—safe from children and adults, too.

The strike at the zoo and aquarium was called by a union seeking recognition as bargaining agent. Both institutions are run for the city by the New York Zoological Society.

Lefkowitz Says Bar Pivotal in Role of Leader

OSWEGO, N. Y. (AP) — Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz said today that "action programs must be evolved to tear away the apathy which has permitted a breakdown in the moral fiber of our generation."

"Members of the bar," he added, "must play a pivotal role of leadership in community undertakings to this end."

Lefkowitz made the statements in a speech prepared for a meeting of the Oswego County Bar Association.

"As members of the bar," said the state's chief legal officer, "we must bear the primary responsibility of improving respect for law and order through citizenship education in an understanding of the law and its purposes.

"It is through our local organized bar groups that we can best and most effectively perform this important public service. . ."

Solemn Event, Not Show, Says Sills; Meeting Is Held

Memorial Day parade plans, as originally made are to remain for this year, it was decided at a meeting of the Kingston Veterans Association and a special Common Council committee Monday night, but the latter emphasized the need for timely discussion of plans by both groups in the future to avoid misunderstanding.

Aldermen, mainly those from downtown wards, have been critical of KVA plans which starts the parade at Academy Green and ends it at Broadway and Delaware Avenue.

Aldermen Want Say

This route, some aldermen have held, is not fair to downtown residents, but the KVA indicated important consideration must also be given those who participate in the parade, and to the purpose for which it is held.

Aldermen have felt that the Common Council is responsible in authorizing a city fund of $2,000 for the parade, and it should have something to do with arrangements. The KVA claimed misunderstanding on this point, and in a statement released through Joseph E. Sills, its publicity chairman, emphasized:

Solemn Event, Not Show

"This parade is a solemn event to the veterans for it is to honor those who gave their lives so that we may live in a free world. It is not meant to be a circus, a road show, or a gala event.

"Let us think of those who fought and died for us, and then think of what the Memorial Day Parade really stands for."

Alderman Donald M. Hastings (D) Third Ward, chairman of the Common Council committee, in another statement made after the meeting, which was held at the VFW building, Delaware Avenue, said it was not the purpose of the committee to dictate parade routes, but "rather to help plan these activities, and to place at the disposal of these veterans' groups any reasonable facilities, which are had by the City of Kingston, and which would help make these parades a success in the purpose for which they are intended."

Concerned About

However, he said, "since the city makes available through its yearly budget an allowance of some $2,000, we feel that while spending this money of the taxpayers . . . there is an obligation on our part to make sure that it is being spent according to the taxpayers' wishes, and their best interests."

In the past few years, Hastings said, the committee, which was named some time ago by Alderman-at-Large Harold L. Kaye, on recommendation of Mayor Edwin F. Radel, "has not been informed" of KVA plans "until they had been adopted by the council." The committee hoped, he said, that "steps will be taken in the future, to avoid this last-minute confusion by inviting the parade committee of the council to aid in formulation of this yearly parade."

If this is accomplished, the statement said, differences can be settled "long before the parade date, and will certainly alleviate the loss of tempers over a community project in which we propose to honor our deceased veterans."

No Prejudice

The KVA statement emphasized: "There must be one important point understood by all citizens of Kingston. The KVA is not prejudiced towards any one area of our city. Although there have been comments to that effect, they are entirely untrue." The KVA emphasized that since the Memorial Day plans are its responsibility, the parade route to be accepted, should be

Failures Will Mark Orbit Effort: Webb

WASHINGTON (AP) — The shouting is over and the nation's homage is his, but astronaut Alan B. Shepard Jr., isn't resting on his space laurels.

Shepard, America's first man in space, promised "we plan to press ahead with the best possible speed."

Scheduled This Year

The orbit flight is scheduled for sometime this year. But space agency chief James E. Webb cautioned: "If we are to have our spectacular successes—with even larger and ever more complex rockets, the early test flights unmanned of course, will involve some spectacular failures."

But the applause and accolades Monday were for a "spectacular success"—Navy Cmdr. Shepard's 115-mile voyage into space.

It was a day of pride and sentiment, tribute and humor for the calm man who—as one of his superiors put it—"really broke the ice for all of us."

He was decorated by the President, lauded by Congress, cheered by thousands as he was driven through the capital and—probably as important as any of the honors to him—was kissed by his family.

Gives Capsule View of Ride

Also, in a nationally televised news conference, he gave a capsule view of his ride through space.

Last Friday morning, Shepard sat for more than four hours in the loneliness of his capsule before the rocket blasted off from Cape Canaveral for his 15-minute flight to glory.

Flanked on the news conference platform by his fellow astronauts and the leaders of the nation's space program, Shepard told his story with composure and wit.

As he unfolded the details of his flight in response to questions, Shepard repeatedly drew applause from newsmen—an unusual tribute.

The applause was not so much for the events of the flight, which he showed a tendency to underdramatize, for his forthright way of handling queries. When he was asked if after he was picked to make the first ride into space he wished he was "in something else other than Project Mercury," Shepard replied: "That is the easiest question I have heard today. No."

Newsmen warmed to his repeated references to what "we" had done—that is, his six fellow astronauts and the hundreds of scientists and other workers who contributed to the man-in-space program.

About the only thing he declined to comment on was whether he found "any discrepancies" in what the Soviet Union's spaceman Major Yuri Gagarin reported he saw in his orbit around the earth.

Shepard said the American as-

Hendrickson Gets Up to 5 Years For Back Burglary

Robert Hendrickson, 27, of 167 Flatbush Avenue, who was found guilty of entering the J. B. Back Company cigar factory on Wilbur Avenue last December 7, was sentenced to a 2½ to 5 year term in Clinton State Prison Monday afternoon by Acting County Judge Francis X. Tucker.

Hendrikson was picked up by Kingston police after fingerprints were detected on paper found at the factory and which experts testified compared with those of Hendrickson.

Fails to Open Safe

Police arrived at the factory during the time the burglary was being committed, found a door open and a bar and screwdriver in the office which had apparently been left by the burglar. An attempt to open the safe had failed when the burglar, or burglars apparently left in haste on arrival of the police patrol car.

In addition to the charge on which Hendrickson was sentenced Monday, third degree burglary and unlawful entry, there are two other indictments pending against him, one involves an alleged entrance to the William Schmarshal premises at Barclay Heights in which Bernard Ferraro is jointly indicted, and a burglary charge involving an alleged entrance to the New Paltz Grand Union market, in which Moses Harrel is also indicted.

Hendrickson was represented by Thomas Saccoman.

An indictment returned back in 1958 charging Joseph Kiernan with abandonment was dismissed on motion of Seymour Werbalowsky, attorney, and on consent of District Attorney David W. Corwin. District Attorney Corwin stated that support had been made and the ac-

Judge, His Firm Are Indicted for AEC Overcharge

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — The Westlake Manufacturing Corp., and the Madison County judge who owns it were under federal indictment today on charges of bilking the Atomic Energy Commission.

A federal grand jury indicted the firm and Judge Clarence E. Conley Monday on 64 counts of fraudulently listing the number of hours employes worked on the Knolls Atomic Power Laboratory near Schenectady.

Westlake of Canastota, was a sub-contractor to General Electric Co. from October 1951 to mid-1960.

The government contends the Westlake firm sought payment for 8,137 hours its employes did not work. Government officials would not give the amount of money involved.

Outlook Confused On Parley

Rebels Refuse To Deal With the ICC About Cease-Fire

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Rebel officials refused to deal with members of the International Control Commission for Laos at an initial meeting at Hin Heup today, a Laotian military authority said. This further confused the outlook for the 14-nation conference on Laos due to open in Geneva Friday.

"The other side (the rebels) said they could not recognize the ICC," said Lt. Col. Udon Sananikone, spokesman of the royal government's military delegation to the cease-fire talks. "They said they had no instructions."

Indian, Canadian and Polish military officers of the three-nation commission, which is seeking to certify the cease-fire proclaimed last Wednesday, declined comment on their return by helicopter from Hin Heup, the negotiating site 55 miles north of Vientiane. They said they would make their report to the commission's Indian chairman, Samar Sen.

The possibility that the Geneva conference might be postponed was raised by rebel objections to the arrival of the truce commission Monday. The United States, Britain and France have said they will not take part in the conference until the commission guarantees the armistice is in effect.

Sananikone said representatives of the Communist Pathet Lao and neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma even refused a letter from the ICC group in Vientiane to its ICC counterpart in rebel-held Xieng Khouang.

The colonel said the government requested another meeting for Wednesday and expected an answer later.

The initial refusal to Pathet Lao-neutralist group to deal with ICC was not seen as a crisis. But it did add further delay and confusion to the situation that continues to fluctuate under the touchy de facto cease-fire.

Although no major battles have been reported to indicate any all-out rebel offensive, there have been serious incidents.

Storm Deaths Total 33, Rain Belt Moving East

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Damaging thunderstorms which for four days have drenched broad areas of the mid-continent, causing widespread flooding, tapered off in most sections today.

As the wet belt moved eastward floods in the Missouri, Mississippi and Ohio River basins posed a major problem.

The overflows from rain-fed rivers and streams in at least eight states left hundreds homeless, spilled over scores of major highways and secondary roads and across thousands of acres of farm lands. Rainfall in some parts of the spring storm belt since last Friday was more than a foot.

The floods, which have caused at least nine deaths, menaced areas in Ohio, Kentucky, Illinois, Missouri, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Indiana and Kansas.

The storm-related deaths totaled 33. The weekend storms and floods have caused millions of dollars damage to property and crops.

Most severe weather Monday and during the night was in a belt from eastern Ohio to western Tennessee. A tornado that struck near Memphis injured five persons and demolished or damaged several homes. Two twisters in eastern Ohio caused heavy property damage, but no injuries were reported.

Workers piled sandbags on soft levees along the surging rivers and streams. Volunteers and National Guardsmen helped in the sandbagging operations in some of the flood-stricken sections in southern Illinois. The overflows were reported from East St. Louis on the Mississippi across Illinois to the Wabash River on the Indiana border.

Thunderstorms and showers were reported across the eastern third of the country. Heavy rainfall and damaging winds pounded some areas from the Great Lakes region southward to the Gulf and eastward into the Atlantic Coast states. Gusty winds and heavy rain hit Laurel, Miss.

The belt of thunderstorms and showers covered the southeast part of the middle Mississippi Valley, the Ohio Valley, parts of the Tennessee Valley, the central Gulf coast states and from Pennsylvania northward through New England.

New Congo Is Feared In Angola

Unwise to Resist Africa's Wind of Change: Norway

OSLO, Norway (AP)—Some of Portugal's allies urged her today to revise her African colonial policy, one of the issues cracking unity of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

NATO ministers, meeting in closed session, revealed their concern at the bloodshed in Angola, a Portuguese territory that could become another Congo.

Advice Carefully Phrased

Portuguese Foreign Minister Franco Noguera was told that his country could not expect to have the other NATO powers blindly support Portuguese actions in Africa in the United Nations.

Portugal has been particularly bitter at the United States for supporting U.N. resolutions urging reforms in Portuguese policy in Angola.

The advice which Noguera received was carefully phrased.

This, however, was the underlying theme: Most of the members of the 15-nation alliance—including Britain and France—recognize that the old colonial days are gone. They believe the wise thing to do now is to come to terms with African nationalism so that emerging native peoples will stay with the Western world.

Norwegian Foreign Minister Halvard Lange advised the Portugese that it was unwise to resist what Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan has called "the wind of change sweeping over Africa."

Rusk Backs Philosophy

The underlying philosophy of Lange's statement was supported by U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Rusk said it was in NATO's best interest to keep seeking the friendship of Asian and African states.

A similar generalized approach was offered by France's Foreign Minister, Maurice Couve de Murville and Lord Home of Britain.

Rusk said the United States, Britain, France and West Germany will submit to the permanent NATO council their latest plans to meet any trouble in Berlin.

Such an approach is in line with the Kennedy administration's policy for the fullest possible consultation within NATO.

Wharton Challenge: 'Show Me Industry'

Congressman J. Ernest Wharton (R), 29th Congressional District, who was among those who opposed the administration's Depressed Areas Bill, has replied to Democratic State Chairman Prendergast's criticism of those who opposed the legislation with a challenge to show where a single industry will be brought to the district under the legislation.

In a statement issued by Congressman Wharton following criticism of those who opposed the administration's "pork barrel" legislation, he challenges Prendergast "to show me a single industry or even one industrial job that will be brought to the 29th Congressional District under the Depressed Areas Bill."

"Representatives from no less than 193 other congressional districts, all with varying degrees of unemployment and representing all sections of the country apparently felt the same way in opposing this 'pork barrel' legislation" Congressman Wharton states.

Refers to Appointments

"Incidentally, I am sure the public would also be interested if he would include the number of political appointments that his administration carves out of the $394 Million authorized from the taxpayers of the country under this legislation. This means approximately $10 in additional taxes for each and every family in our district and they are entitled at least to know where their money goes."

"While shedding his partison crocodile tears Prendergast might as well give a little thought to the average taxpayer, who has more tax increases staring him in the face under the New Frontier Proposals." Congressman Wharton concluded.

More Hope Seen Today To End Costly Strike

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—An air of hope accompaned the resumption today of negotiations toward settlement of a week-old strike that has idled about 10,000 men and hobbled work on Upstate building projects costing an estimated $40 million.

Leaders of the striking engineers and management both expressed optimism last week after work had been halted on projects in Eastern New York counties extending from Greene and Columbia counties to the north country.

Local 106 of the International Union of Operating Engineers struck last Monday for a wage increase of 50 cents an hour and a reduction in the work week, a union spokesman said. Later, however, the union announced it had cut wage demand to 40 cents and dropped the demand for a reduction in the work week, which now is 40 hours.

The Eastern New York Construction Employers Association, representing management, said last week it had offered a pay boost of 15 cents an hour. A spokesman said the current scale was $3.24½ to $4.28½ an hour.

The union said 300-400 of its 2,000 members were striking. Other construction workers respected picket lines, and halted work on an estimated $30 million in projects. Last Wednesday, management shut down other projects costing about $10 million.

Former President Eisenhower to Argue Public Questions, Keep Up Active Role

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower served notice today that as a private citizen he will "discuss and argue" public questions as long as he has the strength and opportunity.

He announced his intention in an article in the Saturday Evening Post—the first he has written since leaving the White House Jan. 20.

He also disclosed that he was not sure he would not have sought a third term—if the Constitution had permitted and if he could have foreseen the Republican defeat in the presidential election.

Eisenhower said his decision to continue to play an active role in public affairs was reached as he and his wife were driving from Washington to their Gettysburg, Pa., farm after President Kennedy's inauguration.

"Suddenly, it seemed to me, this new life of mine promised a new kind of personal adventure," he wrote.

He said he long had believed the long-term health and vigor of the nation's free government depended on the level of each citizen's interest in America's basic problems "and his readiness to discuss and argue with his fellows."

And, he continued "I then and there determined to be a participant in such discussions and arguments as long as I might retain the strength and find the opportunity to do so."

Telling of the sights as well as his thoughts on the countryside journey, he said his wife and he were given a heart-warming welcome by students and nuns of St. Joseph College near Emmitsburg, Md.

"And so we approached the farm," he resumed. "But I was still thinking, what next? What, if anything, can I do to stir up the public interest in important public issues?

"Before we arrived at our front door I reached one simple conclusion:

"There is little reason for me or anyone else to think and talk of or to live in the past, smugly hugging to himself memories of successes or futilely bewailing setbacks.

"The task is to use the past and its experiences to help us peer more clearly into the future and to do our best to make it better.

Would Use Experience

"This, in my own way, I shall try to do . . . I think it will be fun; I hope it will be useful."

Eisenhower left no doubt he was upset at the defeat of Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the presidency and that this conceivably could have changed his

Three Deputies Are Attending Police Courses

Three members of Ulster County Sheriff Claude Bell's staff are attending the two week training course being held at Ramapo under sponsorship of the New York State Municipal Police Training Council. The school is being conducted from May 8 through May 19. Attending the school are Deputy Sheriffs John Daley, George Reitmeir and John Tuey.

Under recent legislation it become mandatory for new men before being appointed to positions in the sheriff's office to take the training course. All three men who are attending the present class have served under Sheriff Bell but have been assigned to the school to receive instruction in the latest techniques.

All Phases Covered

Included in the police training will be firearm instruction, lectures by chiefs of police, FBI agents, district attorneys, traffic experts, state police officials, and emergency aid experts designed to acquaint the officers in attendance with all areas of law enforcement.

Court proceedures, gathering of evidence, traffic regulations and general police work will be discussed in lectures by various officials, including FBI agents.

Instruction in firearms will be conducted at the rifle range at Camp Smith, Peekskill, under FBI supervision.

While the older members of Sheriff Bell's staff will not be required to attend the school of instruction, all new men appointed in the future will be required by the new law to take the course of instruction. Several of the present staff have attended and graduated from the police schools which have been held locally for some time.

Ulster Is Among Counties With Backlog in Court

Ulster County, with a backlog of 725 civil cases on the present Supreme Court calendar, is one of four area counties which have been cited in the statistical report of the Judicial Conference of the State of New York in its report covering a period from July 1, 1960 through March 1961, where delay is reported in hearing Supreme Court cases.

Up until the past January when two parts were held with Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth presiding for Part I and Justice Louis G. Bruhn presiding at Part II, only one justice had been assigned to Ulster County in an endeavor to reduce the growing calendar.

At the present term Justice Kenneth S. McAffer has been assigned to preside, although it is possible a second justice will later be assigned to assist at the May term.

The Judicial Conference of the State of New York noted in its report that there were "663 cases pending in Ulster County, an increase over last year of 150 cases." The number of cases since the report was made has increased to 725 for the present term.

Other counties mentioned in the report are Schenectady County with 820 cases pending at the end of the March term; Saratoga County with 467 and Fulton with 272 cases, up from a year ago.

Residents to File Petition on Loose Dogs at Whittier

Whittier housing development near Flatbush this week joined a number of other communities, including the City of Kingston, who reportedly have a problem with dogs running at large, and two small children have been bitten.

For the past few weeks a petition seeking the cooperation of Ulster Town Board to remedy the situation, has been circulating in the area and some 70 householders have signed, it was reported today.

The petition will be presented to the Town Board meeting at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday at Lake Katrine Grange Hall. A number of residents from the Whittier area are also expected to attend.

Monday, three-year-old Stanley Stehlik, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Stehlik was reportedly bitten in the arm by a dog in the Whittier development.

About a month ago, six-year-old Mark Lanier, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Lanier was reported bitten in the face.

Former Resident SaysRuggedCross Is Favorite Hymn

"The Old Rugged Cross" still is America's favorite hymn, Bill McVey, the Christian Herald Singer, and a former resident of Kingston, said today, citing reports of an independent research organization.

According to McVey, son of the Rev. William J. McVey, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, Kingston, and Mrs. McVey, the research organization has taken issue with a Nazarene statement that "How Great Thou Art" had become the leading religious song.

But McVey, who recently conducted a nationwide poll of more than 30,000 churchgoers, praised the Church of the Nazarene for surveying its members' preferences.

"The Church of the Nazarene, which has its largest membership in the Mid-West and South, has taken the lead among American denominations is asking its members which hymns and gospel songs they want to sing instead of arbitrarily selecting inspirational music," McVey said.

McVey quoted a study by Audience Analysts, Bala-Cynwyd, Pa., that said the largest performance poll to date of America's favorite hymns was Christian Hearld Magazine's coast to coast survey in which 13.5 per cent of more than 30,000 respondents named "The Old Rugged Cross" as the dearest and best.

The poll by the nation's largest interdenominational Protestant magazine showed a tally of only 8.1 per cent, fourth place, for "How Great Thou Art," Audience Analysts said.

"The Old Rugged Cross," a hymn that vividly describes why the cross has been the symbol of love and brotherhood for ages, was top favorite in seven of the nine geographical divisions of the country and second in the remaining two, Audience Analysts reported.

"How Great Thou Art," a gospel song illustrating God's power, placed fourth in three divisions, fifth in one and did not appear in the top five in the other five divisions.

McVey's Christian Herald survey showed "What A Friend We Have In Jesus" as the second best-loved hymn and "In the Garden" third. The fifth favorite hymn was "Sweet Hour of Prayer."

"How Great Thou Art" rapidly is moving up in popularity, McVey said, citing a 1953 Christian Herald poll in which the song did not rank among the top 10.

Nassau Executes 2 Americans for Captain's Murder

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP)—Two Americans died on the gallows of Nassau Prison today for the murder of a Florida charter boat captain. They were Alvin Table Jr., and Billy Wayne Sees and were the first Americans ever executed in the Bahamas.

Table, 25, mounted the scaffold at 7 a.m. and an hour later, his partner in crime, Sees, 23, was put to death.

Table and Sees were convicted of slaying Capt. Angus Boatwright, 55, of Islamorada, Fla., on April 24, 1960, at Elbow Key in the Bahamas.

Testimony at the trial showed that Table and Sees stole a 42-foot cabin cruiser in Key West and headed to sea with Table's bride of a month, Barbara, 18, of San Antonio, Tex.

They ran out of gas and the boat drifted onto rocks and broke up. The trio took refuge in an abandoned lighthouse where they remained three days.

Boatwright and his mate, Kent Hokanson, 20, also of Islamorada, happened along in their 38-foot charter boat, Muriel III, with four passengers aboard.

Sees signaled the boat then later swam out and boarded it. Testimony showed he pulled a revolver and ordered Boatwright and the others into the stern.

When Boatwright grabbed a rifle, Sees shot and fatally wounded him. Before he was shot, Boatwright had radioed the Coast Guard at Miami, Fla., that he had found two men and a girl on Elbow Key.

Table and Sees forced the mate and passengers ashore and sped away. Table's wife refused to go with them.

An hour later a Coast Guard amphibian plane picked up the abandoned party and a Cuban gunboat overhauled Table and Sees the following day when the Muriel III ran aground on an island in Cuban territorial waters.

After their conviction, Table, of Torrance, Calif., and Sees, of Etowah, Ark., appealed to the Privy Council in London but lost.

Tells How Nazis Degraded Young Before Killings

JERUSALEM (AP) — A French scientist who survived the Auschwitz death mill told the court trying Adolf Eichmann today how the Nazis degraded tiny Jewish children in France before shipping them to the gas chambers.

Prof. Georges Wellers, director of the French National Medical Research Laboratory and a professor at the Sorbonne, mesmerized the court and audience with his account.

Wellers did not mention Eichmann's name, but the Israeli prosecution preceded the testimony with documents showing Eichmann's Berlin office organized the French camps as part of "the final solution of the Jewish problem."

As a medical man, Wellers could move about the Drancy camp in France. He said he saw 4,000 children—many as young as 2, 3, and 4 years old and their parents already at Auschwitz—abused and then deported to join their families only in death.

Wellers himself was shipped to Auschwitz on June 30, 1944. Six months later he was evacuated to Buchenwald because of the advance of the Soviet armies, and American troops liberated him there.

The witness said none of the adults at that time knew exactly what was happening to those deported—to Auschwitz — but from the treatment of the children they all were certain the Jews of all ages were doomed.

Wellers said the deportations from France reached a peak in the summer of 1942, when the children were brought to Drancy and then shipped out. He added that altogether he saw between 46,000 and 50,000 Jews deported.

ing the Kingston Women's Bowling Association appeared at the meeting last night and outlined some plans for the big state tournament here early next year. Those present unanimously voted to loan clothes and accessories for a huge fashion show in September. The show will help raise funds to defray the expenses of entertaining the State Tournament.

There was also a discussion of some recent local sales promotions which appeared to be misleading and deceptive. In the future such ads will be turned over to the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce and forwarded to the State Attorney General for review. The Federal Trade Commission is also interested and has regulations making it possible to prosecute those who persist in using deceptive advertising.

Action was also taken to request the Mayor and Board of Public Works to fill the dangerous holes in Converse Street, one of the approaches to the large parking lots below North Front Street.

Callers Should Note Error to Fire Dispatcher

Persons who telephone fire headquarters by mistake should make their error known to the dispatcher, Fire Chief James M. Brett advised today.

Calls received without a follow-through by the caller, he emphasized, leave the impression that the person calling to report a fire or similar emergency might have met with mishap while doing so, and the department has no way of immediately checking to determine if such trouble is involved.

A simple short statement of such mistakes, he said, is sufficient.

Two Firemen Are Charged With Setting Blazes

Ronald Owren, 19, and William Andrews, 20, both of Dewitt, pleaded innocent Monday before Peace Justice Albert Gordon of Fayetteville to charges of third-degree arson. They were released in $2,500 bail.

State Police, who arrested the firemen Sunday night, said they admitted setting the fires in Dewitt last month.

Wagerman, a member of the Canadian navy, suffered burns over 60 per cent of his body. His wife, Isabel, was less severely burned.

May Put Off Rights Action for Curb on Senate Filibusters

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Kennedy administration appears ready to postpone action on major civil rights bills in exchange for a rules revision in this session making it easier to curbe Senate filibusters.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said today efforts to revise the rule requiring approval of two-thirds of those voting to limit Senate debate will precede action on an administration package of civil rights measures introduced Monday.

Mansfield made it clear that even before the rule change is brought up, he hopes to have most of President Kennedy's general legislative program out of the way.

"Otherwise," he said, "we might have a long, drawn-out struggle in the Senate that might endanger the unfinished aspects of the President's program."

Mansfield left little doubt that any real attempt to enact the six bills offered in the Senate and House by Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., and Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., will have to wait until 1962.

The Democratic leader said he had no advance knowledge that the bills were going to be introduced by Clark and Celler, designated by Kennedy last fall to draft civil rights proposals for the administration.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said in a separate interview he plans to join with Mansfield in offering a measure to permit 60 per cent of the Senators voting to curb debate.

To get this passed in the face of a likely Southern filibuster, the leaders probably will have to bring in a cloture (debate limiting) petition. To halt a filibuster they would have to get support from two-thirds of those voting—67 if all 100 senators are recorded.

Dirksen said that while some Republicans may push for enactment of civil rights legislation in this session, from a practical standpoint he doubts little will be done except to extend the life of the expiring Civil Rights Commission.

Clark said he will ask for Senate action on some of his bills. But he conceded he isn't very hopeful of getting it.

Defends Israel, Way in Capture Of Nazi Eichmann

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—Argentina's former ambassador to Israel today said Martin Bormann—Hitler's deputy whose fate has been a mystery since the war—was in Argentina when Adolf Eichmann was captured last year.

Dr. Gregorio Topolevsky, now retired from the Argentine foreign service, said in a Tel Aviv news conference that Bormann had been living under an alias and disappeared into Brazil when he heard of Eichmann's capture by Israeli agents in May 1960.

Topolevsky said that if Israel had requested Eichmann's extradition through official channels, he would have vanished "two hours later." Eichmann was spirited out of the country by Israeli agents.

The former ambassador said Dr. Joseph Mengele, Nazi physician at Auschwitz who selected vast numbers of victims for the gas chamber, was also known by Argentine security services to be in that country.

Mengele also disappeared, Topolevsky said, when he heard authorities were looking for him.

Topolevsky also claimed there were several Nazi cells in Argentina, mainly in the south, and that they had transferred huge sums of money and gold from Switzerland.

Former Rome Cable Corp. Founder Dies

ROME, N. Y. (AP)—Herbert T. Dyett, founder and former president and board chairman of Rome Cable Corp., died Monday at his home here. He was 86.

Prior to forming Rome Cable, Dyett founded the Rome Wire Co. in 1902. This later was combined with other firms in 1927 to form the General Cable Corp.

Dyett resigned as president of General Cable in 1933 and three years later headed the group that formed Rome Cable. The latter since has been merged with the Aluminum Co. of America.

Dyett, a native of Rome, was graduated from Cornell University in 1897 with an engineering degree.

Astronaut Going Home to Cottage With His Family

LANGLEY AIR FORCE BASE, Va. (AP)—America's first spaceman, astronaut Alan B. Shepard Jr., returns today with his family to the cottage at Virginia Beach where his wife awaited the outcome of his historic venture.

Perhaps trying to spare Shepard the commotion that has attended him since his brief journey into space last Friday, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) declined to say just when the astronaut and his family would leave here.

An Atlantic Ocean resort preparing for the summer tourist season, Virginia Beach is not the place a person normally goes to escape the limelight.

City officials, however, apparently were caught by surprise by the announcement Shepard was coming home.

That, plus the fact NASA would not say what time Shepard might arrive, ruled out the prospect of any planned celebration.

Shepard and his wife Louise spent Monday night at the visiting officer's quarters at Langley AFB, NASA headquarters.

Says Laxity Costs Insurance Millions

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — Supervisory laxity by the insurance departments of various states is costing the public millions of dollars, the head of a group of insurance companies charges.

John F. Barry of New York said that state insurance supervisors who permitted certain cut-rate companies to effect "inadequate, illegal rates" forced companies operating at the standard rate into losses.

Barry said the firms forced into the red then write off their losses against their taxes and the public loses millions of dollars in state and federal taxes.

Barry spoke Monday night at the opening of the 79th annual convention of the New York State Association of Insurance Agents. Approximately 500 are attending the three-day meeting.

Truman 77 Monday, Feted at Luncheon

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman, still chipper on his 77th birthday Monday, received greetings from all over the country.

About 200 friends gave a luncheon party to express their esteem.

President Kennedy, in a telephone call from Washington, congratulated Truman and said: "I don't understand how you look so well after seven years here."

A Psychiatrist Speaks

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Dr. George E. Ruff, a psychiatrist at the University of Pennsylvania Hospital who examined Alan B. Shepard Jr. after his historic space flight says the astronaut exhibits an outstanding combination of intelligence and emotional stability.

Dr. Ruff told interviewers Monday that Shepard exhibits an outstanding desire to get a job done.

Aiming at 3,100 Miles

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—Research pilot Joe Walker plans to fly the X15 rocket plane with throttle wide open in the next few days in an attempt to reach 3,100 miles an hour—almost a mile a second.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said Monday the purpose of the flight will be to obtain data on aerodynamic stability and control and heating.

"LOSING HAIR?"

Mr. Newhouse, (left), gave about 20 mintues of his time for the Harlow free hair and scalp consultation and re-grew his hair.

Mrs. Haller, (right), shows her results by Harlow treatments.

Wednesday, May 10 only, at the Governor Clinton Hotel, in Kingston, New York, Staff Director J. J. Stalter will give free hair and scalp consultation between 1:00 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. to hair worried men and women.

Harlow Hair & Scalp Consultants, the oldest and largest organization of its kind, makes regular visits to Kingston, New York throughout the year to assure you of success in a minimum period of time. Harlow is now in its seventh year. Last year alone, over one-quarter million Harlow home-scalp treatments were used.

Surveys among men and women in all walks of life show that the worst enemies of your hair are (1) doubt and (2) delay. Many balding people who are doing nothing to help themselves are justifying their condition with thinking like this: "I don't think anybody can stop hair loss" or "I'm going to see an expert when I get around to it." That doesn't solve your problem. You are going to keep right on losing your hair until you are bald . . . unless you get your scalp in a healthy, hair-growing condition again.

HOPELESS CASES REFUSED

If you are totally bald, there is nothing Harlow can do for you. Harlow or no other treatment known is of benefit to excessive hair loss due to male pattern baldness. Neither of the persons shown above suffered from male pattern baldness. Therefore, Harlow continues its policy of refusing all hopeless cases. Baldness is slow and gradual, even in the most common forms. The two most common causes are neglect and mistreatment, but the two worst enemies are skepticism and procrastination.

BEWARE THESE SYMPTOMS

Once you notice symptoms of excessive dryness or oiliness, itchy scalp, excessive hair in the combings, tender areas, come in for an examination before follicle shrinkage ruins all hopes for a healthy head of hair.

RESULTS ARE SO AMAZING THAT

We constantly receive letters of praise and gratitude from our clients who say "I know my hair is thicker . . . I was saved from baldness!" or "Thanks for getting my hair back," or "I had almost complete loss of my hair before my treatments, and today I have regained my original head of hair," or "My hair has not only improved in general condition, but has grown thicker." (Ask to see actual letters from clients in your home town.

FREE CONSULTATION

There is absolutely no charge or obligation of any kind for seeing the Harlow specialist for consultation. Your only obligation is to yourself to ease your mind of hair worries by learning how easily and inexpensively you can save and thicken your hair at home. You will be told frankly and sincerely whether the Harlow Home Treatment can help, how long it will take, and the cost.

GUARANTEED RESULTS!

Harlow's scientific treatments are so phenomenally effective that we offer you, and every one of our clients, the opportunity to enjoy more virile hair, a healthier scalp within just 30 days! If you can get such satisfaction within 30 days, imagine the thicker hair you'll be growing within 12 months!

FREE EXAMINATION

Administered in private . . . no appointment needed. Ask the desk clerk, at the Governor Clinton Hotel for J. J. Statler's room number, on Wednesday only, May 10, between 1:00 p.m., and 8:30 p.m., only in Kingston, New York. You will not be obligated or embarrased in any way. Consultations are free and given in private.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, MAY 9, 1961

HIGH PRESSURE PEDDLER

Attorney General Lefkowitz again warns the suburban homeowner about the high pressure peddler of worthless wares. Records of the Bureau of Consumer Frauds and Protection show that these itinerant pitchmen, who are not to be confused with representatives of reputable sales companies, invade suburbia each spring equipped with every gimmick and dodge in the book.

The Attorney General points out that this year the unscrupulous door-to-door salesmen have a greater advantage than ever before. Homeowners, whose driveways, chimneys and other property have been damaged by the heavy snow and severe cold of the past winter, can be an easy mark for the home improvement gyp artist.

The Freeman along with the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce from time to time have warned local residents about the transient merchant. These people are here today and away tomorrow. Your local merchant or contractor is in back of everything he sells or builds.

Local residents have the right to look to public officials for protection against deceptive sales practices. The local business man who carries on with integrity and a regard for his customers also has a right to look to public officials for protection against the unscrupulous segment whose lack of ethics and sharp practices destroy public confidence in the entire trade.

Complaints filed with the Bureau show clearly that spring is the season of flourishing activity for these salesmen who gain entrance to the home under various guises. The Attorney General offers the following guide which may be used to avoid being victimized:

Ask to see the credentials of any sales representative who calls at your door.

Check the sales price of services or merchandise with your local merchant.

Never sign a contract with blank spaces or which you don't understand, regardless of what the salesman may tell you.

Where you do not understand the terms of a sales contract, consult someone who does, a lawyer if necessary.

Ask if the sales price includes installation and delivery. If you want these services included, tell the salesman to write a statement to that effect in the contract, specifying in detail the type of service and the period during which it will be performed.

In the case of home improvements, never sign a statement that the work is complete until it acutally is. If you sign such a statement before the work is finished, as a general rule you will have to make full payment whether or not the contractor fulfills his agreement.

Check the reputation of the salesman and his company with your local chamber of commerce or Better Business Bureau.

If you feel you have been victimized by any unfair or fraudulent sales practices, report the fact to the Bureau of Consumer Frauds and Protection of the Attorney General's office, 80 Centre Street, New York 13, N. Y., Telephone COrtlandt 7-9800.

Never permit merchandise to be left with you on an "on approval" certificate. The salesman may not return and you will find yourself receiving a bill for an article which you do not want.

Remember that the legitimate salesman, who represents the vast majority of door-to-door sales representatives, invites your investigation.

It may be impossible to tell what people have on their minds—but you can guess "nothing" and have a 50-50 chance of being correct.

'These Days'

IT IS DIFFICULT TO KNOW

Recently General David Sarnoff discussed the problem of communicating scientific knowledge. Some comments were made on this subject in these writings and have received an interesting comment from a young scientist, part of which I give you:

". . . I was very interested in your article on Dave Sarnoff's suggestion for an idea clearing house; I thought of this idea several years ago but dismissed it as being too expensive. Nevertheless, the entire scientific community needs such a system imperatively. If competent, highly trained brainpower is the nation's most valuable, and rarest, resource, it is surely a waste to have it spend its time thumbing through indexes in libraries. With the ever increasing flood of literature, a scientist can spend more time doing paper research than the lab research he's paid for. If, while looking through his microscope, he sees a green spot in a cell, he ought to be able to dial 'green spot' into a computer and be supplied within a minute with a bibliography covering everything that has ever been written on the subject of green spots. Then he will have time to do his work.

"The problem, however, doesn't end here. At the present, the only way a new fact or theory can be given circulation is through the professional journals. At one time when little work was being done in the sciences, the journals were adequate for the task. Today, however, with tens of thousands of laboratories cranking out endless rivers of data, the trade papers can't possibly do their job. Some of the better ones are publishing material submitted as far back as three years with the backlog growing each month. Even more appalling, important contributions are being published in little known periodicals which no one reads simply because the line is too long at the bigger journals. These important works often pass completely without notice only to be rediscovered much later by duplicated effort which could have been avoided by such an institution as Sarnoff's clearing house.

"The worst problem, though, is the politics of getting published. Many scientists rush into print to have their university positions. Others wear publications like a general wears his ribbons, and crowd the journals at the expense of better work by newcomers. On the other hand, many young men will fight to get published just to get a better initial job, even if their theses aren't of sufficient scope to interest an entire profession. These and other abuses pervert many periodicals from their proper purposes thus making them even less efficient means of transmitting scientific advancements . . ."

Young men come straight to the point because they have nothing to lose but their youth. Excellent thinking is done by young scholars, even in the social sciences. This material is likely to be in the scholarly journals which have very small circulations and are often passed over unnoticed for years, until some popularizer brings them to the fore in a newspaper or magazine article.

One of the misfortunes of the professional writer is that he is often too verbose to be interesting, too bogged down in the jargon of his discipline, as he calls his profession, to be readable. He writes for a handful of colleagues who will praise him and for a faculty which will vote him a full professorship. But his impact upon his community and his time is nil.

I do not read many scientific journals because some of those subjects are closed to me, but I do read many learned journals in fields with which I am familiar and take ideas from them and often quote from them, but I must admit that much of it is hard to pin down. The academician is fearful lest he be suspected of being a layman; therefore he writes in a style which will make him sound like a translation from the German. That was not true of an earlier generation of learned men, such as Charles A. Beard, James Harvey Robinson, John R. Commons, or even Woodrow Wilson who, having something to say, said it.

And they used fewer footnotes to sustain them. So often an article in a learned journal is encumbered with footnotes to prove that the writer really has no original ideas — that everything was taken from someone else. This is not done to establish modesty; it is rather a crutch to sustain the thinker and to prove that someone else once thought the same way, proving ipso facto that great minds travel on the same road.

Osteoarthrosis Is Merely Sign That You're Aging

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A number of senior citizens have inquired about osteoarthritis with particular reference to its relationship to rheumatoid arthritis.

The two diseases are entirely different. Rheumatoid arthritis, for example, begins at a very early age, is probably of allergic origin, is often accompanied by fever and considerable weight loss, and produces crippling deformities of the joints, including those of the spine.

By contrast, most of us do not regard osteoarthritis as a disease. In point of fact, I refer to it as osteaarthrosis since the "-itis" ending means the disease is a type of inflammation.

Osteoarthrosis is often referred to as "the grey hair" in joints. In other words, it's a manifestation of aging rather than disease.

It rarely begins before the middle years. When it occurs at the time of the "change," it sometimes is called menopausal arthritis, although most of us are convinced that neither condition has anything to do with the other.

Osteoarthrosis usually affects persons who are overweight. There seems to be a hereditary factor especially with hand involvements. The nubbins that appear on the finger (Heberden's nodes) are often a family trade mark.

There's not a thing to do, and nothing that need be done, in the case of an osteoarthrosis. Weight reduction takes a lot of the strain off the involved joints. Proper postural exercises, shoeing and corseting add to comfort. Doses of aspirin relieve pain.

The application of heat may be very helpful.

But there's little, if anything, to be gained by faddist diets, vitamin supplements, gland treatments, vaccine injections, prescriptions for cortico-steroids and other expensive drugs, exposure to voilet or X-rays, visitis to spas, baths in mud or "radio-active" waters, diathermy or applications of elctrical current.

I trust no one will interpret what I have written as an indication that I think osteoarthrosis is "hopeless." Quite the contrary.

Not being a disease, it will not shorten life by so much as an hour. Not being "curable," it must be endured. Not being remediable, there's no sense spending a lot of money "chasing a cure."

Indeed, if you'll take example from the apple tree, you'll realize that you can get delicious fruit from many a gnarled branch.

BIPARTISANSHIP

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON
Newspaper Enterprise Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Another letter urging between the lines that even Republicans should give $100 to the Democratic party and get a free ticket to the big birthday party honoring President Kennedy on May 27 has just come to light.

The opening sentence of the invitation reads:

"We hope you will join with Democrats, their friends and loyal supporters throughout the nation in saying to President Kennedy on the occasion of his 44th birthday that the Democratic Party is once again solvent."

THE COPY OF THE LETTER made available to this reporter come from a Republican government employe holdover in one of the big Washington agencies. He was pretty sore about it. The inference was that if he didn't contribute, it might mean the loss of his job.

There are no reliable estimates of how many of these Eisenhower administration appointees are still on the job in Washington. Many resigned. The others are being replaced rapidly, but a number have been kept on because of technical competence.

If this number is as high as a thousand and if all of them contributed to the Democratic cause to hold their jobs, the Democratic indebtedness would be reduced by $100,000.

THE LETTER WASN'T INTENDED for Republicans alone, of course. It was printed to look something like a formal announcement. It was sent out over the signature of Ralph W. Gardner, chairman of the dinner.

Gardner is a Washington lawyer, the son of the late former governor of North Carolina, O. Max Gardner. He has long been prominent in Democratic politics, but never an officeholder.

The Gardner letter's statement that ". . . in saying to President Kennedy on the occasion of his 44th birthday that the Democratic Party is once again solvent," is much more optimistic than even its finance committee chairman, Matthew H. McCloskey, has been.

Admitting that the Democrats have $2.5 million debt as a result of the 1960 campaign, McCloskey has been hopeful that the debt might be reduced by $1 million.

BUT THE GARDNER LETTER OFFERS every convenience for anyone wanting to contribute 100 bucks or more to the cause. It encloses a card which any recipient may fill out and send in with a check, using the attached addressed, but not stamped, envelope. The letter itself asks for no money directly.

TO GET AROUND THE LEGAL RESTRICTION that tickets for a political gathering can't be sold, the card says:

"Please reserve for me . . . . seats. I enclose check payable to the Democratic National Committee." At the bottom it says, "One dinner ticket issued for each $100 contribution."

On the back of the card there are 10 blank lines where you can list the names of the 10 guests you would like to invite if you want to reserve a whole table and make a contribution of $1,000. But mind you, you're not buying tickets.

IF PUBLICITY WILL MAKE any event a success, this dinner should be a wow. The letter to the oilmen, Interior Secretary Udall's denial that he had anything to do with it, McCloskey's even blander denial that tickets were being sold, have put the affair on the front pages all across the nation.

The only trouble is, it may be the wrong kind of publicity. Newsmen will be scanning the seating lists of guests to see who contributed and who took full tables. If any business lobbyists are present, this is sure to be pointed out.

AS A RESULT, they might stay away in droves and send their secretaries or assistants for the free feed.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, May 8—For the first time in the history of the world a man has gone up into outer space who was watched by millions of people both before he ascended and when he came down to earth.

This is, however, only one of a series of "firsts."

For the first time, a man in capsule was able to control and guide his flight while in the air. The Soviet astonaut who orbited the earth was just an inanimate passenger.

For the first time, a man who flew into space was photographed as he entered the capsule before he ascended and immediately after he came down. The Soviet astronaut, on the other hand, was not photographed by any one except government representatives. No free press was present afterward to make its own record or freely to interrogate the astronaut.

For the first time, a nation sent a man into outer space and paid for the project out of a small fraction of its tax receipts. No class of human society was deprived of anything by reason of that expense—and no hardship was imposed upon the people. The enormous sums spent to send Soviet satellites aloft have been taken from a people deprived of the necessities of life. All this was ordered merely to advance the propaganda of totalitarian rulers.

Out in the Open

America is rightfully emphasizing to the world that its achievement was in the open where nothing was hidden. To this day the true facts about the flight of Maj. Gagarin of Russia are still unavailable either to the press or to the international scientific organization which must eventually pass judgment on the validity of the claims.

Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard Jr., who made the great flight for the United States, captivated Washington. He is a credit to his country in general and to the United States Navy in particular. He handled himself with modesty, tact and skill not only in his public appearances at the White House and at the Capitol but in the press conference that was televised to the nation.

Here was an example of a naval officer trained, of course, for the physical hardships he might have to endure. But where did the training come from that enabled him to take in his stride the adulation and applause that were showered upon him? American manhood—the product of a free environment and the heritage of sturdy American parents—can be given the real credit. For the risks were great and a steady-nerved young man took them bravely for the cause of science and the advancement of man's knowledge.

Undoubtedly there has been a spirit of competition aroused ever since the Russian Sputnik circled the earth. The Soviet press and radio played up the Gagarin flight, and there was a big celebration in Moscow, too, as Premier Khrushchev made speeches and bestowed the accolade on the Russian astronaut.

Doubts Persist

While doubts still persist as to what Gagarin really did—perhaps he also only went up and down at a given place in the air—the disposition of officialdom here is to credit him with his claim. But at the same time there is a natural pride here that America did everything in the open and made all facts available immediately to the public. Meanwhile, the Soviet people have been given skimpy accounts of Shepard's feat, which is being deliberately played down inside the Soviet Union by orders of the Moscow government.

Why should the Kremlin be afraid to concede the significance of Shepard's flight? Because is is important to the Communists to make the Soviet people feel that their sacrifices must be continued and their hardships borne in the interest of a patriotic spirit. The rulers of Russia rely heavily on patriotism to help them to excuse their failure to provide food and decent living quarters for the millions who are enslaved.

It hos been of incalculable value to the prestige of American democracy in the free world to demonstrate the virtues of freedom to the smaller nations just emerging from bondage. For years to come the exploit of Alan Shepard will be remembered not only because of the bravery of a man who ventured into the vast unknown of outer space but for his dedications to the cause of science for which he was ready to risk his life.

Credit to Scientists

Cmdr. Shepard will remain a national hero because of what he has accomplished, but everlasting credit will also go to the scientists, engineers and devoted leaders in our government who, with cautious and faithful adherence to scientific research, refused to be stampeded prematurely into a manned flight and ordered it only after many experiments, including failures, had shown them it could be done with a reasonable chance of success. How many lives the Russians lost in their experiments may never be known.

As for a manned flight in orbit around the earth by the United States, this will come in due time. Already this country has twenty-one satellites circling the globe, while the Soviets have only one. A trip 115 miles up and then 302 miles across the ocean through space is an indication that at the proper time the United States will make the flight around the earth with an astronaut who will keep the world informed with his own voice, as did Cmdr. Shepard—the first of all firsts. He talked and sent messages from the realm of outer space, and all the world knew it simultaneously—a truly great "first."

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

In recent years, whenever Kingston City plans for a parade, the folks from Rondout seem to have to fight for it to come downtown. Today most of the parades are motorized, so I do hope that at least the part on wheels will be able to find its way to Rondout to disband on the Strand and Ferry Street as it did years ago, when marchers were on foot. Joseph Tomaseski, the Sixth Ward Alderman told me, he is leaving no stone unturned to see that the coming Memorial Day parade comes downtown. I do hope he is successful.

Captain Andrew Hickey, historian and author of the book, "City of Kingston" and member of the Senate House Museum is now working on the Civil War display to be held there beginning July 1. He is especially anxious to have papers, items, pictures, or anything pertaining to the Civil War, especially local items, to be loaned to the Museum for the month of July, 1961. Arrangements and further information may be had from Mrs. Terwilliger, custodian at the museum.

From time to time I am asked about the moving of the General Sharpe residence which made room for the Governor Clinton Hotel. The Freeman of Friday, Nov. 21, 1924 had an item about it. It seems from that Wednesday to Friday, the building was moved some two feet. It was said, the audience was large watching it, and many gave advice. There are various stories now told about how the Sharpe's residence moved, and no doubt in years to come, the stories will even improve with age, I feel newspapers of that date are the most reliable source.

The 1924 Freeman covers it thus, by the reporter on the scene. "The actual pulling is done by two horses and two mules who turn two large winches. About 500 feet of cable is used. It is necessary to use two sets of pulley and the winches to overcome the resistence of the house whose weight is estimated at 400 tons . . . In spite of many unexpected difficulties the Clynes Co. has moved the old house more than 12 feet."

Perhaps some folks took photographs of that construction. It would be interesting to see pictures of it now. I remember my father taking me up there, because he was always interested in that sort of engineering feat. Although I personally watched some of it, I was young, and only interested in it, as a very pretty house. It is said, Sharpe's residence was built in 1828.

There is much talk about the post office nowadays. I just opened the Kingston Directory of 1899 and see that George M. Brink was postmaster; E. E. Oughletree was deputy postmaster, George A. Plant, was superintendent of the Rondout Station. George D. Boughton was in charge of the sub-station No. 1. Letter carriers for Kingston in 1899 were:

Otis C. Burr, Frederick Carpenter, John T. Cusack, Charles F. Leibert, John P. Clark. For the Rondout Station, there was W. C. Straley, Robert S. McCormick, Francis R. Wood, Leonard W. Kirchner, Charles D. Romeyn and Harry T. Wheeler. At the time, Augustus Raschke, Clifford Wheeler, and George Louis Leibert were substitute carriers. John B. and William Newkirk and Robert E. Carpenter were clerks in the Kingston Post Office. William Maynard, William F. Gronemeyer and John Tonskey were clerks at the Rondout station.

Tillson School Science Fair Winners Announced

Today's article in the current series on the Science Fair winners in the Kingston (Consolidated) District will review the winners at the Tillson School. The Tillson School will be represented at the New Paltz Fair Friday of this week by Alice E. Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Brown; Craig Sampson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sampson; and Gale Grafe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Grafe.

Alice Brown was awarded the first prize blue ribbon in the sixth grade at the Tillson School for her display on Changes in the Earth's Surface. The prize winning exhibit was fostered when Alice found several fossils at a local construction site. The fossils and some study brought about by their discovery led to the idea for a display about the changes in the surface of the earth. Alice reported she used wood, plaster of paris, asbestos and some paint she had on hand in constructing her successful project.

A display showing the principles of electricity was judged best in the fifth grade. Craig Sampson won a blue ribbon for a project started when he read an issue of Boy's Life magazine. Craig reported his materials were easily obtained at local stores.

Nine-year-old Gail Grafe was given the fourth grade top honor for her project on how we breathe. Her project came from her natural curiosity about breathing and her materials came from odds and ends around her house.

These three students will journey to New Paltz this Friday for Mid-Hudson competition. Chambers students will be reviewed in the next article.

Kingston YMCA Day Camp Is Holding 'Name Contest'

The Kingston YMCA Day Camp together with "Y" Membership Committee are conducting a "Name Contest" for the camp, it was announced today by Louis H. Schafer, general secretary.

The "Name Contest" application blanks will appear in The Freeman on Tuesday and Thursday, May 16 and 18. The contest will close June 1.

A prize of two free weeks at the camp is being offered by the sponsors.

In order to give contestants a better idea for conceiving a name that will be appropriate, the following description of the camp is given. Should special information be desired, you can 'phone the YMCA and ask for Lou Schafer. However, anyone at the "Y" will be pleased to talk to you about the camp and the "Name Contest."

The YMCA Day Camp is located in Shokan and this will be the third season of operation. It is now known as the YMCA Day Camp and is situated two miles from Route 28 on Bostock Mountain Road, leading North to Peck Road. It covers 35 acres in a beautiful mountain setting. When entering the camp property in the main driveway, you are confronted with a wide open parking space which is boardered by a large lake covering two acres. In all there are four bodies of water, two of which are used for swimming and boating. All four ponds are divided by a dam. The top of each dam has foot paths that lead to a center point where is located a large stone house, 30 feet by 15 feet and houses a large fire place. This building is known as Camp Headquarters. The water in the two main lakes is crystal clear, as it is mountain and spring water that is constantly running and overflowing the dam.

Bathing Beach

The bathing beach is covered with sand many shade trees. On the top hill of the beach is a picnic grove with open fire places. About 150 feet back of the picnic area is a large shelter used for rainy day activities as well as regular program. This building, which is 80 feet long and 24 feet wide, is fully equipped with electricty. One end of this structure is fully enclosed to house the camp store, craft materials and camp maintenance equipment. All sides have canvas drop curtains to keep out the rain and wind. Movies are shown and dramatics promoted. This open space also has shuffleboard games outlined on the cement floor. Craft tables and ping pong table occupy one end of the shelter. The senior camp open space for recreation and competitive games is situated in the rear of the shelter and covers about three acres.

Junior Camp Area

The Junior Camp area is in the rear of the headquarters building and also has a large baseball field and open area for various recreation and competitive games. The younger boys' and girls' camp has many play facilities as well as a giant sand box fully equipped. Both camps have plenty of playground equipment to keep campers out of mischief.

Camp is composed of a director and camp advisor, along with two adult assistant directors. There are 10 senior counsellors and five junior counsellors. All directors and counsellors have passed and are qualified in the National YMCA Aquatic Life Saving Service and the American Red Cross Life Saving Service. A specialty at the YMCA Day Camp is the teaching of swimming, especially to beginners. After learning the art of swimming, all campers are privileged to learn the various strokes. This is accomplished by four special tests, each containing 10 different skills. These skills which take two or three summers to learn, depending on the age of the boy or girl, all lead to the life saving work that swimmers can try for when they reach their 12th birthday. Louis H. Schafer, mostly known to boys and girls in this area, as "LOU" is an expert in the art of teaching swimming, he having taught well over 2,000 boys and girls during his Kingston YMCA tenure of 18 years.

Program at camp changes according to weather conditions. A daily schedule is set, but activities are elective. Hikes are taken and this affords the campers an opportunity for nature study. All boys and girls at camp are supervised in every phase of the camp program. No boy or girl acts on his own unless it is by their leader's consent.

Foster Mom to Hundreds

Tennessean U.S. Mother of Year

NEW YORK (AP)—A Tennessee mother of six, who helped to abolish the whipping post in Georgia and has been foster mother to hundreds of dependent or delinquent children, was named American Mother of 1961 today.

Winner of the annual selection from state mothers across the nation is Louise Sevier Giddings Currey, 58, of Lookout Mountain, Tenn.

She was cited for rearing her own children—including home tutoring for many years of four who were unable to go to school because of ill health—and for her efforts in improving the housing and treatment of juvenile delinquents, neglected and dependent children, and mentally or emotionally disturbed children, regardless of race or creed.

Her role in the abolition of the whipping post in Georgia grew out of a trip she made to that state on behalf of one of her delinquent young charges.

Her current projects are a residential treatment center for disturbed children, and a home for juveniles returning from vocational training schools.

Cardiac Surgery Discussed Here

Miss Joan Vanek, head nurse of cardiac research at Nassau Hospital, Surgical Research, Mineola, Long Island, and a graduate of the Benedictine School of Nursing, reviewed the various types of cardiac surgery and the use of hypothermia at a recent meeting held in the auditorium of the Benedictine School of Nursing.

In conducting the faculty of the school of nursing, staff nursing and student education program regarding the most recent progress in cardiac surgery, Miss Vanek arranged her discussions for the various levels in nursing.

The research program under the direction of Dr. Aiken of Nassau Hospital continues their studies of hypthermia and its uses in their experimental laboratory. They have been very successful in maintaining the life of dogs after extreme exposure to low temperatures hoping that eventually it will be applicable to humans. It was reported very interesting to hear in detail the complete preparation, surgical procedure and after care of the patient.

Most important, it was said, was the fact of life being prolonged and the patient being made a useful member of his family and community as a result of the recent advances in cardiac surgery.

Former President

thinking about the hypothetical possibility of a third term.

He indicated that one of the questions most frequently asked of him is: "Had there been no 22nd Amendment (restricting a president to two terms), would you have been, again, a candidate for the presidency?"

Election Upset Calculations

Eisenhower noted that he had said publicly prior to the election that he thought more than two terms were neither wise nor desirable—even if there were no such amendment.

"But the election upset my calculations, reversed my expectations and exploded my plans and, if I could have foreseen this development, what would I have then said? I think I know—but how can I be absolutely sure? I do not see what more one can say than que sera, sera (what will be, will be.)"

Ortlieb Taking Course

Patrolman Edward Ortlieb, recently released from military service and returned to duty on the local police force, is attending a refresher training course at Ramapo, Police Chief Robert F. Murphy announced today. Such courses are a department regulation for new members of the force, and for those who return after an absence of some duration, the chief noted.

No Change . . .

"that which the association feels is the most likeable for those participating in the parade."

In view of a report by Alderman Hastings, the statement said, there apparently had been misunderstandings during the past few years. It noted that since there had been no word from the councilmen as to requirements, the KVA had not considered annual contact with the council committee as one of its requirements.

"It is very unfortunate," said the KVA statement, "that there are some who feel that the various veterans organizations of the KVA are prejudiced against the downtown area, as well as those who feel that the parade should be brought to the people." The statement added that the KVA hopes "that everyone will attend the parade, and honor, with those who march, those who gave their all."

Veterans Represented

The association discussed "unfavorable publicity" which followed a previous meeting, and which, it said, had been unauthorized.

The meeting was conducted by Sidney Lane, KVA, committee chairman. It was called on the request of Hastings. Represented were: American Legion, VFW, Company M, Marine Corps League, Catholic War Veterans, Ulster Barracks, Veterans of World War I.

The other members of the Common Council committee are Clark W. Myers (R) Second Ward, and William G. Davis (D-L) 12th Ward. Also present were aldermen Lawrence E. Woerner (D) Fourth Ward, and Joseph Tomaszewski (D) Sxith Ward.

Driver Licenses

in a speech prepared for delivery at the 79th annual convention of the New York State Association of Insurance Agents.

In Albany, an aide in the Motor Vehicles Department said the tape system would enable clerks to produce a full record of an individual driver almost immediately.

Under the present system, he said, the data must be copied from department records and, because of a backlog of work, it takes up to four weeks to comply with requests of law-enforcement officials and others for a complete copy of a driver's record.

The department can supply some data to police immediately, however, the aide said. Police frequently request information on persons stopped on the highway, or otherwise apprehended, if licenses of registrations produced by those individuals are suspect.

Hults described the procedure for storing records on tape as part of an overall description of plans of his department for mechanization.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—Some electronic, missile and rocket stocks advanced in a mixed stock market early this afternoon. Trading was heavy.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined .30 to 246.50 with industrials off .60, and both rails and utilities unchanged.

Most key stocks showed minor gains or losses and many were unchanged. Trading interest focused on some but by no means all of the "science" stocks related to the space age. Some of these produced gains of around 2 points.

A notable casualty was Avnet Electronics, which sank 6¾ points then recouped about 2 points of the loss.

Ling-Temco and Lear continued to meet brisk demand, both rising about 2 points. Thiokol, the rocket engine stock, picked up around 3. Republic Aviation jumped about 2.

Martin Co. was down about a point. Boeing and United Aircraft rose fractionally.

Drugs and airlines produced a string of fractional gains. Chemicals were mostly lower, DuPont dropping a point and Union Carbide a fraction.

United Pharmacy to Observe Grand Opening May 11 to 13

The United Cut Rate Pharmacy, an ultra modern, self-service drug store at 329 Wall Street, which is scientifically lighted and completely departmentalized, will have a gala grand opening Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 11, 12 and 13.

The United Pharmacy's new location is directly across the street from the store occupied by the drug store the last 13 years. The store will introduce to area residents many brand names, that up until now, have been lacking in this area.

The public is invited to inspect the drug store which is new in every respect. Merchandise is displayed so that it will be easily seen.

The 3,500 square feet of floor space affords each department sufficient area to attractively display merchandise. The prescription department in the rear is arranged with a bin-type operation so that merchandise can easily be obtained for quick service.

The building at 329 Wall Street, formerly the Kresge store, was purchased by the proprietors of the pharmacy, George and Julius Svirsky in January.

The prescription department is spacious and arranged to assure quick and accurate compounding of prescriptions for any number of customers.

The enlarged cosmetic department will feature, in addition to the United Pharmacy's famous cosmetic lines, a completely new sub-department that will feature the very latest, finest and most popular costume jewelry available.

United Pharmacy has the exclusive retail franchise for Barton's Candy.

The record department, the tobacco and gift departments have been enlarged and feature brand names that haven't been available here.

The new United Pharmacy started business on Monday. During the grand opening observance Thursday, Friday and Saturday each visitor will receive a free package of candy and 30 free Triple S Blue Stamps.

The Svirsky family has lived in this area since 1920. Georgs, after graduating from the Albany College of Pharmacy, enlisted in the U. S. Navy in 1942 and received his discharge in 1945. During this period he served in both the European and Pacific theaters of operations. He worked for a pharmaceutical manufacturing concern from 1945 until 1948 when he and his brothers, Julius and the late Herman Svirsky, purchased the present United Cut Rate Pharmacy.

Dutchess Sheriff Promotes Four, One to Detective

Dutchess County Sheriff Lawrence Quinlan has announced the promotion of four deputies to the rank of sergeant and another to the rating of detective, as part of a reorganization of his department.

It was said that the designation of deputies as sergeants and a detective is the first such move in counties of the state. The sergeants will be attired in new uniforms, and the detective will be the only office employe to work in plainclothes.

Promoted to sergeants were Deputies Hugh Brennan, Bernard Ruchin, John Dakin and George Rymph.

Deputy Charles Borchers was promoted to detective.

Failures Will . . .

tronauts were so involved in their own flight plans that they didn't have time to study data on Gagarin's flight.

Calm Description

He described calmly—as if it were just another airplane flight, his space ride that entailed:

Blasting off atop a rocket that generated a thundering 78,000-pound thrust, soaring up 115 miles in space at speeds of about 5,000 miles an hour, going through five minutes of weightlessness, followed by a seconds-long period when his body weighed about 1,760 pounds, re-entering the earth's atmosphere at a velocity high enough to cause the paint on the capsule to char and landing at sea at a point more than 300 miles from takeoff.

Some Apprehension

Sure, he said, he had "some apprehension" before and during the flight. He knew there was always the possibility of failure in the launch, or a mishap at the end of flight.

But, while he sat for four hours in the capsule before lift-off, he had too many things to do to dwell on it.

The astronaut reported he found the two most critical phases of the flight — blast-off and reentry — smoother than he had anticipated.

He said the five-minute period of weightlessness was "quite a pleasant sensation," and during the time he had no difficulty in maneuvering the capsule and doing various other jobs.

He granted, though, that he did not experience "exhiliration" until the flight was over — and U.S. Marine helicopters were on the spot ready to pick him up.

Shepard flew back to Langley Field late Monday. He was to relax today at his Virginia Beach, Va. home.

Predicts Subway Fare Will Rise

NEW YORK (AP) — John A. Moreland, president of Fifth Avenue Coach Lines Inc., predicts the subway fare will soon be raised from 15 to 20 cents.

He says City Hall officials are "tired" of subsidizing the subways with tax money that could be used to build schools and hospitals.

Moreland made the prediction Monday at a meeting of stockholders of his company.

Fifth Avenue Coach Lines, which operates buses on a number of routes in the city, is seeking city approval of an increase in its fare from 15 to 20 cents. It also seeks to charge 5 instead of 3 cents for a transfer.

Moreland said adoption of a 20-cent fare by the Transit Authority, which operates publicly owned subways and bus lines, would pave the way for a similar increase on Fifth Avenue Coach Lines.

Allies Call . . .

trying to give the organization a new sense of self-confidence.

Rusk and Home assured their colleagues at the NATO ministerial conference here that although the Soviet Union is strong, the West is stronger and much of the rest of the world is well aware of it.

Must Play Cards Right

Lord Home emphasized the West holds a lot of good diplomatic cards and it is up to NATO to see that they are played right.

Rusk sought to convince the other 14 NATO nations of the need for prompter, more complete political consultation on problems that could develop into crises affecting all the alliance members.

At the opening conference session Monday, Rusk spoke candidly about America's triumphs and problems, without seeking to magnify the former or gloss over the latter, conference sources said.

The four big NATO powers were reported convinced that Soviet Premier Khrushchev intends to sign a separate peace treaty with Communist East Germany soon, raising the threat of an East German attempt to interfere with allied supply traffic to West Berlin.

This prospect was discussed over the dinner table Monday night by Rusk, Lord Home, French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville and West Germany's Heinrich von Brentano.

No Dispair Aroused

Informants said the prospect of such a Soviet action did not arouse despair in the Western Big Four and that the Americans, British and French are determined to maintain their occupation rights in isolated West Berlin regardless of what Khrushchev does.

The reaffirmation of this stand heartened the West Germans, who are planning to reject a recent Soviet proposal for bilateral Soviet-West German talks on a peace treaty and German unification.

The North Atlantic ministers in their first round gave the impression of being firmly united on major European problems.

The United States, Britain and France, however, still have not reached an agreed final decision on the type of settlement they will seek for Laos at the Geneva conference scheduled to open Friday.

Belgium and Portugal complained that they had not received enough support from their NATO allies on the Congo and Angola issues.

Questions View on Cuba

Canadian Foreign Minister Howard Green questioned the American view that Fidel Castro has set up a sort of Soviet satellite in Cuba. Green said Castro's regime could not be defined in simple Communist terms since it seemed to have support from some nationalist elements in the island.

Needy Greece and Turkey meanwhile appealed for an urgent, massive program of aid from their Atlantic allies to stave off the collapse of their wobbly economies.

The United States has poured more than one billion dollars worth of military and economic aid into Greece and Turkey. But the two countries still are stalked by poverty and have invoked an article of the Atlantic pact binding the partners to help each other achieve common living standards.

Cheap Insurance Shares Require Careful Scrutiny

Q) "For the past 22 years I have been in the insurance business and have seen wonderful profits made by those who invested in the stocks of successful life insurance companies. However, the high market prices of many of these stocks have put them out of reach for small investors like myself. Should we instead buy shares in the newly organized life insurance companies whose shares sell for $3.00 to $6.00 a share." R. T.

A) Only if you know exactly what you are getting into.

In recent years there have been some life insurance companies formed by promoters who perhaps were more interested in their own well-being than in the success of their creation. This is not to say that all life insurance stocks selling at a low dollar price are run for ulterior reasons—far from it. All new companies — in insurance and anything else — have to start somewhere, and those that survive will most likely repay their original stockholders handsomely for their capital ventured.

Nevertheless, you should be extremely careful when placing your money in any new business. I'd be especially dubious if a high pressure salesman calls and tries to convince you of the fantastic profits guaranteed if you "get in on the ground floor" of his company.

If you do want to invest in a lower priced insurance stock, I suggest that you consider American Heritage Life (OTC), an established, nationally known insurance company, whose shares sell for about 11 dollars.

Q) "I bought Suburban Gas in 1950 at 3¾ a share. It is now 37, and I have a profit of $21,000. Should I hold or sell?" M. W.

A) I have liked Suburban Gas for a long time and still do. This distributor of liquified petroleum gas has had a fine record of earnings growth. Demand for its product should continue to increase, and future acquisitions are likely. If possible, I would maintain my holdings in this stock.

Ellenville Case Adjourned

An adjournment was take in the Robert Jay McCandless and John Ellsworth McCandless cases. They were indicted for robbery, assault and grand larceny arising out of an affair at the home of Mrs. Sarah Cooper, 62-year-old Ellenville boarding house keeper last January 21. The two men were apprehended as a result of alert police work on the part of Ellenville Chief of Police Abe Rand and state police who apprehended the men near Hurley as they were fleeing by cab. Pleas of guilty to assault have been entered. Robert, 39, of Johnstown, Pa., and his brother, John, 32, a member of the U. S. Marine Corps stationed in San Diego, Calif., stand charged with tying Mrs. Cooper to a chair in her home, taking about $100 and threatening her with bodily harm and after ripping out the telephone securing a cab and leaving Ellenville.

Robert McCandless had been working at hotels in the Ellenville area and he and his brother had been rooming at the Cooper place. A passerby heard Mrs. Coper's calls for help, went next door to the Medical Center and called police. Chief Rand summoned state police and the men were apprehended near Hurley shortly after by troopers. Richard W. Griggs appeared for the McCandless brothers.

Also adjourned to May 10 at 11 a. m. before County Judge Raymond Mino were the five cases involving men accused of entering the Edson Drug store in Wallkill last March 8.

Richard D. Brown, Robert W. Dane, Kenneth W. Allen, Joseph W. McKeon and Anthony L. S. DeSoltis were arrested at gunpoint when their presence in the store was observed by a neighbor.

Court recessed until Wednesday at 11 a. m.

treasurer, were named on 25 counts of the two indictments.

These cover the years from 1956 to 1958 when, the government contends, the Westlake firm listed 10,932 hours worked while the total was 6,370.

The second indictment lists 39 counts covering from May 1958 to March 1960. It named Westlake, Conley, and his son C. Darrell Conley. The father has been president of the firm since 1958 and the son vice president. The government says Westlake sought payment for 12,142 hours when employes worked 8,568.

The elder Conley, a Republican, also is the county surrogate and the judge of Children's Court. He is a past state president of the Children's Court Judges Association.

Westlake manufactures tools, dies, and machine parts as a subcontractor. It employs between 35 and 40 persons.

In another case, Pettenelli Used Auto Parts Inc. of Rome and its president, James Gattari, were fined a total of $500 on charges of non-payment of overtime to employes and failure to keep records.

Gattari was placed on six months probation and ordered to pay the employes $1,200. Judge Stephen W. Brennan imposed the sentence.

Motor vehicle fatalities in the first half of 1960 resulted in 23,000 life insurance death claims for a total of 62 million dollars, according to the Institute of Life Insurance.

Guide on Doctor Fees Mailed Out By Medical Assn.

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — A new and controversial American Medical Association plan to guide doctors in setting their fees is being mailed to doctors now, a spokesman for the AMA says.

The plan, which is still subject to change, does not set fees but suggests a relative value for each service.

For example, says Dr. Waring Willis of the AMA's Economics Committee, each service is given a certain number of units. A house call might be worth one unit and a minor operation 10 units.

So if a physician charges $5 for a house call, he would charge $50 for a minor operation, Dr. Willis said.

The plan was announced Monday at opening sessions of the Medical Society of New York State's five-day convention here.

At an earlier session, the state society approved a resolution requiring its members to join the American Medical Association. The action will give the state eight more delegates in the AMA and make it the largest delegation in the association.

About 8,000 physicians in the 26,000-member state society do not belong to the AMA. It is believed that membership will be required by 1963.

Dr. Willis said the AMA's fee recommendations take into account the frequency of the treatment given, the amount of training needed, and the time it takes.

Dr. Herbert Berger of Staten Island, an internist, said he opposes the schedule because it does not allow for the specialist, whose extra training is worth more to the patient. Dr. Willis said that unless the doctor's specialty is actually being used, the patient should not pay more.

Little League In Grave Crisis In Woodstock

As a matter of policy this column does not editorialize or normally handle sports items.

But the plight of the Little League in Woodstock is so acute we feel compelled to disregard these policies. There are very few people in the township who realize how perilously close to extinction the Little League is.

There are brave and civic-minded men like Augustine Baptiste, Jack Littel, Lloyd Gibson and Vincent Quinn, who are willing to devote their time and energy and some of their own money to keep the Little League baseball alive in our town. But they can't do it alone.

It seems incredible that of the potential total of 60 fathers of Little League players in Woodstock, there are not a dozen who will assume the supervisory responsibilities needed to operate the league.

The Little League needs money badly, but there is a more desperate need for adult supervision, officers, coaches, managers and umpires. There is little doubt that enough money can be raised to finance the 1961 season. At the moment there is grave doubt that Woodstock, a town which prides itself in accomplishment, beauty and culture, can produce the needed twelve or more men.

The moment of decision is Thursday, May 11, at 8 p. m. in the town fire hall. The future of Little League baseball in Woodstock rests squarely with the decisions that are reached Thursday night. All persons who are willing to volunteer services for LL are invited to attend this meeting. Failure of the Little League to re-organize would be a shameful indictment of our town.

On Summer Staff At Union College

George Odell of Hurley, a member of the faculty at Onteora Central School, has been notified of his appointment to the summer teaching staff at Union College, Schenectady.

Odell will assist in teaching a special advanced Placement Chemistry program for high school students. The course will grant six academic credits. Prof. Robert Dininny of the Department of Chemistry, Union College, will be in charge of the program slated to be held during the period of July 3-August 11.

League to Send Three Delegates To State Parley

The Woodstock League of Women Voters will send three delegates to the League's state convention, May 16-17, at Niagara Falls, Mrs. Betty Schwarz, president, has announced.

The delegates are Miss Florence Hubbard, Mrs. Walter Balk and Mrs. Michael Earnest. They will be joining delegates from all over the state in electing new officers and board members at a state level and in choosing the studies which New York State League will make during the next two years.

Among past studies by Leagues in this state has been an extensive one on statewide Permanent Personal Registration. On May 11, Mrs. Hans Cohn and several other members of the Woodstock League will join with members of the Kingston and New Paltz leagues in attending the meeting of the Ulster County Board of Supervisors. At this time they will urge the Board of Supervisors to support legislation to institute P.P.R. in all New York State counties.

Forum Opener Is Big Success

Twenty-four men and women enjoyed a very stimulating lecture on the subject of "International Relations" by the Rev. Rodger Brown at the Woodstock school auditorium. This was the first of a series of talks on this subject to be given by the Rev. Brown. Other sessions will be held on May 15 and May 22.

The course is being sponsored by the Woodstock League of Women Voters.

In his first talk, Rev. Brown dealt with the many considerations which go into the forming of a country's foreign policy. Questions and comments were welcomed all through the lecture and a lively discussion period followed.

Other sessions will deal with the effect of propaganda, the structure and background of the United Nations and future problems our country will have to face. The public is invited to attend these lectures at no charge.

Three Senior CE Officers Attend New York Parley

Three officials of the senior Christian Endeavor Society of the Woodstock Reformed Church attended the Middle Atlantic Regional Conference of the International Society of Christian Endeavor this past weekend at the Sheraton-Atlantic Hotel in New York City.

More than 100 youth attended the conference which was directed by James R. Westerhoff of Hawthorne, N. J. regional vice president of the International Society. The program included inspirational messages, study conferences, union reports, and fellowship, under the theme, "Forward—For Christ and the Church." Plans were made for participation in the 46th International Christian Endeavor convention to be held July 5-8 in Chicago. The 1962 regional conference is set for April 27-29 in Atlantic City.

The opening message was given by Dr. Clyde W. Meadows of Chambersburg, Pa., president of the International Society. Dr. Daniel A. Poling, president of the World's Christian Endeavor Union and editor of Christian Herald magazine, was a speaker.

The institute, sponsored by the National Science Foundation, is under the direction of Dr. Bela G. Kolossvary, professor of physics at Thiel, and is to include selected courses in the fields of physics, mathematics, chemistry and biology.

Carey wos one of some 50 persons from a field of 439 applicants to be selected for the special summer chorus.

Under the special program, participants will receive a stipend of not more than $75 per week plus an additional allowance for dependents (up to four). No tuition or fees will be charged for the six-week course. Teachers participating in the program and their families will be housed in Livingston Hall on the College campus.

Surplus Dairy Products May Be Billion Pounds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Uncle Sam may donate upwards of a billion pounds of surplus dairy products to the needy at home and abroad this dairy marketing year.

This was reported by the Agriculture Department in a report today which said government buying of butter, cheese and non-fat dry milk this year is expected to exceed that of the past year when donations totaled 965 million pounds, mostly dry milk and butter.

The department's forecast was based on a further uptrend in milk production this year—an increase not fully absorbed by an increase in consumption.

How would you play today's hand at seven hearts after West opens the five of hearts and East's seven forces your nine.

There are several ways to make the contract and many more ways to go down. Here is the elegant way Dick Frey, author of "How to Win at Contract Bridge in Ten Easy Lessons" handled the problem.

He led a heart to dummy's ace; cashed two clubs; ruffed a club with dummy's jack of trumps; returned to his hand with the ace of spades and ran off all his trumps.

East had to make four discards on the trumps. The first three were easy. He let his last two spades and one remainving small club go. The fourth was impossible. He had to hang on to his queen of clubs and, therefore, was forced to unguard his ten of diamonds, whereupon, dummy took the last four tricks with the ace, king, queen and a small diamond.

Note that if West had started with the four diamonds he would have been squeezed out of his diamond stopper by the necessity of hanging on to the king of spades.

Council Declares Bingo Law Faulty, Asks for Repeal

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — The state's bingo law "is as full of holes as a Swiss cheese," and should be repealed immediately, the State Council of Churches says.

The council, which represents Protestant denominations, was a bitter foe of a 1957 constitutional amendment that legalized bingo games sponsored by charitable and fraternal organizations.

The council issued its statement Monday night in the wake of disclosures by the State Investigation Commission that racketeers had infiltrated the game and were pocketing large profits.

Gov. Rockefeller has said he would appoint a special commission to investigate the game and recommend changes in the law.

Rev. Theodore L. Conklin, assistant general secretary of the council, said in the statement "experience has shown that petty gambling such as bingo is no exception to the rule that all gambling leads to corruption."

Javits Pushes U.S. Indian Day For Second Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—With the support of more than 2,000 school children in 22 states, Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., proposed again today creation of "American Indian Day" on the fourth Friday of each September.

A similar resolution introduced by Javits last year at the suggestion of a 7-year-old Queens, N. Y., school girl failed to win Senate approval.

Plentiful, Report On Domestic Food

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government report said today domestic supplies of food are expected to be about as plentiful this spring and early summer as a year ago.

The Agriculture Department report on the national food situation predicted that civilian demand will likely continue at a high level.

Some increase is likely in per capita consumption of chicken and turkey.

Little change from a year ago was indicated for eggs.

Compared with spring and early summer of 1960, more milk and dairy products probably will be available this season.

Less fresh fruits than a year earlier will be available until supplies from the 1961 harvests start moving to market around midyear.

NEHO

The close bond between the Prudential Insurance Company and a vigorous, historic section of America is symbolically as well as in fact — reflected by NEHO. When it established a NORTHEASTERN HOME OFFICE in Boston, an essential link in a seven-area decentralization plan, Prudential underscored its desire to serve millions of policyholders in New England and upper New York state with even greater efficiency and understanding.

Prudential agents of NEHO know many young family men . . . men just getting started on the ladder . . . whose incomes haven't yet caught up with their ability. To them they can offer a modern new modified 5-10 plan, which scales the premiums to match the family's economic progress. Although the payments for the first five years are only about half of the ultimate premium, the family is protected by the full amount of insurance . . . and the modified 5-10 plan is building cash values that can later provide a monthly retirement income.

To these policyholders, and to the millions more in this Northeastern region, NEHO reflects security in a very personal way. They're the first to tell you that a Prudential agent is a mighty good neighbor to welcome when he calls.

Rural Mail Box Program Slated For Next Week

The annual rural mail box improvement program—to assist the Postal Service in providing more efficient deliveries and to stimulate efforts to improve the appearance of the countryside—will be held May 15 to 20, the Post Office Department announced today.

The program is to encourage patrons to provide and maintain suitable mail receptacles for easy and safe accessibility, presenting a neat appearance, and affording protection to the mail.

The Post Office Department listed these suggestions for rural mail box improvement:

Boxes which are no longer serviceable should be replaced; Name of box owner should be inscribed on the side of the box visible to the carrier as he approaches, or on the door if boxes are grouped; Boxes and supports should be kept painted, preferably white, but other colors may be used; Boxes that are not properly placed, or not maintained in good serviceable condition retard the delivery of mail and expose it to the weather.

Mail boxes on rural and star routes must be located on the right side of the road in the direction of travel of the carriers in all cases where traffic conditions are such that it would be dangerous for the carriers to drive to the left in order to serve the boxes, or where their doing so would constitute a violation of state or local traffic laws and regulations. The approaches to boxes should be filled and properly graded and unobstructed at all times.

Local Editor Goes to Paper In Greene County

Arthur J. DeCelle III, who has been managing editor of the Saugerties Post for the past year, resigned that position last week to accept the position of court house reporter for the Catskill Daily Mail, as of Monday, May 8.

DeCelle came to the Saugerties Post three years ago as a reporter when the paper was a daily release. He was elevated to editor when the paper was sold by Orin Lehman to Howard Silberstein, who also owns and operates the Catskill Daily Mail and other Greene County papers. Subsequently the Post was sold to the Landers enterprises, and became a weekly paper, and DeCelle assumed the position he held until his resignation.

DeCelle formerly was with the New York World Telegram and Sun in the advertising production department. He is a graduate of St. John's University, Hillcrest, Jamaica, L. I., class of 1957. He is married and the father of three children, Arthur IV, Charles and Isabel. They reside at 132 Market Street, Saugerties.

Po'keepsie IBM Fire Burns Four, Chemical Ignites

Four employes at the IBM plant on South Road, Poughkeepsie, suffered burns of varying degree at 3:30 p. m. Monday, when fire caused by ignition of a chemical solvent occurred in the transistor manufacturing department.

A spokesman of the corporation told The Freeman that Mrs. Veronica Hinnrichs, of Glenham, suffered third degree burns. She was admitted to Highland Hospital, Beacon. Others burned were identified as, Lee Fish, of 187 Bower Road, Poughkeepsie, first degree and second degree burns; Miss Dora L. Letterio, of Beacon, second degree burns, and John Bardin, of 87 Robinson Avenue, Newburgh, minor burns.

Fish was admitted to Vassar Hospital. Miss Letterio and Bardin were taken home in care of physicians.

The four employes were given immediate first aid at the plant.

The IBM Fire Company responded to a call.

Sprinkler systems functioned immediately and extinguished the fire, which caused minor damage to the department.

Work resumed at the regular starting time today.

Woman Will See Kin First Time In Eleven Years

ATLANTA (AP)—This is probably the most exciting day in the life of a woman who has spent 51 of her 67 years as a patient in an Atlanta nursing home.

Miss Gertrude Cox plans to fly to Buffalo, N. Y., today to see her mother and sister for the first time in many years.

"I'm really looking forward to the visit," she said Monday night at the A. G. Rhodes Home, where she has been a patient all her adult life.

"I haven't seen my mother in 11 years and I may not have another chance," she said.

Her mother, Mrs. Alice B. Cox, of Buffalo, is 85 and underwent a serious operation last year.

Miss Cox also will visit her sister for the first time in 49 years. The sister, Mrs. Amy Russell, lives at Snyder, near Buffalo.

Miss Cox was 16 and had epilepsy when her mother placed her in the home. "My father died many years ago and my mother was a nurse and had nobody to take care of me," she explained.

2 Women Hurt In Albany Are Still Critical

Two county women injured Saturday night when struck by a car as they were crossing Madison Avenue, Albany, today remained in critical condition at Albany Medical Center, according to a report to The Freeman shortly before noon.

They are:

Mrs. Edna Brink, 44, of RD 5, Saugerties, (Mt. Marion) who suffered leg injuries and possible internal injuries and Mrs. Alma R. Simpkins, 67, of 137 Pinker Street, Woodstock, who received leg injuries, seven fractures, an injured hip and undetermined internal injuries.

Mrs. Brink is the wife of George Brink, Saugerties, and Mrs. Simpkins is the wife of Lamonte V. Simpkins, a Woodstock insurance man.

The two women had attended a meeting of the Daughters of the Nile, the woman's unit of the Shrine Club. They were with Mrs. Edna Morgan of 16 Cummings Avenue, this city, and other women.

Mrs. Morgan went to get her parked car in a nearby lot, and Mrs. Brink and Mrs. Simpkins were crossing the avenue when they were hit by a car operated by Theodore F. Johannssen, 20, of Salt Point Turnpike, Pleasant Valley.

Johannssen told police the women stepped in the path of his car. He applied the brakes and the vehicle skidded on wet pavement and hit the pedestrians, who were rushed to the hospital.

Mrs. Morgan, who had crossed the avenue ahead of Mrs. Simpkins and Mrs. Brink was going to drive the group to the Shrine Club where some of their husbands were attending a meeting.

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—If all goes well, Cleopatra's barge will again be floating down the Nile late this year.

This would be about 2,000 years after it sailed with the original crew and exactly one year after it was supposed to bear the latter-day Cleopatra, Elizabeth Taylor.

They're again preparing the delayed launching out at 20th Century-Fox, where no one seems daunted by the film's mishaps so far—the replacement of a director, the junking of the script, canceling of shooting after bad weather in England, Liz Taylor's near-fatal illness.

Least daunted is producer Walter Wanger, despite the loss of $5 million before the movie has been started.

"With the worldwide publicity for 'Cleopatra' and with the brilliant new conception of the story by Joe Mankiewicz, I am positive that we will have one of the great screen attractions of all times," Wanger said.

"No star has ever had the attention of the world that Liz Taylor has. I made a picture with Greta Garbo, another with Ingrid Bergman at her height. Neither of them matched the clamor that now exists for Liz."

Wanger said the shooting will resume in late August and Liz is anxious to begin. "But it can't be before that because she must have plastic surgery to cover her neck scar, and her leg is not recovered yet," he said.

Exteriors will be shot in Rome and Egypt, where the barge is under construction. The interiors will probably be filmed here, though that has not been decided yet.

His Bail for the Birds

LONDON (AP) — A judge accepted six parakeets as bail for Michael Hyland, 37, a factory foreman charged with intending to break into a store.

The judge suggested cash bail of $28 but Hyland said he didn't have the money and offered the birds instead.

TOKYO (AP)—Foreign Minister Zentaro Kosaka said today he expects to begin talks soon with U.S. Ambassador Edwin O. Reischauer on repayment of close to $2 billion of American aid Japan received in the immediate postwar years.

HomeBrewers Are Target of Soviet

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union is cracking down on home brewers.

Stiff penalties have been ordered in the Russian Federation—the largest of the Soviet republics—for anyone caught brewing alcoholic drinks at home or selling it.

Watervliet Has $Million Blaze

WATERVLIET, N. Y. (AP)—A million-dollar fire early today destroyed a truck terminal, a dozen truck-tractors and five trailers loaded with merchandise.

Firemen from Watervliet and Troy, across the Hudson River, and other communities battled the fire in the three-story brick and stone building for more than four hours.

No one was reported injured.

While firemen were fighting the fire at the Monarch Motor Freight Co. terminal, at Seventh Street and Broadway, others were sent to put out a short-lived fire at a venetian blind shop in the area.

The terminal fire downed power lines and caused a blackout in the area.

Several explosions occurred during the terminal fire, apparently from gasoline in the trucks and paint stored in the building.

The causes of the fires were not determined.

The damage estimate for the terminal was made by William Hayes, office manager.

Red Radio Hits Yuri's Skepties

LONDON (AP) — Moscow radio said today that Soviet scientists before Yuri A. Gagarin's space flight had "made it quite clear that the Soviet Union was on the threshold of sending a manned space ship on its maiden voyage."

"The actual flight, too, was announced to the world long before its successful completion was absolutely certain," said the broadcast, which termed U.S.-British criticism of the secrecy surrounding the Soviet space program "childish talk indeed."

DeGaulle Ready For Rebel Talks

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle says he is ready to discuss the future of Algeria with the rebel nationalist leaders, but he is determined to carry out his policy of Algerian self-government with or without their assent.

The president vowed in a nationwide radio-TV broadcast Monday night that the abortive army mutiny last month "will not retard the forward progress of France" and promised that leaders of the insurrection would be punished.

3 Plead Innocent To Po'keepsie Assault Charges

A 31-year-old Milton man and two Poughkeepsie men pleaded innocent before City Judge Charles O'Donnell Monday to assault charges and received adjournment until 9 a. m. Wednesday.

Butler is charged with third degree assault, accused of hitting Clarence Stevens, 55, of 117 Main Street, Poughkeepsie. Stevens was booked on a third degree assault charge, accused of hitting Butler during an incident in downtown Poughkeepsie.

Butler suffered lacerations of the back, requiring 25 stitches at Vassar Hospital. Three sutures also were required to close a laceration under his left eye.

How to Use U. S. Power Is Major JFK Dilemma

Ideas Better Than Tanks for Laos, But Not So in Defense of W. Berlin

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the major dilemmas of the Kennedy administration is not lack of military power, which it has to enormous degree, but how to use what it has to stiff-arm the advance of communism.

It can't in any situation use that power without risking war. In some places it doesn't want to take the risk—as in Laos; in others it appears willing to—as in West Berlin.

Where it is unwilling to take the risk it needs programs to win the allegiance of people who will otherwise buy communism if it seems to fit their needs.

Just because Americans despise communism, it doesn't follow that backward peoples also despise it if it offers more than they have now or can look forward to. In short, in some places ideas are better than tanks.

The administration says it is determined to defend West Berlin if the Russians try to shut it off. But it has to. The city is both the gateway to Western Europe and a symbol of Western unity.

Thus Secretary of State Dean Rusk at Oslo Monday was able to join with other foreign ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in a firm resolve to stand up for Berlin against expected Russian pressure.

This could mean war. But unless Berlin is defended, the Western alliance probably will fall apart. If so, the individual European nations will have to make their separate peace with Russia and this country will be left alone and isolated.

But the Kennedy administration has shown none of this determination in moving into Laos against the Red-led Pathet Lao guerrillas who have taken over two-thirds of the country while the United States gnawed its nails and waited for a cease-fire.

The eventual loss of all Laos to communism seems inevitable. But Laos, in an inside pocket of Asia, is a bad place for the United States to get involved militarily. There was no support for such a move in this country.

But the next, and much more important effort of communism, is in South Viet Nam. Again the United States may face the choice of intervening or seeing all Viet Nam go down the Communist drain. If it does, all Southeast Asia is open to Red pressure.

Promises May Win Out

The administration talks of training guerrilla fighters and sending them into backward countries to train natives in that kind of warfare against potential Red guerrillas.

But the basic question remains: Are the backward people anywhere going to show any interest in fighting Communists if they offer promises and programs which seem better and more immediate than anything the local government backed by this country proposes?

Last Sunday in the Washington Post reporter Warren Unna, after a trip to Southeast Asia, wrote of the war in Laos where this country backs a right-wing government and Russia backs the Pathet Lao guerrillas.

"By general acknowledgment of both American and British officials on the spot, the Pathet Lao is capable of winning any nationwide election hands down," Unna wrote.

Unna didn't say why the Laotians prefer the Pathet Lao to the American-backed right-wing government. But a guess can be made: the Pathet Lao has a program that makes more sense to the Laotians.

The story of Laos is likely to be repeated again and again in Southeast Asia and elsewhere unless this country can push the government it backs into doing more for the people than the Communists promise.

PETER J. LEONARDO

JOHN W. MARSH

PATRICK J. COLBERT

Two area servicemen in the U. S. Army are undergoing eight weeks basic training at Fort Dix, N. J.

Peter J. Leonardo, 17, son of Peter Leonardo, 28 Chapel Street, Kingston, attended Kingston High School prior to entering the service. He was assigned to Company M of the 4th Training regiment at Fort Dix.

John W. Marsh, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Marsh Jr., of Catskill, graduated from Catskill High School and attended U. S. Merchant Marine Academy. Under the RFA program he will serve on active duty for six months and then be transferred to hometown duty with an Army Reserve or National Guard unit.

With Sixth Fleet

Marine Cpl. Joseph M. Rohan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. Joseph P. Rohan of 783 Broadway, Kingston, is serving with the Third Battalion, Sixth Marine Regiment, a unit of the Second Marine Division which departed Camp Lejeune, N. C., recently, for a six-month tour of duty with the Sixth Fleet landing force in the Mediterranean.

LEAVES FOR DRILL—Marine Pfc. Patrick J. Colbert, son of Mrs. Ruth A. Colbert of 118 Second Avenue, Kingston, embarked with the Second Battalion, Sixth Marines, April 19, for more than a month of training exercises on the island of Vieques, Puerto Rico. The battalion, an infantry unit of the Second Marine Division at Camp Lejeune, N. C., will receive training in the latest infantry tactics using helicopters for the Marine Corps' revolutionary vertical envelopment landings. The marines also will have an opportunity to tour the island and visit the historic city of Isabella Segunda.

Second Holdup Is Made by Woman, Calm and Polite

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP) —A soft-spoken lady bandit has struck again.

Monday night she took $60 off Paul Gibson, who was watching television with his wife.

Sunday night she took $65 from William Frami, visitation minister of the First Baptist Church. It represented the evening's collection.

Gibson told police the woman, about 25, came to a side door of his house.

"She said she was out of gas," Gibson said. "Then she calmly said, 'Pardon me sir, this is a holdup.'"

Gibson said he handed over his wallet.

Sunday night 100 persons were attending a reception in the basement when the woman came into the church office and took the money bag containing the $65.

In both cases she was described as calm and polite but displaying a pistol to enforce her demands.

The first oil well was drilled in 1859.

Conducted by the Regent, Mrs. J. Baker Burroughs, and after the usual order of business, the following officers were elected: Regent, Mrs. J. Baker Burroughs, First Vice Regent, Mrs. R. R. Empringham; Second Vice Regent, Mrs. Walter J. McClure Jr., recording secretary, Mrs. Walter T. Tremper; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Cloyd Leslie Elias; chaplain, Miss Hazel Bloom; treasurer, Mrs. Herbert C. Foster; registrar, Mrs. W. Dale Swartzmiller; historian, Mrs. Adam H. Porter; librarian, Mrs. Conrad J. Gross.

Members for the Local Board elected were the Mmes. Albert E. Bushnell, Walter A. Perret, Claude G. Palen, Harold F. Smith and Miss Helen M. Turner.

Mrs. Burroughs and Mrs. Porter gave reports of their activities in Washington, stressing the work of the National Society, important resolutions passed, the outstanding speakers each and every one of whom praised unstintingly the DAR, stating that they were proud and honored just to stand in Constitution Hall, named the organization as dedicated patriots trying to re-sell the ideals which made America great, and the greatest single force in the country supporting the Constitution of the United States.

Walt Disney Studios in Hollywood received the DAR Award for the Best Children's Film for, "Swiss Family Robinson," and John Wayne's Studio the Award for the Best Historical Film, "The Alamo." Representatives from the studios accepted the awards.

Mrs. Harold H. Darling was welcomed as a new member of Wiltwyck Chapter, having transferred from the Saugerties Chapter.

REPUDIATING HER FATHER'S MEMORY

Q: My own father is not living and I'd like my mother and stepfather to send my wedding invitations worded "their daughter." My stepfather has always been exceptionally good to me and I am very fond of him and I think having the invitations worded in this way would please him no end. Will you please tell me if this will be proper?

A: Nothing could be more cruel to your father's family than to have the invitations read "their daughter." You are not your stepfather's daughter no matter how much you love him. The invitations are sent out by your mother and stepfather together but worded "her daughter." Your stepfather can of course give you away.

Sending Money Instead of Flowers

Q: One of the girls in my office just lost her mother and we took up a collection to send flowers. One of the contributors, who is especially friendly with this girl, said that she and her sister (the only two left in the family) could use the money to help pay some of the funeral expenses, much more than flowers and suggested that we send a check. Will you please tell me if it would be proper to send a check instead of flowers?

A: Many people would be offended by receiving money instead of flowers, and it would be wise to have the one who is especially friendly with the bereaved girl, ask her which she would prefer.

Paying a Girl's Bus Fare

Q: When waiting on a street corner for a bus and a girl I know comes along and stands and waits for the same bus, should I pay her fare when we get on the bus, or would it seem cheap and ill-mannered on my part to let her pay her own?

A: As she is not your guest, it is not at all necessary for you to pay her fare and if she has a token or the correct change in her hand you let her pay her own. On the other hand, if she is fumbling through her purse looking for change, it would be kind of you to pay the fare for her.

How To Use Water To END YOUR CONSTIPATION WORRIES

Here's how to get to the basic root of your constipation problem. Bring enough moisture to your lower colon every day. As soon as food wastes are normally moistened, they will "move" as they should and you will enjoy daily elimination.

So do this to end your constipation worries. Take SERUTAN every day with plenty of water. SERUTAN is a pure vegetable gel which carries twenty times its weight in water to your lower digestive tract where it is needed to promote more normal regularity.

SERUTAN provides the proper moisture, bulk and peristaltic action to help keep you regular. This is utterly different from chemical laxatives which cause diarrhea and may dry you out.

Get SERUTAN today. Use it faithfully as directed for at least one week. You must enjoy daily regularity or your money back from the maker.

Republican Women Hear Guest Speaker On United Nations

Women are encouraged to participate in programs to promote international understanding, according to Mrs. Eleanor Schnurr, guest speaker at the luncheon Saturday of the Ulster County Women's Republican Club. Addressing an audience of more than 150 women at Skytop Restaurant, Mrs. Schnurr stressed the importance of the woman's role in the United Nations organizations, as well as on the local levels.

As representative of the National Federation of Women's Republican Clubs, Mrs. Schnurr was present for two very topical events—the now-famous "shoe-shaking" by Khrushchev and the riot during the address by Ambassador Stevenson. The guest speaker outlined many functions and services of United Nations organizations to her listeners, and explained many publications. Mrs. Schnurr advocated learning languages as an aid in understanding other peoples, as well as studying about the nations themselves.

Accompanying Mrs. Schnurr was her husband, A. Harry Schnurr, purchasing director, Walker Laboratory, Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center, Rye, N. Y.

Following opening remarks by Miss Alice M. Scardefield, luncheon chairman, the guest speaker was introduced by Mrs. Raymond LeFever, president, Ulster County's Women's Republican Club. The salute to the flag was led by Mrs. Arthur Hazenbush, and the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner" was led by the Bell-Ringers.

Members of the "Bell Ringers" received honorary membership cards in the organization, presented by Mrs. LeFever. Those accepting the cards were: The Misses Pamela Schomer, Patricia Dunham, Melinda Dunham, Mary Jane LeFever, Ellen St. John, Mimi Stang, and Gloria Fabiano. Miss Cordelia Feltman accepted hers and and the Bell Ringers chairman, Miss Madge Peters, who was unable to attend the luncheon.

At the head table were club officers and guests: Mrs. Raymond LeFever, president; Mrs. Eleanor Schnurr, guest speaker, and her husband, A. Harry Schnurr; Mrs. Walter Caunitz, Miss Alice M. Scardefield, Mrs. William Krum, Mrs. John Schomer, Mrs. Frank Campochiaro, and Miss Marianne Davis. Prominent guests included: Mrs. Kenneth Wilson, Mrs. Raymond Mino, Mrs. Edward Snyder. Ticket chairman for the luncheon was Mrs. John Salapatis.

Five members of the Ulster County Women's Republican Club also attended the dinner Friday, May 5, at the Nelson House in Poughkeepsie, sponsored by the Women's Republican Club of Dutchess County. The featured speaker of the evening was Congressman John V. Lindsay of New York City.

The members attending were: Mmes. Raymond Le Fever, president; Joseph Knubben, William Krum, and Miss Cordelia Feltman and Miss Marianne Davis.

Breakfast Speaker For Presentation Women's Club Here

REV. CHARLES BRINKMANN

A Redemptorist Missionary priest has been named guest speaker for the annual communion breakfast planned by members of the Presentation Women's Club. He is the Rev. Charles Brinkmann.

Scheduled for Sunday, May 21, members of the club will first attend the 8 a. m. Mass at Presentation Church in Port Ewen. Breakfast will be served at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

For the past three years, Father Brinkmann has been assigned to the town of Pedro Juan Cabellero in Paraguay. Part of the town lies in Paraguay and part in Brazil. Father Brinkmann, in order to carry on his missionary work, has learned to speak Spanish, Portuguese and Guarani, the native Indian language.

Father Brinkmann is known as Padre Carlito to his parishioners in Pedro Juan Cabellero. He acquired widespread fame in the country when during the recent uprising in Paraguay he remained alone and unarmed to face the invading rebels. Because of his heroism the rebels spared the town and property of thousands of evacuated families.

Father Brinkmann amazes the natives with his abilities as a catechist, linguist, preacher, mechanic, musician, electrician, photographer and marksman. He proved his marksmanship when he shot down a tiger that had been praying on cattle.

The missionary received his education at St. Boniface Parochial School in Philadelphia, St. Mary's College, North East, Pa., St. Mary's College Novitiate, Ilchester, Md., and Mt. St. Alphonsus, the Redemptorist seminary in Esopus.

June 12 Hearing Set for Dutchess Judge Salary Hike

A resolution was received Monday by the Dutchess County Board of Supervisors from a Judiciary committee which would increase the salary of County Judge John R. Schwartz from $17,000 to $20,000 a year if he loses the $3,000 he now receives for duties in Children's Court.

Another resolution which would, if approved in June, establish a separate Children's Court judgeship in Dutchess County, also was introduced. The new judge would be elected at the November election.

Both resolutions were referred to the Board's Judiciary committee and Budget and Finance committee, for study and recommendations.

A public hearing was scheduled for the Board's next meeting on June 12 to discuss the proposed salary increase for the county judge.

Judge Schwartz now receives a salary of $17,000 as County Judge and an additional $3,000 for duties in Children's Court. The new judge of Children's Court would be paid an annual salary of $7,500.

Your Vacation Often Tips Off Who Is Boss

RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Who's boss in your family? who picks the vacation spots? That's often what decides.

If you spend your whole vacation visiting your relatives—it's a cinch you dreamed up the trip and pushed it through.

If you decide to rough it, which means going off to the wilds where your husband can fish and hunt and you can fish and hunt—and also cook meals, wash dishes and fight mosquitoes—it's a pretty safe guess it was his idea.

If you go to a fashionable resort (that necessitates your buying a complete new wardrobe) and come back with stories of the important people you met, you can be quite sure the woman in your family made the decision.

And, of course, if he spends his two weeks vacation on a hunting trip with his pals, magnanimously letting you take the kids to your mother's for a visit while he is away, he's really running things!

But if you come back talking about old school friends of yours you looked up, the amusing tearooms you ate in, the shopping you did, then you bossed the trip.

So maybe we shouldn't do so much talking about our vacations, after all. Not unless we want our friends to know who's boss in the family.

$25,000 Award Is Made to Woman For Car Injuries

Mrs. Frederick J. Yesse of Port Ewen was awarded $25,000 in Supreme Court Monday for injuries which she sustained in July 1959 when the car of her husband and that of Henry Smith of New Jersey were in collision near Mirror Lake Lodge Ulster Park.

A "no cause" verdict was returned in the action of Mr. Yesse who sought to recover for injuries, damage to his car and for medical bills and loss of services.

Mr. and Mrs. Yesse were en route to their home in Port Ewen, traveling north on Route 9W when near a motel at Ulster Park they alleged the Smith car traveling south crossed the highway to enter the motel. Mrs. Yesse was very severely injured about the face, the car was wrecked and Mr. Yesse was also injured, it was disclosed.

Michael Nardone appeared for plaintiffs and Francis X. Tucker of Cook and Cook appeared for defendant. The action was tried before Supreme Court Justice Kenneth S. MacAffer and a jury.

Underground Car Project Collapses

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) —A huge underground auto parking area project collapsed with a roar Monday night, creating a vast chasm filled with twisted scaffolding on fashionable Wilshire Boulevard.

No injuries were reported at the site of the four-floor excavation, scheduled to be completed next year.

Police said the cave-in apparently was caused by a ruptured water main beneath the half-block long site.

The parking area was being built beneath the multimillion-dollar California Bank building, now under construction.

Water from a broken main was gushing into a hole nearly 90 feet deep, filled with scaffolding, broken concrete and timbers.

Police closed all but two lanes of Wilshire Boulevard after the street sank about 1½ feet, near the pit.

Area Engineers To Hear Talk on Flight Safety

Members of the Mid-Hudson Section of The American Society of Mechanical Engineers will meet Wednesday, May 17 at 8 p. m. at the IBM research auditorium, Boardman Road, Poughkeepsie, to hear Carl F. Schmidt, engineering director of Flight Safety Foundation, Inc., New York City.

His topic will be The Engineer's Responsibility for Air Safety. A sound film with slides will illustrate the talk. A special effort is being made to invite the men and women of the community to attend, due to the general interest of the topic to be discussed.

The speaker will discuss the objectives of the Flight Safety Foundation which is to assist engineers in the air transportation business in achieving the highest possible degree of safety for the flying public.

Methods of operation the Foundation include exchange of incident information, educational programs with pilots and engineers, cooperative programs with other organizations, and crash injury research.

As engineering director, Schmidt is responsible for the direction of engineering studies and preparation of safety information for operators, manufacturers and general aviation, planning of and technical advice on experimental projects in crash injury research and the supervising of activities of the Foundation.

Schmidt received his B. S. from the University of Illinois and M. Aero. Eng., from New York University. He has been associated with Lockheed Aircraft Corp. in operations engineering, flight test engineering and service engineering and market research. He also has been associated with Trans World Airlines and American Export Airlines in various engineering capacities.

STERLING, Colo. (AP) — The Journal-Advocate reports its latest count shows only four mules left in Logan County. There were 56 in 1952.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Astronaut Alan B. Shepard Jr., has emerged as the first big new TV star of the year. At a 60-minute news conference Monday carried by the three major networks, the hero of America's first manned space flight proved attractive, modest, quick-witted and flashed a delightful sense of humor.

The boyish-looking pilot fielded questions from a large gathering of reporters in Washington with a poised and easy air. He consistently used the word "we" in discussing the flight, explaining that "I am acutely aware of the hundreds who made this flight possible."

Before taking the questions, Shepard—with a grin—introduced his wife, his parents, his sister and his in-laws. At intervals he referred questions to officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and to fellow astronaut Gus Grissom. He made frequent reference to his six colleagues who shared the stage with him.

The televised news conference was preceded by two formal speeches by NASA officials which could have been dispensed with. Those in charge also permitted the session to continue too long—to a point where the questions were slow in coming.

NBC's interest in Cmdr. Shepard's progress was so great that the network postponed for a week the premiere of a new Western, "Whispering Smith." Instead, there was a 30-minute taped report of highlights of the astronaut's big day for the few who missed the live coverage and the regular evening TV news shows.

But that wasn't quite as free-handed a gesture as it seemed. The network has a sponsor ready and willing to pick up the bill for spur-of-the-moment news programs.

Recommended tonight: "The Renegade," NBC, 10-11 (EDT)—adventure during the first Battle of Bull Run, with Steve Cochran and Richard Ney.

NEW SUNDAY SCHOOL OFFICERS—Sunday school officials of Tillson Reformed Church were named at a recent meeting in the church. They are (l-r) Margaret Sutherland, superintendent; Carol Rowe, assistant superintendent, reappointed, and Patricia Markle, newly appointed trustee. (Freeman photo).

FOOD FOR AMERICANS

Pineapple Molds to Grace Showers

HANDSOME pineapple bell molds are the center of attraction (next to the bride-to-be) at a spring bridal shower.

GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

May brings a flurry of showers for the bride-to-be, generally either a luncheon or high tea. A background garland of sweetheart roses in ferns adds a note of romance to the table; tiny paper parasols provide appropriate favors, and be-ribboned gifts are piled around the table for the bride-to-be.

Pineapple wedding bell molds might decorate the center of the table. Wedding bell and heart-shape tea sandwiches and a miniature bride's cake should be part of the menu. Plan the menu carefully so there will be a minimum of last-minute work. Incidentally, the miniature bride's cake should have a tiny wedding ring, wrapped in wax paper, baked in it. The girl who finds it will be the next to be married—or at least that's the way the story goes.

Pineapple Bell Molds
(Yield: 6 servings)

2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
2 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon salt
1½ cups water, divided
1 8-ounce package cream cheese
4 tablespoons lemon juice
2 cans (9 ounces each) crushed pineapple
1 cup heavy cream, whipped

Mix together gelatin, sugar and salt in a saucepan. Stir in 1 cup of the water. Place over low heat, stirring constantly until gelatin and sugar are dissolved. Remove from heat; stir in remaining ½ cup water. Mash cream cheese; gradually blend in gelatin mixture. Stir in lemon juice and pineapple.

Chill until mixture is cooled and mounds slightly when dropped from a spoon. Fold in heavy cream. Turn into a 6-cup mold; chill until firm. Unmold on salad greens.

Note: If desired, recipe may be doubled and turned into two 6-cup molds.

Kingston Rotary Will Dedicate Meditation Room

The Kingston Rotary Club is preparing to conduct dedication ceremonies Wednesday, May 24, for the new Meditation Room at the Kingston Hospital. These ceremonies, which will be held during the regular Rotary meeting at the Governor Clinton Hotel, mark the completion of a three year program to provide this facility for hospital patients and their friends.

The need for such a room, for personal meditation and consultation with members of the clergy, was suggested to the Rotary Club in 1958 by one of its members, the Rev. J. Dean Dykstra. The project was started under his chairmanship and has proceeded through three administrations until its completion at the present time.

The Kingston Ministerial Association was prompt to agree with the value of this Meditation Room, and has contributed $1000 toward the total cost of $4,000 for the installation. Valuable cooperation was also offered by the directors and administrator of the hospital, who allocated the necessary space for the Meditation Room.

After the dedication on May 24, the hospital administration will assume responsibility for maintenance of this new room.

Dr. Milton M. Grover, president-elect of Rotary, has been instrumental during the entire three year period in carrying out this project. Other Rotarians who have participated are: John Barton, Donald Cooper, Clarence Dickert, August Foerschler, Adrian Kaplan, Joseph O'Connor, William O'Reilly, Arthur Patterson, Sam Pepper, Dr. Herbert Schwartz, and Theodore Young.

Penthouse for Birds

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—There's a pigeon penthouse atop the modern Boston Store in downtown Springfield. Louis B. Margolis, executive manager of the store, says he understands the birdhouse was specified in the sales agreement between the store and Second Presbyterian Church when the church sold the lot 40 years ago. But Henry P. Quentin, assistant manager in 1921, says it was a matter of sympathy; the pigeons lived in the church belfry. However, while the birdhouse remains, it has been vacant for many years. Apparently the elevator in a shaft just below it makes too much noise.

Home for Aged Introduces New Nonresidence Plan

It's no secret that the longer older people can stay in their own homes, the happier they are likely to be.

About 20 older women in a big city are enjoying this independent kind of living, thanks to a new project of a progressive-minded home for older people.

This is a "nonresidence" plan which offers such special services as nursing care in the person's own residence and a chance to have meals at the home for older people.

Or maybe, as in the case of Mrs. C, the nonresident will spend several weeks at home, convalescing after surgery.

Mrs. C. also has taken advantage of consultations on daily living problems with the home's social worker and on her personal financial affairs with the home's treasurer.

She is a special guest of the home on such occasions as her birthday and holidays. She is a regular member of a weekly study group of home residents.

What does membership in the nonresident plan cost Mrs. C and the other participants, women whose ages range from 63 to 85?

They pay $2,500, which is half the entrance fee to the home. If they want to eat meals at the home, they pay 50 cents for lunch, $1 for dinner.

When they apply for nonresident membership, they must agree that when they are admitted as a permanent resident they will pay the rest of the fee and also meet the other requirements for admission.

If, while they are nonresidents, they decide they don't want to live permanently in the home, they can get back their $2,500, less what the home has spent on them. If they should die while they are nonresidents, their estates will get the same refund.

The home's director said the plan has a wonderful psychological effect on its participants.

"They feel independent and yet protected," she says. "They know they will be taken care of if they become ill.

"They know that when they do make up their minds to become permanent residents of our home they have priority on accommodations.

"Many of our nonresidents still have jobs. They drive cars. They feel they aren't ready for life in a home for the aged.

"Yet, the nonresidence plan is giving them a chance to get acquainted with living in such a home. It isn't easy to adjust to such things as sharing laundry and bath facilities.

"But for these women the adjustment is likely to be fairly simple. They already will have had a taste of group living."

Q—I am a 43-year-old housewife. My husband is 53. I'm not very well and can't do much outside work. If I should become widowed, must I wait until I am 62 before I can collect social security benefits based on my husband's earnings? —Mrs. L. E. R.

A—Yes, unless you have in your care a child under 18 or an older disabled child who suffered the disability before he reached 18.

Q—I am a man of 60. How many quarters will I need to be eligible for social security benefits when I am 65?—F. K.

A—Twenty quarters or five years work.

Saugerties Dinner to Honor Prominent Citizen on May 18

A prominent citizen of Saugerties, John C. Sauer, known for his many contributions to the civic and cultural life of his community, will be honored with a testimonial dinner given by Saugertes Area Chamber of Commerce Thursday, May 18 at the Flamingo Restaurant.

The occasion will serve as the annual dinner of the Chamber, and tickets are available to the public, Peter Murphy, chairman of the social committee announced this week.

Honored by Chamber

Sauer, a widely-known real estate and insurance agent was recently named an outstanding member of the Chamber.

His long career in village politics and service to the community includes 12 years as Chamber vice president and eight successive years as president. These are described by many as the most productive years of the Town and Village of Saugerties until the recent expansion of the area.

The first taste of success in politics was in the fall of 1919 when Sauer was elected town tax collector. In the ensuing years he was elected several times as town tax assessor.

He served four two-year terms on the Village Board but failed to attain the local mayoralty post when he was defeated in the spring of 1933. That same fall Sauer was reelected as town tax assessor by a very large majority.

Headed Scout Drive

Sauer's community service includes over a decade as Town of Saugerties Boy Scout finance chairman during which time his campaigns exceeded all quotas.

For many years he assisted in the financial drives of the Cancer Fund, Red Cross, and many others, usually as special gifts committee chairman; campaigns for the Chamber of Commerce, Fourth of July Celebration and Christmas Tree Lighting fund drives on which he served as chairman.

He served as Chamber vice president for some 12 years under the late W. Hoyt Overbagh, as president. Overbagh was also a dedicated public spirited citizen.

During his eight years as Chamber president Sauer was a member of the Village Board and successfully spearheaded the drive for the construction of the municipal building which was approved by public referendum. The building was 60 per cent financed by federal funds. Sauer also assisted in securing sufficient land to erect the building. He was also responsible for selecting the site and negotiating the sale of the land to the federal government for the present post office building.

Spearheaded Projects

As a member of the Chamber and the Village Board he successfully brought about the widening of Partition Street in the business area.

For some 20 years the Chamber had on its agenda as a "must" project, plans for a community bathing beach. The late Mr. Overbagh, along with Sauer, originally sponsored this project. Unfortunately, Overbagh did not live to see the project accomplished.

The opportunity presented itself in 1947 but no funds were available to secure the site of the present beach. In order to acquire the property, Sauer personally purchased, improved the grounds, built bathhouses and other facilities, and offered it to the village at a figure below the cost and improvements, $8,500. The next step was Village Board approval.

The first election in 1948 ended in a tie vote and it therefore became necessary for Sauer to retain and maintain the beach until another election in 1949. At that time the project was approved. However due to the scarcity of waterfront property in the area, the owner's appraised value was set at $12,000.

Village Now Owns Beach

Because of the board's action at that time, Saugerties has its own municipal bathing beach which is partially supported by state aid for recreation allotments.

Prominent in many youth activities, Sauer served as first president of Saugerties Lions Club Little League and was re-elected seven years to that post.

JOHN C. SAUER

In other activities, he is a past president and charter member of Saugerties Lions Club; vice president of Saugerties Savings and Loan Association, he has been a director of the bank and board member since 1933; a member for 38 years of Kingston Lodge 550, BPO of Elks; Lamouree Hackett Post 72, American Legion; 78th Division, Veterans Association; 40 & 8 Grande Voiture 381; an exempt member of the former Mulford Engine (volunteer firemen's) Company, Glasco; Saugerties Exempt Firemen's Association; Saugerties Fish and Game Club; Ulster County, New York State and National Real Estate Boards Inc., and New York State and National Association of Insurance Agents, Inc.

Starts Own Business

He embarked in the real estate business in Saugerties in 1922, added insurance lines in 1929. His first office consisted of desk space in a small office then jointly occupied by John A. Snyder Insurance Agency and Saugerties Savings and Loan Association. Sauer has assisted in the development and was sole selling agent for the following Saugerties residential areas: Notch View Park, West Saugerties; Blue Mountain Heights; Oakledge Park, Treis Terrace and Knaust Development, all in the village.

A native Saugertiesian, he was born August 1, 1893 at the former Pleasant Valley Inn (PVI) at Sauer's Bridge, Route 9W, Glenerie and assisted in operating the hotel with his parents until early in 1918. He entered military service during World War I and served overseas with Machine Gun Company, 311th Infantry, 78th Division, known as the Lightning Division.

His education, described by himself as limited, consisted of Glasco Public School and Spencer's Business College where he graduated as an accountant.

He was married to the former Rose A. Treis, who died in September 1959. The Sauers had two daughters and a son, all married, and each union was blessed with one grandchild.

Son Joins Firm

His son, John F. Sauer, is now associated with him in the Sauer Agency on Main Street, opposite the post office.

Reservations for the testimonial may be made at the Chamber office in the Amrod Building, Partition Street, or by contacting Chairman Murphy.

High School Baseball Team Decisions Port Jervis, 5-2

WAS 1ST LO(E)S?—Billy Loes, a problem child since he first came around with the Brooklyn Dodgers 11 years ago, has suddenly become a star starting pitcher for the San Francisco Giants. He already has won as many games as he did with the same club throughout all last season.

Three 6th Frame RunsEarnMaroon 1st DUSO Victory

By ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

Combining a brilliant defense with the three hit pitching of Bob Dunn, Kingston High School pushed over three runs in the sixth inning to defeat Port Jervis, 5-2, in a rain threatened DUSO League game yesterday at Dietz Stadium.

In another loop test at Poughkeepsie, sophomore Billy Gray hurled the Middies to a 2-1 victory over Sam J. Kalloch's hard hitting team.

The standings now read like this:

Team	Won	Lost
Newburgh	4	0
Kingston	1	1
Poughkeepsie	1	2
Middletown	1	2
Port Jervis	1	3

Thursday's schedule:
Newburgh at Poughkeepsie
Middletown at Kingston

Except for the fourth inning, Dunn was a complete pitcher. His mates staked him to a two run lead in the second frame but the Porters rallied to knot the count in the fourth.

The Winning Rally

Then in the sixth, Ron Secreto walked to start the rally. A sacrifice by Eric Broberg sent Secreto to second and a double by Mike Ferraro scored the third sacker. Paul Natale also followed with a double and Ferraro touched home plate. Walks to Frank Allen and Vince Smedes loaded the bases and another run scored on an infield out.

Coach Al Gruner's club had tallied two runs in the second inning off Bruce Hinkley of the Porters when Natale walked, Celuch reached base on an error, the catcher threw into right field on an attempted pickoff play and then Smedes delivered a single to right.

Dunn breezed along until the fourth when Don Backus singled. With one out Tommy Coleman also rapped a safety. An infield out and a passed ball brought home the two runs.

The game was played in a drizzle from the second inning on but the defensive play on both sides was outstanding. Of course, the boys are used to playing in the rain by this time. There are sprinkles outside almost every day.

Dunn exhibited flawless control and he struck out seven. Hinkley walked and fanned a pair and was touched for six hits, two of them by Ferraro.

The box score:

Share 6 Points As Costello Is Blanked by Foe

With Buzzy Costello suffering a rare shutout defeat, Kingston High's varsity golf squad went to its second line strength Monday to edge a strong Port Jervis High team, 6½ to 5½, in a DUSO League match on the par-73 Port Jervis Country Club links.

Lauren Beaver and Robert Bechtold, the No. 3 and No. 4 players, respectively, in the Kingston lineup scored 3-0 shutouts to salvage the crucial victory.

Port Jervis hosts Newburgh Academy today and figures to beat the Goldbacks, who are at Twalfskill next Monday for a showdown with Kingston.

The team came within one stroke of carding four 78's, as Costello posted low gross, 40-37-77, four over par. Fred Woerner, the No. 1 Red and Black player, matched the card with 37-36-73 to blank Costello.

Tryouts Set in Woodstock For New Area Ball Club

Area baseball players have been invited to a tryout for a Woodstock entry in the Catskill Mountain baseball league this summer.

The tryout will be held under the direction of Edward S. Witko Thursday at 6:30 p. m. at Andy Lee Memorial Field in Woodstock, where the home games will be played.

Dick Bartsch will be affiliated with Witko in handling the team, if a franchise is secured in the mountain league which began operations in 1960.

Witko said he felt there were enough players available to assemble a team of Catskill Mountain League calibre in the Woodstock-Onteora district area.

Toronto Leafs In Dismal Start

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Toronto's Maple Leafs could wind up the No. 1 disappointment in the International League this season if they continue their present baseball ways.

Exhibiting anything but the kind of ball that won them the championship in 1960, the Maple Leafs now have lost eight of their last nine games. They suffered their fifth straight licking last night being bombed 8-1 by San Juan's Marlins.

The loss left the Leafs staggering in seventh place. Richmond's Virginians, meanwhile, inched nearer the league-leading Columbus Jets by edging Syracuse 1-0 on Bill Bethel's three-hitter.

Jersey City's tilt at Columbus was rained out. Rochester and Buffalo were not scheduled.

Despite Bethel's fine performance, Richmond needed an unearned run to best the Chiefs. Bethel faced only 16 batters until Willie Miranda got the first hit off the Virginian right-hander with one out in the sixth. He walked three and struck out five.

Richmond, now trailing Columbus by only half a game, scored the game's only tally in the second. Don Lock reached base on an error and scored after singles by George Risley and Ritchie Windle.

EasternLoopRace 2-Team Affair

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Eastern League race right now appears to be shaping up into a two-way battle between Springfield and Binghamton.

Binghamton moved to within half game of first-place Springfield Monday night by defeating Williamsport, 10-7 behind an 11-hit attack in the rain-curtailed contest. The Giants, meanwhile, were rained out at Reading.

In the only other activity, Lancaster snapped its three - game losing streak with a 5-4 victory over Johnstown in the opener of a double - header. But Johnstown bounced back to take the nightcap 7-5.

Binghamton, sparked by Horace Clarke, Rich Barry and Charley Keller, scored 10 runs in the first four innings, then hung on for the victory. Clarke collected four hit including a triple. Barry homered and Keller belted a triple and a single. Williamsport had score two runs in the top of the ninth and had two men on with none out when rain ended the game.

Surprise

CUYAHOGA FALLS, Ohio — (NEA)—A workout scheduled for Unmarked, a three-year-old filly, at Ascot Park had to be postponed. Jim Thornburg, the filly's owner, arrived at the track early and looked in on Unmarked. He saw an object on the straw beside her. It turned out to be a colt foal. "I bought Unmarked last July and ran her several times at Sunshine Park," said Thornburg, who had no idea the filly was in foal. Thornburg is trying to trace the breeding of the foal, possibly pasture-bred.

Jaycee Eagles Top Crows, 5-3

A two inning barrage by the Eagles proved enough to defeat the Crows, 5-3, on a rain soaked Jaycee Little League field last night.

The Eagles held a 2-0 margin until the bottom of the third when the Crows bounced back with three markers, sparked by Dave Stewart's second hit of the game.

Not to be outdone, the Eagles exploded with three of their own in the fourth with a John Denter double being the big blow. When the Eagles came to bat in the fifth inning, they scored four runs but then the tilt was halted because of darkness.

Steve Guzewich went the distance for the winners, fanning seven and issuing three passes. Mike Hawkins had two singles for the Eagles.

Tonight's tilt lists the Owls (0-1) against the Wrens (0-1).

The line score:

Crows ..... 0 0 3 0 —3 4

Steve Guzewich and Ken Sayles; Arty Davis, Steve Sier, Rich McSpirit and Tommy Walsh.

*Game called on account of darkness with the Eagles at bat in the fifth.

Auburn, Erie Get NYP Victories

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three-run homers in the eighth inning can pull a game out of the fire quickly, but they didn't do the job for Jamestown and Elmira Monday night.

Jamestown's Jim Rooker sent one over the wall with two men aboard at Auburn last night, but that was all the Tigers got out of their eighth inning as the Yanks hung on for a 10-9 victory.

The victory sent Auburn into third place and dropped Jamestown to fourth.

Bill Tomaselli's three-run job pulled Elmira to a 4-4 tie with Erie but the Sailors scored the clincher in the ninth on Sonny Pittaro's double and Len Vento's single for a 5-4 triumph.

At Wellsville, the Braves got a two-run double from pitcher Haze McIntyre in a 4-3 conquest of Batavia in a rain-shortened game. The victory was McIntyre's first of the year.

Geneva at Olean was rained out.

Sophomore Star Joins Stith In Sick Bed

OLEAN, N.Y. (AP)—Sophomore basketball star Freddie Crawford, 20, who was counted on to fill All-America Tom Stith's shoes at St. Bonaventure next season, will join Stith instead in a tuberculosis sanatorium.

Crawford's physician said Monday night the high-scoring forward has the disease in both lungs.

Word of Crawford's illness came a week after it was discovered that Stitch, the nation's third-ranked collegiate scorer last season, had tuberculosis in one lung. The two roomed together at St. Bonaventure.

The news was a double blow to the little school's chances of regaining its third spot in the national rankings next season. St. Bonaventure Coach Eddie Donovan left to coach the New York Knickerbockers of the National Basketball Association Monday.

Crawford, one of the top sophomores in the nation last season, scored 614 points and pulled down 281 rebounds. He averaged almost 22 points a game, second only on the squad to Stith, who averaged more than 29.

Crawford's physician said he would be transferred to Mt. Morris Sanatorium near Rochester late this week from St. Francis Hospital. Stith has been in the sanatorium since Friday.

"We have strong hopes that Freddie will be able to return to school in September but basketball is out for this coming season," the doctor said. "I think he has a good chance a year from now."

The doctor said Crawford probably would be hospitalized about three or four months.

Stith's physicians say the earliest he could return to the game would be a year from this fall.

Golembiewski Is Eliminated In the Masters

DETROIT (AP)—The American Bowling Congress Masters tournament set about the process of determining a new champion today with the 1960 defending titlist out of the running.

Defending champion Bill Golembiewski got his walking papers Monday night after losing two matches—one to his best friend and one to an unheralded stranger.

The spindly Detroit star was dumped in the first round by his teammate and buddy, Joe Joseph. Joseph cut loose with a 950 series, the second best-four-game set in the tournament, against Golembiewski's 800.

Roommates for several years, Joseph and Golembiewski have a pact whereby they split all tournament and television earnings.

Bill Gaume, a longshot from Canton, Ohio, was Golembiewski's final undoing. Gaume shot only 772 but Golembiewski got only 738.

Chief threats in the undefeated ranks, now down to eight include Don Carter, Ray Bluth, Bill Welu and Dick Hoover, all of St. Louis. Joseph and Joe Kristof of Chicago, Nick Longarzo of Lodi, N.J., and Stan Gifford of Abilene, Tex., are also untarnished.

The Masters ends Wednesday night.

Speedway Drivers Scan Forecast

INDIANAPOLI S(AP) — Drivers and car owners, only four days away from the start of qualifications for the 500-mile race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, pinned their hopes on a forecast of clearing weather today.

Practice time has been curtailed sharply because of frequent and heavy rain. It fell much of the time Monday, and water stood at the inner edges of the track.

The fastest qualifier Saturday will start the race May 30 in the pole position—the inside place in the front row. Qualifications are scheduled also for Sunday, May 20 and May 21.

Jensen Returns With HR, Single But Bosox Bow

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Jackie Jensen has been retired twice now, and at least three Los Angeles pitchers would like to know how he did it.

They couldn't even retire him once Monday night, when the 34-year-old outfielder rejoined the Boston Red Sox and gave a dramatic demonstration of why they missed him.

The Angels beat the Red Sox 6-5, but it wasn't Jensen's fault. He walked his first two times up—scoring a run the second time—and hit his first homer of the season when he came up again in the seventh. He got a single in the next inning. Jensen also made a spectacular play on defense, sprinting to the right-field fence in the fifth to grab a line drive by Albie Pearson.

"Too bad the club couldn't win," Jackie said, "but it felt good just to be back in there playing again."

Asked about his fine catch, Jensen said: "Oh, I make 'em all look like that—hard."

Jensen, who walked out on the Red Sox last week without telling anyone, wouldn't discuss his decision to return. Instead, he had a mimeographed statement distributed to reporters.

"I made a very hasty decision last week when I left the club in Cleveland," the statement said, "and, as Ive already told (manager) Mike Higgins. . . ., I regret not only that decision but also the manner in which I left the team."

Donovan New Knick Mentor

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Eddie Donovan, a highly successful college coach at St. Bonaventure, will try to make the big jump into professional basketball next season with the New York Knickerbockers.

Coaching the Knicks has become a thankless job in recent years as the teams fortunes drooped. The last victim to get the axe was Carl Braun, former star player, who was given his release Monday to make way for Donovan.

"I am tickled to death to have him (Donovan)," said Ned Irish, president of Madison Square Garden which operates the Knicks in the National Basketball Association. "I don't think I could be happier with any other coach. I never thought we could get him away from his paradise in Olean (the upstate New York city where St. Bonaventure is located.)

"We had to make a change. We couldn't start next year with a 21-58 record. I don't think there is a better coach in the United States than Eddie. We made a mistake to stick with our old team too long. Now we are paying for it."

Donovan said his contract at St. Bonaventure runs out this year. He led the Bonnies to the No. 3 position in college basketball this year with a 24-4 record.

No Savvy

COLUMBUS, Ohio (NEA) — Woody Hayes, Ohio State football coach, talking with Danny Murtaugh at John Galbreath's party on Darby Dan Farm, asked, "How to you fight complacency?"

"If I knew what complacency meant," replied the smiling Irish manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, "maybe I'd know how to fight it."

Rinaldi Is 12-5 Underdog in Bout With Moore

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Italy's Giulio Rinaldi is confident he will beat Archie Moore again but the betting today is 12-5 in favor of the aging light heavyweight champion.

There's still a month and a day before the two clash at Madison Square Garden June 10 and the odds can switch considerably before then. It will depend on how the swarthy, thick-necked Italian champion looks in his workouts and how old Archie fares in his perennial battle with the scales.

Archie hasn't been forced to make the 175 pound limit since Aug. 12, 1959, when he flattened Yvon Durelle in the third round of their second title fight. The ancient gladiator scaled 201 in Manila last March 25 when he outpointed Buddy Turman.

Moore weighed 190¼ to Rinaldi's 181¼ in Rome last Oct. 29 when the Italian upset Archie in a non-title 10-rounder that earned him the title shot.

That loss—Moore's first to a light heavyweight in 9½ years—is one of the reasons for handsome Giulio's confidence in the return. Another is age—26 to 44.

Talking to newsmen after his arrival from Italy Monday, he explained that he didn't do well against Archie in the early rounds "because I had so much respect for him and I was too timid."

"But I went after him good in the eighth, ninth and tenth rounds," he said in Italian as an interpreter translated.

Moore is recognized as world champion in New York, Massachusetts and Europe. Harold Johnson of Philadelphia is hailed as champion by the NBA.

Gary Player Adds $600 to His Total

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP) — Gary Player, the Master's champion from South Africa, added $600 to his lead this week in the race for golf's leading money winning honors of 1961.

The 26-year-old Player, winner of three of the 16 tournaments in which he has competed, has won $47,796 this year, according to figures released from PGA headquarters. That puts him $9,411 ahead of the runnerup, Arnold Palmer of Ligonier, Pa., the top money winner in 1960.

Palmer has four victories in 14 tournaments. Both he and Player have finished among the top five entries in eight events.

New Blood and Kaline Make Once Tame Tigers Ferocious

BY HARRY GRAYSON
Newspaper Enterprise
Sports Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA) — At Lakeland in mid-March, Robert Boden Scheffing remarked that the only thing extraordinary about the Detroit camp to date was the Florida weather.

Bob Scheffing is the Tigers' eighth manager in nine years.

"A dozen jobs are open," said the old minor league catcher who managed the Cubs. "Like all managers, All I need is some good ballplayers."

Scheffing found them to make Tiger Stadium the home of the winningest major league club of the spring. New blood and Al Kaline's bat put teeth in the Tigers and sent them on the prowl early.

"Norm Cash has surprised a lot of people, but not me," says the personable Scheffing. "The more I saw of Cash this spring the better I liked him. When the newsreel people came along, they took shots of all the name players—Kaline, Bruton, Colavito, Maxwell, Lary, Bunning and Mossi.

"They paid not the slightest attention to Cash until I warned them that he might wind up as the American League batting champion. I wasn't fooling them and I'm not kidding now that Cash is batting .342 and fighting for the lead in runs-batted-in. Left-handed all the way, he is an excellent first baseman with a batting stroke that could take him all the way."

With Bruton in the swap for Frank Bolling came Dick Brown, Terry Fox and Chuck Cottier.

Scheffing and Phil Cavarretta, brought on from Buffalo as a coach, did a reclamation job on Brown, noted as a skillful receiver since his schoolboy days with Herb Score in Lake Worth. Scheffing and Cavarretta got Brown, a confirmed right-hand pull hitter, to wait and hit the ball to center and right field as well.

In the end, however, it was the new guys who gave the Tigers the poise which threatens to make them contenders all the way along the route. Two infield spots had to be filled. The pennant-winning Denver subsidiary filled both orders. Jake Wood, an Ernie Banks type, beat out Cottier at second base, and Steve Boros, the American Association's most valuable player, took over at third.

Fox augmented a bull pen that has been outstanding, the other members being Hank Aguirre, Phil Regan, Jim Donahue and Joe Grzenda.

There may have been lame-armed and lame-backed pitchers and question marks behind Frank Lary and Jim Bunning at the outset, but no longer. Don Mossi and Paul Foytack bounced back like election repeaters. Despite some arm difficulty, Bob Bruce is giving Foytack a scrap for the fourth pitching turn.

If Jake Wood and Steve Boros stand up, the Tigers could be team eaters until fall.

Farrell Gets Win ForLAClub

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Right-hander Dick Farrell, paying a quick return for Los Angeles after last week's trade with Philadelphia, beat his old mates with four innings of four-hit, shutout relief Monday night as the Dodgers beat the Phils 4-3 in 10 innings. The only other National League game scheduled, San Francisco-Pittsburgh, was rained out.

The Dodgers were shut out on four hits by Dallas Green for six innings, then tied it 3-all with two out in the seventh on a scoring single by Maury Wills and a two-run homer by Willie Davis. They finally put it away when losing reliever Chris Short (0-1) walked Wally Moon with two out in the 10th and Gil Hodges rapped a pinch double.

Farrell took over after starter Stan Williams was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the seventh. He walked two, struck out four and nailed the victory by throwing out Tony Taylor with two men on base in the 10th after two-out singles by pinch-hitters Clay Dalrymple and Tony Curry.

The Angels, after trading top bullpen man Tex Clevenger to the New York Yankees in a six-player swap, barely saved their victory over the Red Sox with a two-man relief job by Ted Bowsfield and Tom Morgan. Bowsfield followed starter Ken McBride, who was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the fifth inning, and was tagged for Jensen's first home run by pinch-hitter Carroll Hardy for the final run, but then retired seven of the last eight men he faced.

McBride (2-2) was the winner, giving up three runs in the fifth—one unearned on center fielder Albie Pearson's second error of the frame—after the Angels had built a 5-0 lead against loser Gene Conley.

Jensen who jumped the Red Sox a week ago, walked twice and singled in addition to his home run. He is now 8-for-48, for a .167 average, and has driven in two runs.

The Angels' trade with New York sent Bob Cerv, a $75,000 pick from the player pool in the AL's expansion move, back to the Yankees along with Clevenger for reliever Ryne Duren, right-hander Johnny James, rookie outfielder Leroy Thomas and a minor league outfielder to be named.

Hilltop Rest raked Lasher for 10 hits the next day, whipping Happy Hour, 11 to 6. George Norton, the winning pitcher on six hits, slammed triple and homer for Hilltop and Klonowski had a four bagger. Richie Serebentz stroked a homer for Happy Hour.

Name New Club New York Mets

NEW YORK (AP) — The new National League team that will play in New York in 1962 still hasn't got a ball player but it finally has a name—the Mets.

Mrs. Charles Shipman Payson, principal stockholder in the club, christened the new team Monday after sifting through 644 names and 9,613 suggestions.

One fellow suggested "Apple Throwers," and another the "Buffalo Chasers." There were "Astronauts," "Hatchetmen," "Spacemen", "Skyscrapers", "Continentals" and everything from "Able" to "Zorro."

As the newspapers had been calling the team the Mets for many weeks, the official christening actually merely followed the trend.

The club announced a contest with a $1,000 prize for the best team emblem.

Clevenger Was the Pitcher Yankees Wanted, Says Houk

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The New York Yankees, who open a two-game series here tonight, have been bolstered in two departments by a trade with the Los Angeles Angels. It was a deal in which the Angels gambled on Ryne Duren and "youth."

The Bronx bombers, hard up for late-inning relief pitching and right-handed pinch hitting, got Truman Clevenger and slugger Bob Cerv. In return they gave the Angels Duren, a hard-throwing but often erratic relief pitcher; pitcher Johnny James; outfielder Leroy Thomas; and an unnamed outfielder.

"We wanted Clevenger," said Yankee Manager Ralph Houk, "to be a finisher on our relief staff. (Luis) Arroyo has been doing all of the late-inning work and we needed someone to help him."

Clevenger, a 28-year-old right-hander, has pitched superbly in relief for the Angels, appearing in 12 games and permitting an average of less than two earned runs. He has a 2-1 record.

Duren, 31, one of the hardest throwing pitchers in the majors, was the Yankees' ace reliever in 1958 and 1959, when he posted ERA's of 2.01 and 1.87. He's been ineffective this year, but, said Angels Gen. Mgr. Fred Haney in Los Angeles:

See Duren Helping

"I think Duren will be a better pitcher for us over the long haul than Clevenger. I didn't want to peddle Clevenger and tried two or three other guys in there, but I couldn't make a deal that way. I'll be panned on this deal, but I don't give a damn who wins the pennant this year if we can't."

The youngsters in the deal are Thomas, 25, James, 28, and maybe the unnamed outfielder.

Thomas, who bats left handed and throws right, hit .246 for Richmond of the International League last season. In two times at bat for the Yankees this season he had one hit.

James, a right-hander, posted a 4.40 ERA with New York last year, winning five games and losing one. He also won three and lost two for Richmond.

This will be the veteran Cerv's third stretch with the Yankees, interspersed by tours with Kansas City and the Angels. He had his best season in 1958, when he hit .305 for Kansas City. He appeared in 18 games for Los Angeles, but was hitting only about .200.

Bloomington Vols Report Apparatus Fund Over $1,200

The fire apparatus fund established by Bloomington Fire Company in a long-range program to raise $6,500 for a down payment to purchase a new pumper truck is now over $1,200, according to Chief Oscar Hahn.

The Bloomington volunteers initiated a campaign this month to raise the down payment for the new pumper which will replace a 27-year-old pumper now in service.

The fund has accumulated from the proceeds of special projects such as car washes, dinners and other activities. The fire company is planning many summer activities to increase the fund, Chief Hahn said.

A new pumper truck is expected to cost in excess of $20,000, Chief Hahn said. "We do not expect to raise this kind of money over night, but with the support of the public and the cooperation of the fire company members, we expect to reach the goal in the near future."

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A Fort Knox soldier helping with flood rescue work spotted the C. A. Woosley family stranded on their porch Monday.

Sgt. William W. Heiden of Toledo, Ohio, came down by helicopter to the roof and chopped a hole in it.

"I just thought I'd drop in on you folks," he announced to the startled family.

MURRAY WEISS

Speaker at the Anna Devine School in Rifton on May 10 at 8 p. m. will be Murray Weiss, of 47 Browning Terrace, school psychologist in the Kingston City Schools (Consolidated). His topic will be The Functions of Psychological Services in the Kingston Schools. A question and answer period will follow.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy was reported today planning to deal soon with labor troubles that allegedly have thrown space flight and missile programs six months behind schedule.

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Investigations subcommittee, told reporters he understands the administration is giving immediate consideration to issuing an executive order dealing with strikes, slowdowns and work stoppages at space flight, missile and rocket bases.

"I can't say what the order will contain," McClellan told newsmen after discussing it with Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg.

He indicated the order might set up a new board armed with mediation and other powers to try to eliminate slowdowns and stoppages at bases. He said such a board could go into action long before Congress could enact new laws to deal with the situation.

Other sources said the administration definitely has decided to take action which would involve seeking a no-strike pledge from unions at missile bases and establishment of some sort of machinery to resolve any disputes that might arise.

The building trades unions adopted a modified no-strike policy last February. This involved a ban on strikes by union locals until they had resolved all settlement possibilities and obtained strike sanction from their national union headquarters.

McClellan's committee has received testimony, however, about missile installation strikes in the Denver area since adoption of the no-strike pledge.

Jackie Draws Crowds

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—President Kennedy's wife visited Wilmington Monday and a crowd of about 200—mostly women and children—were on hand at the airport to greet her.

When the Kennedy plane touched down at New Castle, many persons in the crowd shouted, "Jackie!" She responded with smiles and waves of the hand.

Mrs. Kennedy spent the afternoon sightseeing at the famed Winterthour Museum. She and her party had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Francis du Pont. Du Pont is the founder of the museum which features fine furnishings of the 16th, 17th, 18th, and early 19th centuries.

Po'keepsie Theft Probed

Theft of $620 in cash from a plastic bag in the kitchen of Dino's Tavern, 144 Mill Street, Poughkeepsie sometime during the weekend was under investigation today by police of that city. Patrolman Raymond Whalen discovered the break and reported entry was gained through a broken window. Floyd Dino is proprietor of the establishment.

About 312 billion gallons of water are consumed daily in the United States.

Bronx Zoo Is Sad, Lonely Place as Strike Continues

NEW YORK (AP) — The monkeys are morose. There's nobody to make faces at.

The elephants trumpet loudly for peanuts. But no one hears.

The Bronx Zoo is a sad and lonely place.

And the critters can't understand why they haven't had any visitors in more than a month and why the chow is so monotonous.

There's plenty of good, plain food served by a skeleton staff of keepers that a union left on duty when a strike closed the zoo and the aquarium at Coney Island.

But it's nothing like the peanuts, popcorn and other choice tidbits that children of all ages used to toss to the chimps, elephants, hippopotamuses, Ostriches, squirrels and their cage mates.

Their chattering, bellowing and squawking for attention these unhappy spring days is all in minor key.

One keeper took his charges' plight so much to heart that he asked the curators and their aides to "please walk through the monkey house on your way to lunch." He said the monkeys were pining to "see a human face."

The squirrels—usually surfeited with peanuts from visitors—have taken to panhandling. Zoo controller Herbert Schiemann said one of them ran up his arm outside the cafeteria and stole a biscuit out of his fingers.

Two wild Australian dogs have been released from the Kangaroo house and allowed to run after the keepers. The giant tortoises are free to lumber around in the reptile house—safe from children and adults, too.

The strike at the zoo and aquarium was called by a union seeking recognition as bargaining agent. Both institutions are run for the city by the New York Zoological Society.

Lefkowitz Says Bar Pivotal in Role of Leader

OSWEGO, N. Y. (AP) — Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz said today that "action programs must be evolved to tear away the apathy which has permitted a breakdown in the moral fiber of our generation."

"Members of the bar," he added, "must play a pivotal role of leadership in community undertakings to this end."

Lefkowitz made the statements in a speech prepared for a meeting of the Oswego County Bar Association.

"As members of the bar," said the state's chief legal officer, "we must bear the primary responsibility of improving respect for law and order through citizenship education in an understanding of the law and its purposes.

"It is through our local organized bar groups that we can best and most effectively perform this important public service. . . ."
